ST. RAILWAY CO.'S OFFER ON THE BRIDGE QUESTION

Will Pay $5000 on Condition That the J. R. Worcester Co. Engineers Approve the Plans

The bridge matter is taking on a new aspect and one that gives more assurance of getting a bridge that will stand the floods, the freshets, the jump-bo cars, the steam rollers and the weather. The plans will have to pass muster or be dropped.

The new feature is that the Bay State Street Railway Co. agrees that it will give $5000 toward the new Pawtucket bridge, but it insists that the plans shall be approved by engineers of its selection, and those engineers are the J. R. Worcester Co. of Boston.

J. R. Worcester Co. are the engineers who have been mentioned with others by Col. Carnichael as the experts whom he would like to have pass upon the matter before any definite step is taken, but the J. R. Worcester Co. are also the firm to whom Engineer Denman firmly declines to submit his plans. And there you are.

Mayor Murphy, Col. Carnichael and City Solicitor Hennessy went to Boston yesterday and held a conference with Mr. P. F. Sullivan, president of the Bay State St. Ry. Co., and Mr. Sullivan said that the company will contribute $5000 toward the cost of this new bridge on condition that the structure will be made strong enough to take care of all future street railway traffic over it, that the plans be approved by an engineer selected by the company and that the engineer be allowed to pass judgment on the mixture of cement and other materials used in its construction.

It now remains to be seen if Mr. Denman will stand for the "once over" by the engineer or engineers to whom he has hitherto refused to submit his plans.

PROBING DEMOS MURDER

State Police Have Started Work on the Case—Statements of Comatos Disapproved by Friends

John Comatos, looking pale and drawn after spending several hours in a cell at the police station, was brought into court last yesterday afternoon and arraigned for the murder of John Demos, whose badly mutilated body was found in a bedroom at 2 Elm place, off Elm street, about 3:30 o'clock Wednesday night. Comatos is a farm hand, having been employed on Trull's farm off on for over five years. He was very respectful to his employers and was well liked by them, and the news of his arrest came as a big surprise to them.

When brought into the courtroom, Comatos first looked around in a bewildered manner until Lieut. Maher motioned to him to be seated on a long bench in front of the prisoners' dock. Assistant Clerk Trull then read the complaint for murder, and through the interpreter, Nicholas Spyropoulos, Comatos pleaded not guilty, although he didn't seem to understand fully the seriousness of the complaint, he was charged with. At the request of Supt. Welch a continuance to July 10 was ordered and the prisoner was committed to the Lowell jail until that time without bail. At the conclusion of the proceedings, Comatos inquired of the interpreter if he could go free, and he was told that he could not. It was plain to be seen that he did not understand much about court proceedings. He was then taken away by Lieut. Maher.

Comatos is a small wiry man, with piercing eyes and curling mustache. As he sat on the bench in police court waiting to be arraigned, he looked straight at Nicholas Spyropoulos, the interpreter, until he was called to answer to the charge of murder. He then walked to the witness stand where he was informed that he was charged with the murder of his roommate, John Demos, by stabbing him several times in various parts of the body.

Warrant Issued

Before the warrant was issued Judge Enright, Superintendent Welch and Assistant Clerk Trull visited the scene of the murder in Elm place, and the circumstances of the crime, so far as known by the police, were gone over. On their return the warrant was made out, and a few minutes later Comatos was brought into court.

The Autopsy

Medical Examiner Meigs and City Physician Tiche performed an autopsy on the body of the murdered man at the warehouses of Undertaker McDonough in Gotham street yesterday afternoon. After a thorough examination, Medical Examiner Meigs reported that there were 12 stab wounds in the chest and two knife wounds on the chin. There were internal injuries to the liver, lungs, stomach and heart, and there were also two black and blue marks on the chest. These were probably made by the murderer kneeling on his victim. The wound over the heart was undoubtedly what caused death in-

GERMANS SINK FIVE MORE BRITISH VESSELS

Sweep of Teutons in East Continues—Germans Believe Russians Will Abandon Galicia—Desperate Fighting Along Austro-Italian Front

Five more British vessels, three of them steamers of good size, have fallen victims to German submarine warfare. Evidence of the prosecution of this warfare on a large scale have recently come to hand with frequency. Loss of life, however, has been exceptional, being confined mostly to the case of the Armenian. The stories of the officers of the crew of these ships indicate that the casualties among them were inflicted while the steamer was in flight after having been signalled to stop.

Teutons Push On

In the fighting in the east there is no indication, even in the Russian official statements, that there is any halt in the sweep of the Teutonic armies northward and eastward from Lemberg. Further south, however, the troops of Grand Duke Nicholas have made what looks like a determined stand along the line of the Galia Lipa river. Austro-Germans accounts tell of victories even in that sector of the curving eastern front, but the Russians deny the reverses there were serious.

To Abandon Galicia

German observers believe the Russians are preparing to abandon Galicia and attribute the desperate fighting north of Halex to a desire to give time for the preparation of strong defensive positions beyond the border. Reports from neutral sources declare that the Russians have recently received new supplies of high explosive shells which have enabled them, in their stand and in their retreat, to swell enormously the casualty lists of the assailing armies.

Austro-Italian Front

The latest statements from the headquarters of the Teutonic allies indicate that there has recently been desperate fighting along the Austro-Italian front. The main effort of the Italians to advance seems to have been northeast of Monfalcone in the Isonzo region and the invaders are admitted to have made slight advances. The series of assaults as a whole failed, however, the Austrians claim.

Snatched Inch by Inch

The Italian war office contents itself with claiming ground snatched "inch by inch" from the Austrian defenders, while along the rest of the front the process of consolidating positions and breaking up preparations by the Austrians for defense is proceeding satisfactorily.

Greek Bands Advance

Further reports of occupation of Albanian territory have been received. Greek bands having moved toward Berat, occupying villages along the way. This follows closely the recent occupation of Scutari by the Montenegrins and the previous Serbian move into Albania.

tion of the federal government yesterday by Governor Ferguson, who forwarded the Villa governor's request to the state department. Secretary Lansing referred the matter to Solicitor Johnson for consideration.

So long as Huerta is wanted by the department of justice, charges preferred by federal agents will take precedence, and until they are disposed of, it is not expected that the extradition question will be decided.

Both the Villa and Carranza factions charge that Huerta was implicated in the murder of President Madero and Vice President Suarez.

FUNERAL NOTICES

GUTHRIE—The funeral of the late Mrs. Sabina Guthrie will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from her home, 12 Madison street. A mass of requiem will be sung at St. Peter's church at 9 o'clock. Burial in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertakers Jas. F. O'Donnell & Sons in charge.

BENNETT—The funeral of Clark W. Bennett will take place Sunday afternoon. Funeral services will be held at 113 Branch street at 2:30 o'clock. Friends are invited without obligation to attend. The funeral arrangements are in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

THE MEXICAN SITUATION

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Both President Wilson at Cornish, N. H., and Secretary Lansing at Washington had under consideration today relief plans for the Mexican capital, where latest official advices said famine and anarchy threatened the safety of foreigners.

The relief measures included efforts to obtain General Carranza's consent for the shipment of supplies into Mexico City through neutral agencies and the removal of foreigners from danger zones of fighting through the influence of the diplomatic corps there.

IMPORTANT VICTORY FOR THE CARRANZA FORCES

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 2.—Carranza forces in capturing San Felipe, south of San Luis Potosi, achieved an important victory, with disastrous results to the Villa troops according to a cablegram from Vera Cruz published here today by T. R. Beltran, Carranza consul. The message says that the large number of prisoners taken included Col. Ignacio Ocechoa and Fernando Diaz Lombardo, nephew of Miguel Diaz Lombardo, foreign minister in the cabinet of Gen. Villa.

Gen. Obregon, according to the message, is at Encarnacion, near Aguas Calientes where he is recovering from his recent illness caused by the loss of his arm.

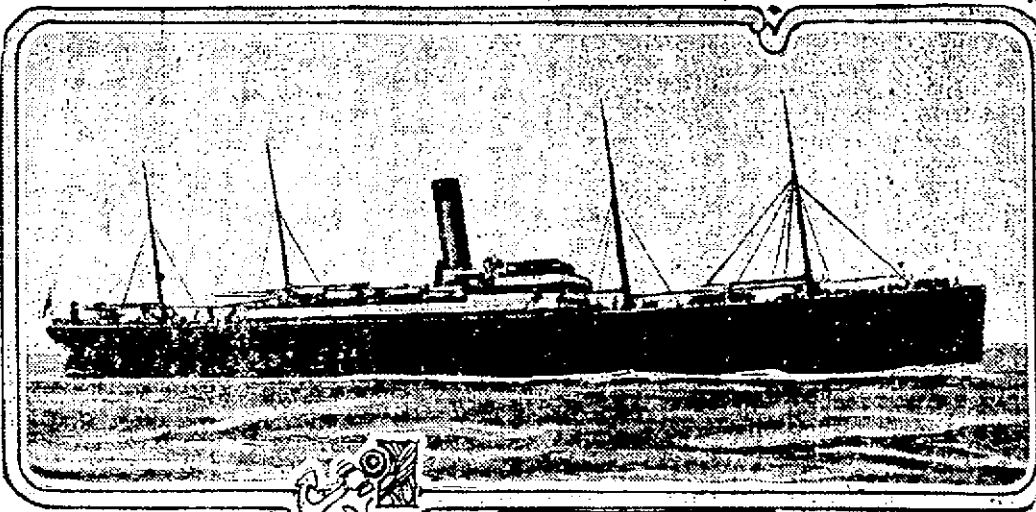

Consul Beltran's message also confirmed the reported capture of San Pablo and Tama near Mexico City by the army of Gen. Gonzales.

GEN. VILLA ASKS FOR EXTRADITION OF HUERTA

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Formal request for the extradition of General Victoriano Huerta on various criminal charges has been presented to Governor Ferguson of Texas by the Villa governor of Chihuahua state.

This latest complication in the status of the former Mexican dictator, now facing prosecution at El Paso for alleged violation of American neutrality laws was brought to the atten-

Armenian First Animal Transport to Fall a Victim to German Submarines

The ARMENIAN

NORFOLK, Va., July 2.—Of the score or more ships which have cleared from Hampton Roads for French and English destinations with cargoes of horses and mules for the armies of the allies, the Armenian is the first to fall a victim to the German submarines. She carried 1422 mules, and her cargo was valued at $254,490. The Armenian cleared on June 16 with a crew, exclusive of officers, consisting of 13 white men and 57 negroes, all shipped in this port as seamen or attendants for the live stock. There is no doubt that the mules were for the British army, although the shipments were indirectly made through agents. It is understood that English army experts passed on the animals and employed men, through shipping agents, to care for them while crossing the Atlantic. Several of the mulesmen are from Norfolk, Portsmouth and vicinity. This was the Armenian's second trip with animals for the allied armies. In round figures, over 200,000 horses and mules have been shipped from the roads. A second company has been organized here for the shipment of horses to the allies.

SINKING JUSTIFIED

Officials Declare Captain of Armenian Had No Right to Attempt to Escape After Order to Stop

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Tension over destruction of the British steamer Armenian with the loss of a number of American lives was considerably relaxed today following the receipt of unofficial advices telling of the apparent refusal of the ship's commander to heed the warning of the German submarine to stop. This phase of the matter overshadowed in the official view all other questions involved in the destruction of the Armenian.

If official reports should bear out news despatches concerning attempts of the Armenian to escape, it was said no new cause of complaint likely would be added to issues pending between the United States and Germany. Officials hold that, if the Armenian sought to evade capture the sinking of the ship was justified under international law even though non-combatants were on board. Precedents are cited in support of this contention. Detailed information of the destruction of the Armenian still was awaited today. Until such data is available the position of the United States will not be announced.

STUCK IN PARIS

Sinking of Armenian May Inspire a Real Ultimatum From Washington, Says Paper

PARIS, July 2, 5:45 a. m.—The sinking of the steamship Armenian has caused a stir in Paris, stress being laid upon the deaths of Americans on board the vessel. Coming so soon after the Lusitania case, which is not yet settled, the press wonders what will be the outcome of the latest incident connected with Germany's submarine warfare.

The Mail says the Armenian's destruction certainly will greatly increase the indignation of Americans and perhaps inspire a real ultimatum from Washington.

THE HEAVY RAIN FALL

Nearly Five Inches of Rain in Two Days—Worst on Record for July

The present rain storm is the biggest that has visited this section of the country in years. It was stated this forenoon at the office of the Locks & Canals in Broadway that the precipitation up to 6 o'clock last evening was 4.65 inches, a record seldom equaled here in such a short time.

The precipitation for the first six months of this year was less than the same period in the last fifteen years, the total rainfall being but 10.08 inches, as compared with 18.05 in the same period. The rainfall for the month of June was only 1.39 inches and the present fall bids fair to almost reach the total fall for the first six months of the year.

The present storm was ushered in before the month of July was two hours old, and it drenched the section in a few hours as it has seldom been drenched before. The storm continued with somewhat abated fury, except for slight intervals, and the end is not yet.

Great damage has been done in other cities, including Greater Boston, but no particular damage has been reported here other than the flooding of cellars. The Back Bay and market sections of Boston and the city of Somerville seem to have suffered the greatest damage. Hundreds of cellars in the "made land" of the Back Bay were flooded as early as yesterday morning.

Municipal Drainage Crippled

Damage equivalent to thousands of dollars was the toll taken in Boston and suburbs where municipal drainage systems proved utterly incapable of the emergency. Cellars of residences and business establishments piled high with goods were flooded, embankments were washed away, manhole covers weighing 225 pounds were lifted from their frames, roofs leaked and railroad tracks were buried in perfect lakes, so that locomotives played up seas of water, making spectacular progress to and from their terminals.

At an early hour special details of police were sent out on orders from police headquarters to investigate the damage caused by the storm. All places in the low-lying parts of the city were visited and the losses were checked up by the patrolmen as data for possible future suits against the city resulting from overflowing sewers.

Among the heaviest losers was the Rand Avery Supply Co., at 117 Franklin street, where tons of water poured into the basements and destroyed large quantities of reserve stock. Other places reported nearly equal damage.

Minor washouts were reported in various places along the routes of the B. & M., the New Haven and the B. & A. At both terminals trains came in during the rush hours from 15 minutes to an hour or more late in many instances, the delays being occasioned by flooded tracks in the outlying districts.

The condition of the tracks aroused considerable apprehension among the railroad men, and orders were issued to slow down trains all over the lines. No serious accidents were reported, however.

A number of telegraph wires along the coast were torn down by the storm and throughout Greater Boston the telephone service was considerably impaired during the morning.

FOR MURDEROUS ASSAULT

JAMES KILAKOS IN COURT FOR ALLEGED ATTEMPT TO MURDER BROTHER-IN-LAW

James Kilakos, charged with assault with intent to murder, his brother-in-law, James Dracoulakos, was arraigned on continuance before Judge Enright in police court this forenoon. At the request of his counsel, Daniel J. Donahue, the case was continued until July 5 for trial, the bail being reduced from $10,000 to $3000.

Dr. Clark, superintendent of the Lowell hospital, was called to the witness stand and he informed the court that Dracoulakos is out of all danger and will positively recover. Dracoulakos was present in court. On his left cheek is a long wound alleged to have been received from the defendant's knife. The bullet is still in his back, it is said.

It will be recalled that the assault occurred on the night of June 12 in the rear of the Textile school after a quarrel between defendant and complainant. Dracoulakos was found lying on the grass late at night while Kilakos was arrested in that vicinity the next morning.

Dorothy Richards, who appealed from a sentence to the women's reformatory at Sherborn last week, appeared in court today and withdrew her appeal. On that promise that she would go to New York with a married sister, the sentence was suspended for one year. Two second offenders for drunkenness paid $5 fines, while Daniel J. McCarthy, complained of for scaring young girls on the street, was ordered to pay a fine of $5. One other drunken offender was sent to jail for 30 days.

NO DUAL NATIONALITY

REFUSES TO RECOGNIZE FOREIGN CLAIMS ON AMERICANS BORN OF NATURALIZED PARENTS

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Children born on American soil, whose parents have become naturalized American citizens, cannot be classed as possessing dual nationality and are not considered liable to military service under a foreign flag, the state department made clear in a statement issued yesterday.

"While the United States always has recognized," the department says, "the existence of dual nationality in the case of children born in the United States of alien parents or children born in a foreign country of American parents, it does not concede that dual nationality exists in case of a foreign-born parent who has acquired naturalization as a United States citizen."

While the state department extends whatever protection it can to persons of dual nationality who enter the other country by which they are claimed, it does not assure them immunity from military service.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

No better staged society photoplay has ever been presented locally than "Her Own Way," which was shown twice yesterday at B. F. Keith's theatre, and which will be given twice daily the remainder of the week. The accessories used in the production run all the way from a magnificent modern stone palace in New York to swans and peacocks in the Italian garden. The wealth of rich settings simply shows to what lengths the Metro company will go in its desire to present a piece properly. Florence Reed, one of the best known of native actresses, appears in the very trying role of "Georgiana Carey," whose fortune was squandered by a reckless brother and who was literally forced into agreeing to become the wife of a strong-willed schemer, notwithstanding the fact that she loved a regular army officer. By constantly intriguing, the schemer gained her assent to the marriage, but her lover returning just as the ceremony was taking place, she left the altar and went to him. This scene is highly dramatic, and it will cause an audience to hold its breath. Four other and shorter pictures are shown, including a rattling good George Ade farce. Tonight the battle of Gettysburg will be shown in motion pictures and all veterans of the Civil war are invited to be the guests of Manager Pickett. The performance will start promptly at 7 o'clock.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Two five act brand new Paramount features constitute the chief attraction at the Merrimack Square theatre today and tomorrow. One of these, "Chimnie Padden," a heart-rending Irish-American comedy drama, holds a place of honor among the best photoplays. It is playing in New York city's largest theatre and drawing huge crowds at a $1 admission price. It is a remarkable fact that Lowell people may see this picture at 98c and 1c. Victor Moore, the internationally famous character-actor, appearing in the title role, furnishes the greater part of both fun and pathos, and there is a delightful intermingling of both. "Chimnie" as a butler presents one of the funniest scenes ever shown on the screen. The manner in which he is calculated to dispel the worse case of blues. On the other hand, his dramatic ability is brought out in his acting of the part of the older brother, who shielding his brother and mother from shame, is ready to sacrifice himself. Don't miss this wonderful human photoplay.

Then, of course, it is not to deprive yourself of the opportunity of seeing Blanche Sweet, charming American actress, in the leading part in "The Captive," a photoplay of the far east. The pretty favorite is really at her best in this picture. Here are some wonderfully vivid scenes of battle which furnish no little amusement. In addition to these two big five part Paramount new productions, you will also see a Billy Reeves comedy, a fine western picture, and the latest Pathé news film.

ROYAL THEATRE

A delightful combination show of serials and features has been arranged by the Royal theatre management for today and tomorrow. Four features will be shown, besides other films. The most prominent is the third episode of "The Romance of a Nobleman," featuring Pearl White, Lionel Barrymore, Creighton Hale and the mysterious Mr. X. This serial is a sequel to the well known and nation wide popular "Exploits of Elaine." "The Path of the Rainbow," a three part play, "Rivals," a two reel Kalem play, and a comedy with Charles Chaplin are the other features on the program. A great end-of-the-week show, which will bring praises from every quarter. Great shows have been booked for next Sunday and 4th of July performances.

CANOBIE LAKE PARK

Tonight, tomorrow and Sunday will afford the music lovers of this city their last opportunity to enjoy the splendid concerts of the Boston Opera Singers at Canobie Lake Park theatre which have drawn so many to this popular recreation park the past week. The present new program which started Thursday will be continued until Sunday when another entire new selection of numbers will be presented closing the engagement in a blaze of operatic splendor for all.

Next week the theatre will be devoted to a series of photoplays and the special feature the management will offer what is conceded to be the greatest motion picture ever presented upon the screen, the Vitaphone production of Hall Caine's superb love story "The Christian" in eight parts and 500 scenes. An all-star cast of Vitaphone players is headed by Miss Edith Storey and Karl Williams.

"The Christian" as a novel was a great success. Later, it was dramatized and brought to the stage in form is its best, inasmuch as the talky dialogue of the novel and drama have been eliminated and the many scenes which were omitted in the stage version, are utilized in the picture version.

Sunday afternoon between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock the theatre will be open with free admission to all and the Lawrence Price band will offer another brilliant band concert while the opera theatre is swept by the cooling lake breezes.

BIG LAWN FETE

Plans Completed for "Sacred Heart" "At Home" Tomorrow

The good old weather man seems to have done his part in emptying the clouds of their rain that the Sacred Heart parishioners and their friends may have a good day for their "at home" on the parish grounds tomorrow. Never have such elaborate preparations been made for the annual lawn fete, and never have conditions been more auspicious for a good time than at the present moment. The gates will open at 1 o'clock. The raffle-dazzle, the great aerial machine, will take on at once its freight of happy little tots and light-hearted grown-ups, and until midnight will work continuously. The midway, with its unique attractions of hoop-la, wheels of fortune, fakirs, its novel Chinese laundry, the watchman of Heidelberg, mamma's darlings, its refreshment booths, the miniature circus in its canvas tent, exhibiting another marvelous wonder, the smallest horse and the largest dwarf in the world; bears, actually human in their intelligence; a wild cat, a fox in a wild state, a three-legged dog, and a den of easily recognized animals, are but a few of the attractions. At 2.30, with the crack of a pistol, 30 or more sturdy runners, competing for the championship of Lowell, will start from Belle Grove. They will come directly to the grounds on Moore street, accompanied by autos containing physicians and judges. Immediately on their arrival five prizes will be awarded. The arrival of the runners will be the signal for beginning the other numbers on the program of sports. These include events for men, women and children. At 7 o'clock a chorus of 50 trained voices under the direction of Mr. James Casack will give a concert of old and new songs. Many are looking to this feature as the treat of the evening. Among those who will render solos are some who have frequently delighted Lowell audiences. Following upon the finale, a detonating bomb will give the signal for the grand electrical illumination of hundreds of colored lights. The current will be turned on by the pastor, Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., and will be followed by a band concert from 8 to 10.30 by the Lowell Cadet band. The grounds will remain open until midnight, and efficient committees will attend to the guests in such a manner as to make the parish "at home" one long to be remembered in the parish and in the city.

101 RANCH IS COMING

IT WILL HAVE JESS WILLARD AS A FEATURE OF WILD WEST SHOW ON JULY 16

Whether Jess Willard, the cowboy champion of the world, is coming to Lowell Friday, July 16, with the 101 Ranch Wild West show, or the Wild West show is coming with Willard, is an open question, but either is a big enough attraction to excite attention, not only among the athletic fans, but also among those who thoroughly enjoy a strenuous, up-to-date border exhibition. Willard has now been with Miller Bros. & Arlington's big aggregation champion in Havana and sent him to the mat. Notwithstanding the expense of the Willard engagement, there will, it is announced, be the lively and strenuous Wild West exhibition which the 101 Ranch show is noted. The congress of Indians, cowboys, cowgirls, Mexicans, Cossacks and other toughriders is said to be exceptionally large this year, and more than the average number of thrills are promised. There will be a picturesque street parade to inaugurate Wild West day.

MISUSE OF U. S. FLAG

ANOTHER NOTE MAY BE SENT TO GREAT BRITAIN — SEARCHING INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Searching investigation is being conducted by the United States into several cases in which it has been officially reported that British ships flew the American flag apparently to avoid attacks by German submarines. Reports have been received not only from Ambassador Gerard, in Berlin, but through American consular sources in Great Britain with affidavits and other evidence tending to show alleged misuse of the Stars and Stripes. The issue is regarded as of such importance to the safety of ships really entitled to fly the American flag that a note may soon be sent by the United States to Great Britain renewing the representations previously made concerning any general use of the American emblem by British vessels. Some of the affidavits thus far received state that, in certain cases, the British admiralty's agents have consulted with the masters of vessels and in instructing them to take certain courses, advised the use of the American flag. The United States will not act until it has received complete information, but in view of the emphasis which is laid in Berlin upon the dangers of such a practice, Ambassador Gerard, in Berlin, and American consular representatives in Great Britain have submitted affidavits and other evidence tending to show misuse of the American emblem. Some of the affidavits state that in certain cases the British admiralty's agents have advised masters of vessels to use the American flag. Officials are seriously considering new representations, but pending the receipt of fuller information the course of the United States will not be determined.

JESS WILLARD

several weeks, and reports indicate that he is creating a furor wherever he appears. Willard, it is announced, will positively appear at both performances in this city. He will not be a lay figure, by any means. His first appearance will be as a cowboy and he will appear in several important numbers. Later, he will appear in ring costume, and with one of his company of sparrers will illustrate how he met the former

PUT TO DEATH SMITH TO BE EXECUTED

David Dunn, 20 Years Old, Executed for Murder of H. T. Edwards

AUBURN, N. Y., July 2.—David Dunn, 20 years old, died in the electric chair early today for the murder of Wells Fargo Agent Harry T. Edwards in Corning, February, 1914. Dunn spent his final hours in prayer. His crime was unusually brutal and his arrest came as the result of knocking down a telephone receiver. He had gained access to the express office and after shooting Edwards in an effort to get money, he knocked down the receiver. The telephone operator at central, in her effort to learn why the receiver was down, made a prompt discovery of the murder and Dunn was apprehended in bed in his home, not far from the scene.

LONDON, July 2.—A verdict of guilty was brought in by the jury yesterday in the case of George Joseph Smith, who was charged with the murder of three of his wives. The prisoner was sentenced to death. It took the jury just 23 minutes to find a verdict of guilty. When the opportunity was given, Smith said, "I can only say I am not guilty." He stared blankly at the judge as he assumed the black cap, but he bore the ordeal of the judge's brief address and subsequent pronouncement of sentence grimly. Before he was removed to the cells he thanked Counsel Hall for what he had done, adding: "I still have great confidence in you, and I shall hear up." He then walked firmly to the cells. After passing sentence on Smith, the judge remarked that perhaps the jury would be interested to know, as showing that their verdict was right, that there was evidence which had not been presented in court to the effect that the prisoner had gone through the ceremony of marriage with two other women, both of whom he had robbed of considerable sums of money.

OVER PLAINS OF ILLIUM

Sound of Cannon Booms Over
Land Made Illustrious by
Homer's Immortal Epic

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 2.—Cannon awakening the echoes over Ilium's plains, where the allies are trying to pound their way beyond the Dardanelles, stir many legendary memories of this historic battle-region and bring to mind the oddest contrasts. Here, where now modern ordnance is hurling its messengers of destruction, Homer's heroes waged their spectacular, single-handed combats, while admiring armies grouped themselves around to watch. It is a far cry from the romantic siege of Troy to the terribly impersonal battle of today.
Yet the old walls of Troy must bring some sort of inspiration to the soldiers fighting their shadows, soldiers of the allies or of the Turks. Excavated Ilium beside the present war's great battleground is described in a communication to the National Geographic society by Jacob E. Conner. He says:
"The Trojan walls are still in the distance, those same walls that defied the onrush of Agamemnon and Menelaus, of Ajax, Nestor, Diomed, Ulysses and Achilles, to fall at last by strata-gem. They remain as a ruined and abandoned stage minus its paraphernalia, whereas was played so many centuries ago an insignificant little drama compared with modern events;
but it was a drama so big with human interest divinely told that the world has never known its equal."

"Wars in these crowded times are for gain—shameless gain—but in the youth of the world, if we take the Iliad literally, men could afford to fight for an ideal. Hence the Homeric warfare was a beautiful, a poetic pastime, seriously resulting to some happy few, who were thenceforth rewarded with immortality in song."

"As the theatre of the world's greatest epic poem, Troy deserves a visit any year, every year. In the thoughts and emotions it revives and stimulates,
in the aroused sense of indebtedness of all subsequent literature and art,
it richly repays a visit. The classical student will leave it in a daze of meditation upon things more real to him than the actual things he has seen
and touched."

On the site where the German savant, Schliemann, unearthed Homer's Troy, nine layers of old-time cities were found, one above the other. They were built, destroyed, and forgotten
here during the more than 3,000 years that civilization has lived upon the products of the fertile valley. The topmost layer contained the remains of the Roman city of Ilium; two Hellenic villages were found directly beneath it,
which flourished here between 1000 B.
C. and the Christian era. The sixth city from the bottom was determined to be Homer's Troy. The bottom layers contained the remains of pre-historic settlements, unimportant villages that have escaped every memory except these few, uncovered, decaying stones.
In the second or third city, probably 600 years before the time of Troy, was found a considerable mass of buried treasure, silver jars, gold daggers and wonderfully wrought diadems of gold.
Describing the country around Troy,
Mr. Conner continues:

MOTHER OF SCHOOL GIRL

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Daughter's Health.

Plover, Iowa.—"From a small child
my 13 year old daughter had female weakness. I spoke to three doctors about it and they did not help her any.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had been of great benefit to me, so I decided to have her give it a trial.
She has taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound according to directions on the bottle and she is cured of this trouble. She was all run down when she started taking the Compound and her periods did not come right. She was so poorly and weak that I often had to help her dress herself, but now she is regular and is growing strong and healthy."—Mrs.
MARTIN HELVIG, Plover, Iowa.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

If you are ill do not drag along and continue to suffer day in and day out but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A woman's remedy for woman's ills.

This famous remedy, the medicinal property of which is derived from native roots, herbs, and for nearly forty years proved to be a most valuable specific for woman's ills. Why don't you try it?

Olympus and caused the heavens to reverberate and glow with the flash of his thunderbolt.

"Away over yonder, skirting the ridge of Ilium, is Simois' stream, or should be; but the bridge across it shows upon our approach that modern Simois is no more than a creek. Worse than that; following its attenuated course, less than a mile downstream, we discover that it ends in a morass instead of joining the Scamander as of yore. And the latter stream is scarcely less disappointing, for it is no more dignified in size or appearance.
In fact, their sluggish currents united can scarcely boast of banks except at occasional intervals, for both streams are now only broad swales merging with the adjacent plain, with no continuous current toward the sea except in seasons of high water, if such are ever known."

"And such beautiful plains! They were well worth fighting for, gently undulating as they retreat from the former river courses, and most homelike, cultivating places for peaceful abode. Little rounded oak trees are studded about the plain in solitary, dependent fashion—oak trees resembling apple trees in size and periphery.
Behold the ruins at last! A long, low ridge, some four or five miles in length, ends abruptly like a promontory projecting into the sea, above which it rises about 30 feet. The ridge is the so-called 'Hill of Ilium,' the sea, the flood plain of the Simois and the Scam-ander, historically known as the plain of Troy, and the promontory, with its crown of ruins, is Troy itself.
You walk around the ruins and make the surprising discovery that if the walking were good you could easily do it in ten minutes. Astonishing! Is this all there was of Troy, and did this little stronghold withstand a nine years' siege and still remain unconquered by force? Impossible! The whole hill of Ilium may have been fortified and to some extent populated; otherwise how was the garrison provisioned? Unpoetic details like these never troubled Homer, so why bother about them?"

Within sight, almost, of Tenedos, the island base of the attacking allied armies, and within sound and reach of the big guns, the old ruins are watching over the present fighting, a greeting from the days of the first great western siege to the greatest siege of modern times.

It was reported a short time ago that General Obregon was killed in battle. Later reports declared that while Obregon was wounded—in fact, one of his arms had been shot away—he was in no danger of death. Still later Obregon declared that he intended to support the forces of General Carranza in the much muddled
Mexican situation.

Dr. Horner of Cleveland Thinks Careful Diagnosis Would Cure More Insanity Cases
CHICAGO, July 2.—Dr. Henry C. Aldrich of Minneapolis was elected president of the American Institute of Homoeopathy at yesterday's session of the annual convention. The next annual meeting will be held in Baltimore.

Dr. George Royal, chairman of the committee on medical education, announced that work had been begun on a new hospital to cost $60,000 on the campus of the Ohio State University in connection with the school of homoeopathic medicine.

Dr. J. Richey Horner of Cleveland, in speaking on the "modern treatment of the insane," declared that many additional cases of insanity would be cured if physicians were to give them the same careful diagnosis and attention that is given the victims of other diseases.

WAR INCREASES LETTERS
PARIS, July 2.—War has had contrary effects on the postal service of France. Obstructions to commerce and industry resulted in a great decrease in business correspondence, but this is more than compensated by the increase in personal letters between members
of dispersed families and the soldiers and their relatives. In a single day the postal department handled 24 million letters, 700 thousand registered letters and packages, 135 thousand newspapers and 57 thousand postal orders. The volume of matter has steadily increased since December.

MANCHESTER BASEBALL

Upriver Paper Discusses the New England League Situation in That City

"Manchester is a dignified and self-respecting city, mindful of the rights of others and of her own, expecting to give a square deal and to be dealt fairly with in return. She is not, however, the sort of community to meekly submit to wrong or unfairness, or to being handed anything in the shape of a gold brick."

From the facts that have thus developed, it would appear that persons interested in the taking of the New England league ball team from the town without having given its people a chance to approve or disapprove such a proceeding have picked out this city for their first-fruit operation. As nearly as can be learned, negotiations to transfer the Manchester franchise to some little town down in Massachusetts were well under way before the people of this city had had any opportunity to express their preference in the matter, or to subscribe the amount necessary to retain the team. Just what motive was behind all the gum-shoe work is not altogether in evidence as yet, but when the plan was finally made public through the columns of The Union and Leader, it became very evident that the city could not submit without a tangible protest, to any such high-handed proceeding.

Men who not only realize the excellence of the Manchester team and the undoubted benefit that is to be derived from having the city represented in the New England league, but men who also appreciate how favorable an impression its unopposed transfer would create, have taken the matter up in earnest. The result is that now the indications are that the team will stay right here and that the pretty little village down in the Bay State will have to flourish its handful of money in some other direction.

Such men as Mayor Harry W. Spaulding, Edwin A. Dunbar, Carroll S. King, William C. Carroll and others, who do not make failures of their undertakings, have interested themselves in the matter of the retention of the team with the result that nearly half the money necessary to insure its finishing the season wearing the Manchester uniform has been subscribed, with the canvass hardly begun.

The business men of this city, in so far as they have had a chance to express themselves at all, have been unanimously in favor of retaining the team, and the contributions for stock, necessary to maintain it, have been made with the utmost willingness.

With the stock owned locally, and the administration of affairs in the hands of Manchester men, there is little doubt that so great an added interest will be given the game here as to insure the finish of the season at a profit rather than loss.

In any case, the reputation of the city in the matter of public spirit will have been sustained, besides the recreation and amusement that will have been afforded, and either one of these considerations is worth all that it will cost to keep the team here."

Manchester Union-Leader.

In the first paragraph reference is made to a gold brick. This is very funny, in a baseball sense, is extremely funny.

If there was any goldbricking done it was by the people of Manchester who were loud in their protestations that the Queen City was hungry for baseball. Their lack of interest in last season's club was easily comprehensible for Lake's aggregation was not a pennant aspirant. But they said, these people of Manchester, that the team would surely turn out and support a regular honest-to-goodness ball team.

Well, Keady and Kierman gave them that sort of club. Manchester has a good team. It is composed of good ball players in the main—players who are not beaten until the third man is retired in the last inning. In Tom Keady and Jack Kierman Manchester has a pair of magnates who are gentlemen in every respect. Manchester boasts a large sprinkling of Dartmouth men and Keady is one of the best known of that college's summer. Kierman has been identified with baseball for years, both as a player and manager.

Therefore Manchester could not have any complaint to make either on club or on owners. Yet this editorial states that with Manchester people at the head of Manchester baseball every thing should go along swimmingly. It looks as though the Manchester people won't pay to see anything unless the receipts go into Manchester pockets. Wonder what the thrifty business men of Manchester do on circus day?

If the attendance defends local ownership, it is to be hoped that hereafter now that Manchester folks have woken up, the future games will draw large crowds. When a city fails to patronize ball games the only inference is that it has no interest in the game.

THE EMERY BALL

What it is and How it Was Used Before the Ban

Take a nice, new ball, fresh from the factory. Roughen a spot on the surface no bigger than a dime, if you wish, and place it in the hand of a pitcher with only ordinary speed, and still more ordinary curves. Instantly your pitcher becomes more formidable than Walter Johnson or Christy Mathewson, and he has an article of goods which the greatest batsman in the world can't fathom. It becomes an "emery ball" pitcher.

The latest addition to the baseball category of freak terms is still Greek to most fans. It is only lately that the expression has crept into newspaper columns, although the thing which it describes has been known to the wisecracks of baseball for the last three or four years. Russell Ford, is said to be the discoverer of the new fowler. In a confidential mood he passed the secret on to other writers, and in the same manner it reached "Skeeter" Fanning, who introduced it into Coast league society.

But the sad thing to be noted in connection with the "emery ball" is that its use is frowned on. In the American association there is a rule that any pitcher detected using the latest method of deception finally will be fined $100 and suspension for 30 days. As far as is known, this is the only league to take official action with regard to the "emery ball," although all umpires have been instructed to maintain a close watch against its use.

The new twister gets its name from the fact that the roughened surface was first produced by massaging a small spot with a piece of sandpaper, and was discovered by the pitcher who had never been known to perform before. It needs to be thrown, only with ordinary speed and comes up to the plate straight and true, and looking as fat as a balloon to the batsman.

What It Does

Now, here is what it does. When within a foot or two of the plate it breaks suddenly and goes up or down, according to the way it was thrown, almost perpendicularly. The jump is generally for eight or ten inches, when the break suddenly and comes up or down right across the plate. No batsman in the world can gauge it. It may go up or down, or the pitcher may make it make a side spin, and the catcher is aware of what's coming, he is as helpless as the batsman.

The element of danger to the batsman is the reason why the ball is looked upon with disfavor. It breaks so fast that he has no chance of stepping out of the way should he happen to get in the road. If the ball happened to be high and thrown to break it toward the plate, there'd be no escape for the batter. He would get as nice a beating as if someone stood over his head and pounded away with a club.

Toward the latter part of last season Fanning, pitching in Oakland, got a ball that collided with the stand. "Skeeter" used his finger nail to complete the corrugation, and no one but himself, as it is called, knew what was going on. The result was two hits for the opposition, and Fanning allowed them simply to drive a sucker from himself. "Rub" Gardner, out on it in the Imperial league this winter, and in four trips to the bat Gardner didn't touch the ball once.

GARDNER BROOKS BACK IN TOWN

Lowell Boy Will Train Here for His Next Bout

Percy Aubrey of England Faces Him in New York, July 14

Joe Brooks, the local lad who boxes under the name de guerre of Gardner Brooks, took a trip north to New York yesterday and will spend the Fourth at his home.

Joe, or Gardner as he is more popularly known, took the elevator and came up to see us soon after his arrival. He's just the same modest little fellow who departed for the big burg a few months ago to make his fortune in the hempen square. His successes in Gotham's arenas haven't worked any noticeable change upon him and he wears the same size cheap suit as of yore.

Today young Brooks stands among the top-notchers in the bantam weight division and is resolutely shunned by many of the boxers of his weight who are well thought of. In fact many of them have learned to their sorrow that the Lowell product of the padded mitten game is a hard Joe Jackson when chucked into the squared arena with an opponent.

Jerry Pelton, manager of Brooks has vainly tried to get him mixed with Kid Williams but there's been nothing doing thus far. Williams doesn't care to tangle anything quite as tough as apparently as he is a tough one.

GARDNER BROOKS

Brooks looks as healthy as Hood's farm and as hard as nails. He is fort made to learn if a player who was known to be a slugger had caught about his system. If the great Ed Delahanty of the Phillies had a weakness no one ever found it, for "Big Ed" was still slugging the heat pitchers up until the time he succumbed to the Philadelphia American league, where he was playing when he died.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

Benmy Kauff had a day off and for the first time had a chance to see Detroit's team play ball. Ty Cobb beat out an infield tap, went from first to home, twister around the catcher. Kauff arose and walked to the press box.

"Say," he remarked, "where's that guy who called me the Ty Cobb of the Federal league."

"I'm the one," spoke up the reporter.

"I just wanted to thank you," said Kauff. "I didn't know how hard you were boosting me until I saw that fellow Cobb in action."

One of the most peculiar plays recorded in base ball came up in a Federal league game at Baltimore on June 15. In the first inning the Chicago batters full and one out. The batter struck out but the ball got away from Catcher Owens and the batter chased to first base. The man on third imagined he was forced, saw no chance to reach home, so departed for the bench. Owens threw to third base, though just now he expected to tag the runner who was on the bench that way is not clear. Then some one waved the runner up and he chased from the bench to the plate, with the holders after him. He reached the plate first and Umpire Johnstone allowed the run. But since that time the ruling and it is up to President Gilmore to decide the tangle.

The Chicago Americans, a notoriously bad road club in bygone seasons, began their campaign as if they were matched to meet Percy Aubrey of England in New York July 14 and will train for the bout in Lowell.

MACK MAY DROP MORE HIGH SALARIED MEN; BARRY MAY BE THE NEXT TO GO

PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—On the heels of the news of the disposal of Bob Shawkey by the Philadelphia Athletics to the New York Yankees comes the report that Jack Barry, the clever shortstop, is on the market. Barry has not played in a game since June 19 because of an injury. It also was reported that it is the intention of Connie Mack to get rid of all his high-salaried men, with the possible exception of Studly Michaels, at first; Amos Strunk, outfielder, and one or two others.

WITH THE PADDED MITTS

Joe Rivers, the Mexican fighter, is scheduled to perform before the boxing public of Boston next Tuesday evening. Rivers' opponent will be Gilbert Gallant of Chelsea and a rugged bout should be in order. Rivers, a few years ago would beat Gallant every day in the week, but Joe has slipped down the chutes and Gallant has an excellent chance of coping a victory.

Walter Butler and Tommy McFarland, two Lowell favorites, will unwind swings at each other in the semi-final to the future Gallant bout. McFarland put up two tough fights with Larry Burns in this city a few years ago and his gameness and courage made quite a hit. Walter Butler won both of his fights in Lowell by kayos, Jack Mansfield going down with a right to the stomach, while Young River hoisted the distress signal from the canvas after three rounds of battling.

There is talk about starting a boxing club at Rockingham park shortly. If such is the case and if the promoters live up to their promise the fans of New England are in line to witness several high grade boxing matches. George Lawrence, manager of Sam McVea and Colin Bell, is the man who is behind the venture and he recently stated, if he opened the club, Charley White and other high class performers would appear there.

The coming bout between Charley White and Milburn (Young) Saylor, looks like one big affair from where we sit. Saylor has fought practically every lightweight of note in the world and has always made a good showing, sometimes he lost, but in the majority of his bouts he was on the long end of the decision. White has only allowed two men to stay the limit in his last four bouts, Leach Cross and Charley Thomas, but he stopped Thomas shortly after. The boy will box 12 rounds at the Atlas A. A. on July 11 and a record house is looked for.

Walter Mohr and Eddie Murphy are down on the cards for a bout next Wednesday at Thornton, N. I. These boys are not strangers to any means, having clashed on two occasions at Cambridge. After Mohr giving Murphy a terrible lacing in the first battle only to have the referee call it a draw. In the second encounter he held his own, but lost the decision. Mohr is the favorite, but Murphy will make him travel at top speed.

Ray Wood knocked out Grover Hayes, the veteran lightweight at Turners Falls last night in the tenth round. Wood had the better of it up till this session and when he put Hayes through his last round in the tenth, the Chicago boy could not respond. Joe Carroll and Joe Boudreau fought ten rounds to a draw in the semi-windup.

Ray Wood was one of the most popular boxers that ever graced a Lowell ring and every time he was booked to appear, standing room was at a premium. He never lost a battle in this

HAGEN - WINNER

Rochester Golfer Wins
Open State Golf Title
—Brady Second

BOSTON, July 2.—Walter Hagen of Rochester, N. Y., regarded by many as the best golfer in the United States, proved yesterday that, no matter under what conditions he had to encounter, his golf was a trifle better than that of those who competed in the Massachusetts open championship in the last 36 holes at the Country club, Brookline.

Winners of the Eight Prizes
Walter C. Hagen, Rochester, N. Y. $150
Michael J. Brady, Wollaston 100
Gilbert Nicholls, Wilmington 50
J. H. Barnes, Whitmarsh Valley 50
C. H. Hoiner, Woodbury, N. J. 30
Tom Anderson, Montclair, N. J. 20
Patrick J. Doyle, Myopia 10
Louis Tellier, Canoe Brook, and Alec Campbell, Baltimore, split 5

Totals $435
Hagen, who was tied with Mike Brady, the Wollaston professional, after 54 holes, started after luncheon to annex the state title held by the Wollaston player. Brady and Hagen had totals of 222 each, but after the fourth and last rounds Hagen had gained two shots on his brother pro, which gave him the state title, with 225 as his total.

Brady scored an 81 on his last round, giving him second money, with a total of 303, while Gilbert Nicholls of Wilmington received third prize, one shot behind the former Brighton golfer, Jim Barnes of Whitmarsh was tied for fourth with Francis Oulmet, four shots behind Nicholls and C. H. Hoiner of Woodbury, N. J., was fifth, two shots behind Barnes. Francis Oulmet, national amateur champion, will receive a special prize and will be awarded fourth money, according to the ruling of the state association.

Tom Anderson of Upper Montclair was sixth, Pat Doyle of Myopia seventh, Louis Tellier, the French professional, and Alec Campbell, for many years the professional at the Country club, but now at Baltimore C. C., dividing eighth money.

Tom McNamara of Boston, runner-up in the recent national open championship, failed to get in the money, as did Orrin Perry, Belmont Springs, who was runner-up to Mike Brady last year. McNamara scored 320 and Perry was one shot worse. Tom Kerrigan failed to go better than a 92 and an 85 for his last two rounds, which gave him a total of 323.

Jesse P. Guilford, Bellevue G. C. winner of many open amateur tournaments in this vicinity this season, had 221, which was the second best score made by the amateurs. Sam Sterne, of the Brookline club, Worcester, was the third best amateur.

KAUFF JUMPS THE FEDS

TY COBB OF FEDERAL LEAGUE
SAYS HE WILL REPORT TO
GIANTS

NEW YORK, July 2.—Benny Kauff, the Ty Cobb of the Federal league who earlier in the season had occasioned a sensation by jumping from the Brooklyn Reds to the Giants, and Tom Seaton, former star twirler of the Phillies, jumped the Brooklyn Reds and say they will not return to the Outlaw fold. Kauff said that he would report to McGraw at Ebbetts field tomorrow and if not accepted by the Giants he would quit baseball for good.

When told yesterday afternoon at Ebbetts field that Benny Kauff intended to report to the Giants to-day, Manager John McGraw did not appear to be much excited.

"I do not see what I can do with Kauff," said McGraw. "When we tried to play him before the case was decided against us and there has been no change in the situation since then."

According to Dick Carroll, business manager for the Wards, Kauff's salary was held up because he had drawn advance money while he was with the Indianapolis club. After the Giants were notified that they could not play Kauff the latter returned the Reds and began proceedings in a $500 suit against the New York club. Kauff's complaint was breach of contract.

RAY WOOD WON

TURNERS FALLS, July 2.—The Turners Falls Athletic association staged its star bout of the season last night. The preliminary was a six round bout between Jerry Leo of Turners Falls and Young Wagner of Lawrence. Wagner's manager threw in the sponge in the sixth. The semi-final was a go of eight rounds between Ray Wood of Lawrence and Joe Boudreau of Maiden. The result was a draw.

The main bout was scheduled to go 12 rounds between Ray Wood of Turners Falls and Grover Hayes of Chicago. Wood knocked Hayes out of the ring in the 10th round, and as Hayes failed to respond to the count, Wood was awarded a knockout. Wood had things his own way in every round.

IN TITLE GAME

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 2.—R. N. Williams, 24, of Harvard, national amateur champion and George M. Church of Princeton, college champion, will compete on the courts of the Pittsburgh Athletic association this afternoon for the national clay court championship in singles. Williams worked his way into the finals yesterday by defeating N. W. Niles of Boston, while Church was winning from W. M. Washburn. The title match will begin at 3 o'clock.

Play in the women's singles will continue this afternoon and matches in the men's doubles this afternoon. Officials also hope to get several rounds in the mixed doubles completed before the day is over.

TARGET PRACTICE RESULTS

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Results of the target practice of the first Pacific destroyer division, announced by the navy department today, show that while the scores were slightly better than those of last year, they were not so good as those of the year by the destroyers of the Atlantic fleet.

MORE SAILING SHIPS

PANAMA, July 2.—Since the opening of the Panama canal it has been noticed by shipping agents in Panama City that the number of sailing ships to appear on the seas has rapidly increased. All of these have at one time or another passed through the waterway.

Shipping authorities attribute the increase in sail tonnage to the high freights due to the European war with the consequent lack of steam bottoms of neutral countries. It is stated that most of these sailing ships are of American register. They are employed in carrying wheat and other grains from the United States Pacific ports to England and case oils from the United States ports to the far east.

TOPICS OF TEWKSBURY

Ferris Bros., Successful Western Electricians Renew Old Acquaintances

Mrs. James Fairgrieve of Tewksbury Centre had distinguished visitors at her home during the past week in the persons of William G. Thomas, Robert and James Ferris, former residents of this city, who are now located in the western part of the state, where they have established what is known as the Ferris Brothers' Electrical system.

William G. Ferris is located at Boise City, Idaho; Thomas at Deage, Iowa; Robert at Yankton, South Dakota, and James at Watertown, South Dakota. The four young men were accompanied by their sister, Mrs. William True of Hatfield, Wis. The party also visited their mother, Mrs. Margaret Lincoln of 395 Lincoln street, this city.

The Ferris brothers formerly resided in this city, where they were brought up. Some 15 years ago the eldest boy, William G., went west and secured employment with the General Electric Co. of Chicago, Ill. After learning the electrical business and becoming an expert in this particular line of work, the young man went into business for himself and later formed a company with his three brothers and the famous Ferris Bros. Electrical system, which is noted to be one of the most electrical developments for years, was started.

Large concerns in the western states were interested in the system and in a short time the young men were doing a tremendous business. The system was introduced in different parts of the west, and finally it was deemed advisable to open offices in various cities and accordingly William G. went to Boise City, Idaho; Thomas to Deage, Iowa; Robert to Yankton, S. D. and James to Watertown, S. D. Each one of the brothers has charge of his end of the business and they all report success. The system consists of electrical power and lighting and, according to reports, many of the large manufacturing concerns of the west that formerly used water power have given this up and now have recourse to the Ferris Bros. system.

Water System

William T. Lewis of Main street, Centre village, is installing a water system at his home which will prove to be a great improvement. Wells have been driven and now men are at work installing a 1000-gallon water tank in the basement of the house, which will serve as the reservoir, the water to be pumped from there into the various apartments of the building.

School Teachers

The schools of the town, as previously announced, closed during the past week and most of the teachers, who reside out of town, have returned to their homes, carrying with them the best wishes of their pupils.

Miss Nellie Fleming, principal of the Foster school, is planning a trip to California, during which she will visit the two expositions, which are being held at San Francisco and San Diego. She will be gone a couple of months.

Building Sidelwalk

In compliance with a vote of the citizens at the last town meeting, the town is having a sidewalk of cinders laid on the main road from Chanler's corner to North street. Several town employees are busy on the job.

Persons

Melvin Ellis, who recently graduated from the Lowell high school has gone to Levant, Me. to spend a month with his parents. He will return for a post-graduate course at the same school. His mother, who attended the graduation exercises, has returned to her home.

Franklin Spaulding is erecting a garage in the rear of the home of his father, Benjamin Spaulding in North street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Billings, their daughter, Gretchen, son, Master Roger and Miss Edith Foretall, have gone on an automobile trip to New York. Harry Lord of Pleasant street has purchased a Ford automobile of the touring type.

Jeremiah K. Chandler is having his automobile overhauled and painted, the work being done at the shop of Alden Holmes.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garlick, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Sweet, John Randall, Miss Bertha Randall and Miss Avis Dinsmore have received invitations to attend the wedding of Miss Lillie Hulten and Carl Olsen at Brockton, July 3.

Mrs. J. L. Burt of Pleasant street has had as her guest, Mrs. M. S. Hoyt of Exeter, N. H.

Mrs. Homer Darby and son will spend the holidays at the home of Mrs. Darby's mother in Haverhill.

Mrs. William R. Means has purchased a Rio automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Gale and the latter's mother, Mrs. Hawkes, have returned from a pleasant automobile trip to Little Bore Head, N. H.

Lawn Party

The annual lawn party under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society of the Congregational church of the Centre village, was conducted Wednesday evening on the beautiful lawn of Enoch Foster in the Centre village. On account of the afternoon rain it was thought the event would have to be postponed, but fortunately the skies cleared up in the latter part of the afternoon and the weather, although hot at the best, was favorable for the event and the affair proved very successful. There were about 150 people in attendance and all spent a most enjoyable evening.

The trees about the lawn had been beautifully decorated for the occasion and a big arch of gas lights added greatly to the brilliancy of the party. The entertainment program, which was scheduled to be held in the open, was conducted in Deacon Foster's home and consisted of vocal and instrumental selections by some of the best talent of the town.

Those in charge of the event were as follows: Candy table: Mrs. Herbert Patton, Mrs. James Miller, Mrs. Clarence Clark, Mrs. P. W. Cameron, Mrs. King and Miss King.

Ice cream: Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. George

Mrs. W. H. Brown Tells How She Was Relieved After Long Suffering

Mrs. W. H. Brown of Danvers, Mass., was a victim of stomach trouble which tortured her for years. She tried many treatments and medicines and got little relief.

Then she took May's Wonderful Remedy and got results right away. In telling of her case she wrote: "For years I have suffered terribly with stomach trouble. I could find no relief. Then, like a blessing from above, I heard of your remedy; sent for it, and after a few treatments am being cured. I am going to tell all my friends of your miraculous remedy."

May's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your drugist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

We Believe In "Turn-Overs"

BUT NOT IN GOING TO SLEEP

Our swift-selling stock is turned into cash so quickly that we can operate on a small profit.

The Wrong Way!

Most stores sell clothes at high prices ten months in the year. Clothes that they get anywhere and everywhere, without regard to style, fit or fashion. Then, two months in the year they sell the "left-overs" which have accumulated during this season—last season—and many previous seasons. The newspapers are full of ads announcing sales. Sales! Sales! Sales! It is like Fire! Fire! Fire! Exciting, but it means nothing to the buying public. Bargain Sales—Clearance Sales—and other sales all mean that you are being offered "left-over" clothes that no one ever wanted. Thus clothiers try their damndest to work off these "Stickers."

The Right Way!

Figure it for yourself and you'll agree that the P&Q way is the correct way. The P&Q tailoring shops at 594 Broadway, N. Y., make a limited number of suits that are just right. We don't overstock. We sell the latest New York style creations as quickly as they are tailored at our low prices, $10-or-$15 ALL THE YEAR ROUND. We don't mark them up so we can't mark them down.

Two Just Prices

And P&Q Clothes at their low prices of ALWAYS $10-or-$15 contain from 25 to 33 1-3 per cent. more quality than the average clothes being featured in price-cutting announcements.

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

EFFICIENCY IN HOUSEKEEPING

"Oh dear, it is so tiresome planning the meals and all the other bother about housekeeping," moaned Marjorie dejectedly. "I never seem able to get my work behind me, as they say."

"Careful planning and writing out at least three meals in advance and marketing for the same, is absolutely essential in housekeeping efficiency, if a woman expects to keep her youth, beauty and good health and particularly her sunny disposition," said Marjorie.

"I thoroughly believe in a system," she continued, "and so does any well organized business organization, but it can be a fairly flexible one in the hands of the woman who thinks. No wonder women wear out. They either carry the house around on their two shoulders from morning to night or they forget it entirely. There is a happy medium. Take a pad and pencil and go to the refrigerator after breakfast and make a note of just what food is left over. Then decide where any one of these may be used in the next three meals. Maybe the outside stalks of celery are there for a nice cream of celery soup for instance."

"Now plan, and write out on a card (which should be kept in a card index back of the menu) each of these meals, and on another slip write the necessary orders for the grocer, at the same time see if any of the staple goods, such as sugar, tea, coffee, rice, etc., must be replenished, and write these down also."

"If you know exactly what is wanted once, twice, or even three times a week, this order can be telephoned, at other times it is necessary to go to market to compare foods and prices, know values and become skillful in marketing. Besides it is a great advantage to have personal acquaintance with the butcher, baker and candlestick maker."

"Now with this done prepare all these meals as far in advance as possible, such as meats, desserts, etc., so that your work can all be pigeonholed as it were. Very little time is needed then in preparation of any one of these three meals at the last moment."

MISS GARDNER TO WED

DAUGHTER OF CONGRESSMAN
AUGUSTUS GARDNER TO MARRY GRAFTON WINTHROP MINOT

HAMILTON, July 2.—People along the North Shore were interested last night in the announcement that Miss Constance Gardner, daughter of Congressman and Mrs. Augustus P. Gardner of Sagamore farm, would become the bride of Grafton Winthrop Minot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grafton Minot of Boston and Nahant, in the Episcopal church in Ipswich on July 24. Miss Gardner made her debut two seasons ago. She has been interested in the Vincent club and other organizations. She is a granddaughter of United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, who spends the summers at Nahant, where the Minots have a beautiful summer home.

Mr. Minot graduated from Harvard

two years ago. He studied abroad, and for the past year or so has been an attaché of the American embassy in Berlin. He recently returned to this country. The Gardners have been at Hamilton since congress closed.

ROSTER OF THE PARADE

Officials at Armory Gave Out Final Arrangements—The Five Divisions

All is now in readiness for the big Fourth of July celebration to be held in this city Monday under the auspices of the local companies of the National Guard, final arrangements having been made at a meeting of the marshals of the five divisions, which was held in the quarters of Major Colby T. Kittredge at the state armory last evening. According to present arrangements, the affair will be the biggest of its kind ever conducted in the state of Massachusetts.

Last night's meeting was presided over by Chief Marshal Kittredge and the marshals of the various divisions reported as to what had been done in the line of progress, and after all reports had been heard all were unanimous in saying the affair will be the best Lowell has ever seen, providing the weather man does not butt in.

Major Kittredge wishes it understood that the parade will start promptly at 10 o'clock, unless something unforeseen happens at the last minute. A toll of the fire bells will announce the starting of the parade and the route to be covered will be as follows:

Route of Parade
Formation in Westford street and side streets above the armory. The parade, which is expected to be over four miles in length, will march over Westford street, over the bridge to Northville, where the automobile and motorcycle division will join; to Middlesex; to Gerhart to Davis square, to Central, to Merrimack, to Bridge, countermarch at West Sixth, to Merrimack, as far as Cabot, where dismissal will take place.

The Roster
The roster of the parade so far is as follows. It was stated that a few changes may occur on account of organizations joining in at the last minute.

SEVERAL THOUSAND IDLE
CHICAGO, July 2.—Forty-three of Chicago's largest lumber yards and sixty-five brick-making plants were closed today, throwing several thousand men out of employment.
The establishments will not make deliveries of any building materials until the strike of 16,000 carpenters is settled, according to announcement made. The 11th hour decision of the Allied Building construction and material interests to continue manufacturing operations without settling placed a more optimistic aspect on the outlook against the carpenters and other building trades workmen. No building material, either brick or wood, will be permitted to reach any building contractor or manufacturer in Chicago, it was declared, however, until peace is restored in the industrial war.

DISPUTE SETTLED

New Haven Agreement With Clerks Now in Effect

NEW HAVEN, July 2.—After negotiations extending over two months, in which a general strike was at one time threatened, the difference between the New York, New Haven & Hartford and its freight clerks were finally settled late yesterday, through the efforts of a federal mediator, G. W. W. Hanger of Washington.

Of the original 16 grievances all except three had been amicably settled before Mr. Hanger's appointment as mediator. The most important question, which involved the right of appeal, was settled yesterday by the substitution of a new rule.
This provides that clerks may appeal their grievances, except in competency cases, to the general superintendent, who shall appoint a committee, of which he may be a member, to hold a hearing and make final disposition of the matter. The rule is similar to the one now in force between the company and its engineers and firemen.
The other cases, technically known as "the Harrington case" and "House No. 6" of Boston, were settled by concessions.

The agreement, drafted by Mr. Hanger, was signed by C. L. Bardo, general manager of the railroad, and J. Searns, general chairman of the clerks' committee.
FINE OR IMPRISONMENT
BRUSSELS, via London, July 2, 1915. a. m.—Gen. von Bissing, the German governor-general of Belgium, has issued an order forbidding under penalty of fine or imprisonment, the wearing or exhibiting of Belgian insignia in a provocative manner, and forbidding absolutely the wearing or exhibiting of the insignia of nations warring against Germany and her allies.

CARING FOR THE FINGER NAILS

To correct biting finger nails, which are fatal to beauty, the fingers should be washed, dried, and vaseline applied before retiring. The place strips of gauze, several thicknesses, over the ends of the fingers, bandaging each finger separately. This operation must be repeated each night until the habit of biting has been overcome and a sufficient growth is attained.

Some nails thrive better than others and in consequence require shaping often. Over ten days of the fortnight is often enough to cut the overage ones, but they should be shaped every day or two with file or emery board. The cuticle at the base of the nails must be carefully forced back and tucked under in order to preserve the fibert of the nail. This is usually done with a wooden or ivory stick designed for the purpose. With many people, however, it is sufficient to push the skin down the towel after washing.

A slice of fresh cut lemon rind over the nails after this opera will assist in keeping the nails in color. After the nails have been cleansed and shaped, they should be polished. If one wishes to make one's own polish paste the following serve admirably:

Take equal parts of beeswax and vaseline and a little carmine, mix the wax and remove it from the fire. As it cools add the carmine and in the vaseline. The mixture be put into jars and kept indefinitely. Apply the paste to the nail with finger and nail polish with a clean leather nail polisher.

FOR THE CHARITY BOARD

GOV. WALSH APPOINTS DR. MERRICK OF DORCHESTER TO SUCCEED D. F. TILLEY
BOSTON, July 2.—Gov. Walsh yesterday

day afternoon announced a number of important nominations which he will submit to the council at its meeting next week for confirmation. Before that time the governor is likely to make public his selections for assistant.

make public his selections for appointment to other offices now vacant or where the terms of the present incumbents have expired. With those made Tuesday and yesterday Gov. Walsh will have named 47 persons for various state offices.

One of the most interesting appointments yesterday was that of Dr. Robert M. Mergick of Dorchester to the state board of charity, in place of David F. Tilley, whose term expired this year. Mr. Tilley, it was understated, was a candidate for reappointment. There is still another member of the state board of charity to be named soon.

Yesterday's list included the reappointment of Hon. Alonzo R. Weed of

There were other reappointments, including those of Agnes O'R. Taff of Brookline as a member of the commission for the blind; James M. Morrison of Boston to the Boston finance commission, Thomas C. O'Brien of Boston, a member of the board of pardon and parole; Carl Dreyfus, a trustee of the Massachusetts training schools, and Dr. Worthington W. Miner of

New Appointments included those of J. Russel Marble of Worcester, a trustee of the General Insurance Guarantee fund, to succeed Hamilton Mayo of Leominster, whose term had expired; T. James Gallagher of Watertown, clerk of the Waltham court, to succeed Dudley Roberts, whose term had expired; Simeon B. Hotchkiss of Gloucester, clerk of the district court of Eastern Essex, to succeed Carlton H. Parsons, whose term had expired, and Abner L. Braley, a son of Justice Braley of the supreme judicial court, to be special justice of the district court of Dukes county. Mr. Braley will succeed Judge Everett A. Davis, whom the governor nominated as judge of probate for Dukes county on Tuesday.

BURNED TO DEATH

SUMMER PLAYGROUNDS

Roxbury Woman of 70
Attempted to Put Out
Small Blaze

BOSTON, July 2.—Mrs. Maria Mullen, 70 years old, a widow, living alone in the attic of the two and a half-story building at 7 Texas street, Roxbury, was burned to death last evening, shortly after 9 o'clock, when her nightclothes became ignited as she sought to extinguish a fire on her bureau. When medical assistance was called, Mrs. Mullen was declared to be dead. Her body was removed to the city morgue.

Mrs. Mullen returned to her room shortly before 9 o'clock. She prepared for bed and, having lighted and turned low the wick in her bedroom lamp, she carelessly threw the burning match to the top of the bureau. The match set fire to the bureau linen.

Mrs. Mullen leaped from her bed and sought to extinguish the flames. The flame communicated to her night clothes. The woman screamed as her clothes were burned from her. Those about the dwelling on other floors hastened to her assistance and with pails of water extinguished the fire about the room and on Mrs. Mullen's clothes.

Dr. Thomas O'Connor, attached to the Roxbury Crossing police station, answered a summons and soon after Medical Examiner Leary visited the house. Dr. Leary pronounced the woman dead. It was said that she had inhaled the flames. She was severely burned about the body.

TO CENSOR THE MOVIES

DR. BRENTON ASSUMES DUTIES OF
OF CENSORSHIP

NEW YORK, July 2.—Dr. Cranston Brenton of this city and Hartford, Conn., today assumed the duties of chairman of the National board of censorship of motion pictures. His election to that office was ratified by the board yesterday. Dr. Brenton succeeds Frederic C. Howe, who recently resigned. He formerly was professor of English language and literature at Trinity college, Hartford, and last October became war relief director of the American Red Cross.

THE TOWN OF BILLERICA

MARRIAGE OF MR. HOUGHTON OF
NO. ANDOVER AND MISS HELEN M.
WILKINS AT BRIDE'S HOME

Mr. Robert Bigelow Houghton of North Andover, formerly principal of the Pollard school of Billerica, and Miss Helen Marion Wilkins, daughter of Mrs. Mary A. Wilkins of Billerica, were united in marriage last evening at the bride's home, and Herbert E. Benton of this city, a cousin of the bride, officiated and was assisted by Rev. J. Harold Dale of Billerica. The bride was handsomely gowned in white tulle trimmed with chantilly lace, with a veil trimmed with lilies of the valley. She carried bride's roses. Miss Grace Frye, the bridesmaid, wore a dress of blue silk and carried sweet peas. Mr. Richard Houghton, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the vestry of the Congregational church. The ushers were J. Harry Wilkins, Fred Nickless, Wendell Eldridge and Everett S. Bull. Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Harold Dale and Miss Edna Maude Robinson. Mr. and Mrs. Houghton left late in the evening on a wedding trip after which they will reside in Billerica.

FIVE MILE RACE
There will be a meeting of the Republican city committee and outing committee at republican headquarters tonight to which all members have been notified to be present. Secretary George Emory of the sports committee reports he has received several entries for the five mile race and expects that there will be quite a few more before the entry list is closed. The race is open to amateurs only and all will start from scratch.

The wrestling tournament will be of an exciting character and one of the main features of the afternoon sports. Several men have already been secured and several exciting bouts will be furnished the spectators. The chief marshal of the parade, Charles Wotton of ward three, is hustling to make the parade a success. He is inviting all republicans who have automobiles to be at the Richardson hotel on Saturday, July 10 at 1:30 p. m., so they can take part in the parade and escort the distinguished speakers who are to be present. It is still possible that Senator Henry Cabot Lodge may be here that day. See advertisement on Sporting page.

General Mission Board of Episcopal Church Announces Contributions to Emergency Fund Since April

NEW YORK, July 2.—The general mission board of the Episcopal church announced today that it has received $250,000 in contributions to its emergency fund since April. This is almost enough to meet a deficit of $24,000 which has existed for several years. The board hopes to collect $150,000 to be set aside as a loan fund to cover any future deficit. Only 1700 of the 5600 Episcopal churches in the country share in this special fund plan.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

THE TRADE BALANCE

The preachers of optimism have their innings and the pessimists are wholly discredited. On proof which is absolutely conclusive it is certain that, in a broadly national sense, America is enjoying unusual prosperity. Here and there may be still some slight disorganization or stagnation, but, taking the country as a whole, we are on a sound basis and on the swelling wave of prosperity.

It has been officially stated at Washington that the balance of trade in favor of this country since last December is $1,050,000,000. In seven months this balance has grown over 60 per cent. larger than any trade balance for any year in our history. In other words, we have exported goods to the value of more than a billion dollars in excess of our imports, and instead of owing any nation money, all nations owe, or will soon owe, us money. We are fast becoming a creditor nation, the greatest creditor nation, the only creditor nation. Peace hath its victories, surely, and they are victories that will bring prosperity and happiness to our millions while the rest of the world groans under the burden of taxation and blood money extorted by the present senseless struggle.

In many other ways our coming prosperity is forecasted. It is seen in the desire of all the Americas to come together in a bond of trade and commercial expansion; it is seen in the growing desire for a merchant marine; it is seen in our financial expansion into the world capitals and the fact that New York is supplanting London and Paris as the financial centre of the world; it is shown in the newly-born cooperation between our government and private business for the extension of American trade influence in all foreign markets. It is shown in the starting of new American industries and the new sense of national dependence which is taking the place of dependence on foreign manufacturers or sellers of raw materials. America is applying the war lessons as well as pocketing the war profits.

The close of the war will probably find us clear of debt without owing any money to Europe. May it find Europe owing us a debt of gratitude for our real neutrality, and our national influence in restoring peace to the world!

FRANCE COMES FIRST

The Sun has called attention to the fact that the war despatches, which come almost wholly from London or from the English officials in the war zones, do not give sufficient credit to France for the gallant part she is playing in the fight against the Teutonic allies. From the first, the English side of the story has been played up as the most important, and every important success against German arms was attributed to English bravery or the superiority of English equipment. France has received only a meagre and wholly unsatisfactory notice, but those who investigate the war at close range, as well as prominent German propagandists have repeatedly declared that England is not just to France in the war news which is sent to the American newspapers. England has nothing to gain from this, and France should be given the credit that is her due. England has indeed played a brilliant part and suffered serious losses, especially in the early engagements, but in the long grind of trench deadlocks, it is France that has done the lion's share.

William D. Taylor, a prominent citizen of Dorchester, who has been abroad for the past four months getting contracts for war orders, has spoken of this inequity in interviews to the press. He declared that while England has given a large army, France has given her all, and that England is holding back while France is suffering most grievously. In France, he says, the class of 1917, composed of boys 18 years old, is about to be called, while in England the response to recruiting appeals has been so lukewarm as to draw forth the most impassioned appeals and even threats of conscription from government officials. In a bulletin which Mr. Taylor claims to have seen in the English war office, Belgium was said to be holding 17 miles of trenches, England 31, and France 543. These figures speak eloquently of the wonderful part played in the war by the French, and they make one wonder why all or nearly all of the gallant happenings are in the front of the 31 miles held by England, while so little happens in the front of 543 miles held by the French.

At this distance, it looks as though France realizes how vital the war is to her interests, to a far greater extent than does England. In France the danger is at the door, but to the average Englishman it is something remote and impersonal, and he regards it as certain that his country will be victorious in the end. Better that he be not so sure if a little unrest would show him what he might do to safeguard his natural interests. The ultimatum of Lloyd George to the English workers and the appeals of Asquith for national thrift show that there is something decidedly lacking in the attitude of the English masses towards the war. The continuous praise of England and the recital of her brave deeds, as seen in the daily war despatches do not harmonize entirely with reality, but the unrecorded French sacrifices are surely the outcome of the magnificent spirit which has animated France in the struggle against her mighty foe.

SOME AMERICAN TRIALS

It is not soothing to our sense of national pride to have American trials referred to as undesirable in a famous English murder trial, but we cannot deny that the reproach is merited. The incident in question happened during the trial of a man charged with the murder of three women who were his wives, by drowning them in a bath tub. An attorney representing the prisoner in referring to the evidence of two doctors said "such medical evidence opens the door to the worst form of 'Americanism' in the administration of British justice." In another part of his address, the reproach was still the vessel was "engaged on admiralty more pointed. "Suppose the prisoner had not been a pauper as he is," said the attorney, "but possessed of unlimited means, like many recent American prisoners. He could have procured experts to say that the cause of death was other than the one given by the experts for the crown."

It is not necessary for us to refresh our memories by recalling some famous trials of the past ten years. Just now the Thaw jury trial in New York affords sufficient illustration of the evil mentioned in London. Both Thaw and the state have a corps of medical experts, one group of which is sure that Thaw is insane, and ready to prove it by references to famous authorities and on scientific testimony that the average man cannot understand; the other group is equally certain that Thaw is sane and harmless. Such spectacles do not conduce to respect for American trials or confidence in the medical profession. The number of experts pro and con is generally regulated by the size of the prisoner's bank roll.

This form of what the English attorney called "Americanism" should be done away with, and the sooner the better. If the state should employ the only expert to testify, or even a group of experts, composed of men of undoubted integrity and ability, it would not be necessary for the ends of justice that the respective prisoners should go out to hire illustrious experts who, for a good financial consideration would testify to anything. The English charge is very direct and actually deserved, although it hurts to acknowledge the fact.

A DANGEROUS EXAMPLE

As a protest against capital punishment, Thomas Mott Osborne, the famous warden of Sing Sing, left the prison Wednesday night in order to avoid being present at the electrocution of a prisoner. He made no secret of his intention, declaring that it was the only way he could protest against the law which made the execution necessary. Like many other things done by Mr. Osborne, the incident has been given considerable press notice.

By absenting himself from an electrocution, the warden of Sing Sing proves that he has a very sympathetic nature, but it does not prove that he has a clear conception of duty. His protest was against the law of New York state, and it was to uphold the law he took his present position. If at the time he assumed control he could not conscientiously subscribe to the doctrine of capital punishment, it is doubtful if he was justified in becoming warden. The man who would take pleasure in seeing an electrocution is a monster, but it is not for the warden of a state prison to put his own feelings above the law of the state. By absenting himself from the unpleasant occasion, Mr. Osborne may have called attention to the cruelty of capital punishment, but he also called attention to the danger of putting a sentimentalist in charge of a prison.

What would be the result of Mr. Osborne's policy, carried to extreme? The soldier might refuse to obey his officer, the judge might refrain from sending anybody to prison, the policeman might lose sight of the public interest, and the governor might make the abstention of a prison warden from executions unnecessary by granting a pardon or commutation of sentence to all prisoners. It is not for any public official to consult his private feelings when the law of the state is so directly in question.

THE ARMENIAN

The loss of the Armenian is the most important submarine incident since the sinking of the Lusitania, but it looks as though it will precipitate complications of a serious nature. In another part of it, as Ambassador Page has reported, his address, the reproach was still the vessel was "engaged on admiralty business." It was a fair prize of war, and though there will be some question as to whether the crew was sufficiently warned, the Germans seem to have been within their rights in sinking her on the plea of military necessity. It is a matter for regret in this country that so many of the crew were American citizens, but it is as though Americans had deliberately sought service on an English warship. Had the Armenian been a merchant vessel, the effect of her sinking would have been serious, now that the Lusitania matter is pending settlement, but it does not promise any further trouble. In all probability German submarine activity will grow as exports from this country increase, but whether the rules of international law will be observed any better only time can tell.

ANOTHER MURDER

For the sake of the reputation of Lowell, it is to be hoped that the murderer of John Demos will soon be on trial for his deed, and that eventually he will pay the penalty. It was a murder of unusual brutality, and without any palliating features. Many aspects of the case resemble those of the Glingras murder, the result of which, unfortunately, has not had a deterrent effect. Once again all our citizens—and particularly our citizens of foreign birth—are shown in an awful way, the folly of carrying around large sums of money. Glingras was apparently murdered for the bank roll he used to carry, and it is said that

Demos had $800 in a belt which is missing. The knowledge of so much ready money must be a great temptation to the weak and the vicious, and the dangers of having such amounts concealed in the house or on the person are obvious. If all our workers put their savings in the regular savings banks we should have fewer murders of the Glingras and Demos type.

DANGER OF PRECEDENT

The importance of the Frye case as viewed by our state department is reflected in the tedious negotiations and protracted discussions that have followed its loss and is due to something deeper than the superficial facts in the case. It will be recalled that Germany expressed regret for the sinking of this vessel and offered to submit the case to a prize court, but the United States government has insisted that it should be settled by diplomacy, according to treaties with Prussia in 1799 and 1828. Even though the judgment of a prize court should be favorable, America, by submitting to it, would have established a dangerous precedent, virtually admitting that a cash settlement would offset a submarine attack on American ships. By holding out for American treaty rights, which are in accordance with our rights under the usage of international law, this government refuses to sacrifice any American principle. Hence the reason for such detailed and protracted negotiations on both sides. The settlement of the Frye case will be an important fact in history.

SEEN AND HEARD

Abe Martin says "there wuz plenty o' pink blossoms this spring fer those who cared t' git married. If you are susceptible to poison ivy, here is a very simple remedy suggested by a physician. It is the application of gasoline. This is said to kill the poison and is a least worth trying by those unfortunates who seem unable to get anything else to help them when they get near the perilous vine."

EYE FOR BUSINESS

One of the wealthy men of Cleveland, whose education is not as comprehensive as his business instinct, recently visited Washington, and, incidentally, some of the historic towns of interest thereabout. "Here," said a guide to him one day, "right here in this room, sir, George Washington received his first commission." Whereupon the Clevelander brightened up. "Do you happen to know," he asked, "what per cent commission it was?"—Harper's Magazine.

OUR LABOR LAWS

"I can't say that I am particularly impressed with the law that makes it necessary for my boy to loaf during the time he is out of school," remarked a father this week. "It isn't that I need the money my son will give me, but I believe it would be better for him if he could go to work doing something. He is a husky lad, though only 12 years old, and ought to be turning his hand to something useful for his own good. When I was his age, I started in to work, and it never hurt me a particle. I earned a large part of my high school education driving a milk team in the wee small hours of the morning, while going to school days, and while I didn't take all the honors in sight, I think I was all the better for it, physically, for my work. My candid opinion of the labor laws is that they were made more with the idea of benefiting man than for the benefit of boys, whatever may be the arguments and sentimental opinions put forward for the boys."

MARY GARRIGAN BARRY

Mrs. Mary Garrigan Barry is the daughter of Michael Garrigan, a former resident of this city and a relative of Rt. Rev. Bishop Garrigan. She is a lady of about 33 years of age and is married to Mr. J. A. Barry of 584 Washington street, Boston. She is a gifted poetess, as the following sonnet will indicate:

JUNE

Here comes the Queen all full of lure and fire,
A siren bent on Nature's glad fruition;
With eyes that heavy are with green desire,
And heart maternal, goes she on her mission.
When Mistress June sweeps down the street,
The tender fawns burst out broad and strong;
The Summer roses, kissed by warm, soft rains,
Are crimson glories. The birds are rich in song.
The fragrant perfume of the honey-suckle
Is friendly rival to wistaria's charms.
All clad in verdant green from crown to buckle,
She scatters miracles from her small palms.
The Queen arrives, the year is at its noon;
A radiant beauty, but no Saint, is June!

THE MOUNTAIN LAUREL

Mountain laurel, a favorite of many, is found in abundance in Andover. The following from the Boston Herald is of interest:
"The most beautiful plant of the flora of North America is the mountain laurel, named by the great Linnaeus himself in honor of his favorite pupil, Peter Kalm, who discovered it while traveling in America almost two centuries ago. For a few weeks every spring the laurel makes countless hill-sides and forest glades from New Hampshire to Louisiana indescribably lovely, with its clusters of pink and white blossoms. This is the time to see the New England laurel, and to delight in its beauty. When one may take advantage of the opportunity he should see the enormous masses of laurel in northern and central Massachusetts, and if he cannot do this he should make the shorter pilgrimage to Jamaica Plain, where he will find it in the Arboretum, nestled at the base of Hemlock Hill. The finest show of the year at the Arboretum is that which the laurel presents. Right now, indeed, the Arboretum is pronounced by its director to be at its very best. Many other beautiful things are now in all their glory there and the great plantations of laurel are in full bloom."

THE LONGEST DAY

When Mrs. Miggs rose yesterday while yet the morn was pale
She got her husband's breakfast and she packed his dinner pail
She saw him off to work and then, according to her rule,
She dressed and fed her children six and packed them off to school.
She filled the tub, put clothes to soak, and then no time to waste
She washed the dishes, swept the floor and all with frenzied haste.
She soaped, she rubbed, she boiled, she rinsed, while scraps of song were sung:
She used her fists for wringers and her wrung and wrung.
She drew her line from pole to pole at fences north and south
And chatted with her neighbors with a clothespin in her mouth.
She hung the clothes on the line and grumbled as she joked:
"Them clothes they won't be on'd dried but they'll be dried and smoked."
And then the kids came home from school all anxious to be fed.
She threw a meal together—tea and sugar, jam and bread.
Throughout the sultry afternoon she stood close to the stove
And frilly things she ironed and sang, "In grassy fields I rove."
And then she hurried to the store and got the things she'd need
To build a meal of size enough a hungry crowd to feed.
She set the table, cooked the grub, and saw them eat their fill,
And then to wash the dishes set to work with iron will.
"Say, mom," said little Mamie Miggs, "I heard the teacher say in all the year the twenty-first of June's the longest day."
"That's so," said Mamie's mamma, and grinned a little bit.
"Well, mebbe so, an' mebbe not. I hadn't noticed it."

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Once upon a time, long ago, the city of Lowell gave a Fourth of July celebration, the principal feature of which was to be a balloon ascension. As the employees of the aeronaut were preparing for the ascent, something happened and the balloon burst and there was no ascension. Again, once upon a time, the city of Lowell had a Fourth of July celebration, the principal feature of which was to be the fireworks. A mammoth crowd assembled to witness the fun, but there were no fireworks, and the mob went home, sorely disappointed and wondering greatly. The next morning the papers announced in good, plain English that the reason there were no fireworks was because the man who had come from Boston to set them off became drunk before the appointed time and was unable to officiate.

A glance at the Sun of quarter of a century ago furnishes an argument in favor of a municipal celebration as a means of keeping Lowell people and their money at home and of attracting people and their money from out-of-town.

Twenty-five years ago the city officially did not provide a celebration but the city of Haverhill had a glorious time. In those days Haverhill was much less easy of access than today, but the old Sun informs us that hundreds of Lowell people, headed by Mayor Palmer, went to Haverhill to see the fun.

Only last week a Lawrence paper announced that Mayor Kane of that city had made known his intention of visiting Lowell on July 5th, and expressed the opinion that a large number of Lawrence people would follow the mayor's example.

But while the city provided no entertainment out of the public funds at that time, Lowell had two big shows that drew large crowds to the Fair grounds and to Lakeview.

The Night Before
In days gone by the observance of "Night Before" was much ahead of the latter day observance, that is, for real, rough, riotous fun. The safe and sane idea hadn't reached Lowell in those days, and many stunts were pulled off for the enjoyment of the multitude, which, if reported today, would land the perpetrators behind the bars.

For instance, Merrimack square, in the old days was worth a 10-mile trip for the fun and excitement it afforded. On one occasion, the crowd was treated to the enjoyment of a hoghead, the fragments of the latter clearing the roofs of the buildings in the square while many windows in the Sun, Howe, Russell and old Wellman buildings were demolished. Then in the merry days gone by, when Joe Bickford, the poet, was facetious of the Sun buildings, there was something doing in the vicinity of Merrimack square from the time that darkness made identities doubtful, until the rising of the morning sun. The first class marksman with the slingshot, who had huge torpedoes for ammunition, sallied forth under the cover of darkness taking a crack at any good target available, particularly police officers, people in neighboring windows who imagined themselves safe from assault, while on the common his victims were the fat ladies who appeared in front of the side shows, the barkers of the shows, etc. Those were the happy days!

On the "night before" quarter of a century ago there was the usual riotous time throughout the city. At that time the city boasted of several popular downtown social organizations and, according to the old Sun, they held open house and entertained great gatherings on the eve of the glorious holiday.

The Crescent club held a musical and literary entertainment at its rooms in Wynman's Exchange and light refreshments were served. Les Miserables held open house in their quarters in Barristers hall and with the Crescent club across the street in burning red fire and sky-rockets.

The Young Men's Catholic association also celebrated at its rooms in Barristers hall, and between the two organizations the old building rang with merriment. The Negunes and other social clubs observed the night with social amenities in their respective halls.

Celebration at Lakeview

While the city put up no money for a celebration the management of Lakeview arranged for a big program and advertised it extensively, while a committee known as the Merrimack Amusement company of Boston ran a show at the Fair Grounds. According to the Sun, over 10,000 people were present at Lakeview, while a crowd numbering between 7,000 and 10,000 took in the events at the Fair Grounds.

Concerning the former the old Sun had the following:
"The morning dawned rather gloomy and gave indications of rain. At 8 o'clock a light drizzling rain began to fall and continued for a couple of hours. Nevertheless, preparations were not suspended or delayed on the events at the 5 o'clock and at Lakeview. From 5 o'clock on, the street around the company had all they could do and a little more to accommodate parties going to either place. The passengers to Lakeview became more and more numerous until 2:30 o'clock, when the propelling cars became stuck. The passengers were transferred to another car and after a delay of half an hour the trip was continued. Supt. Noyes, Mr. Crowley and a number of electrical experts set things right as speedily as possible, but soon after, another car and in attempting to tow this car a motor was burned out. There were no other slight mishaps and delays but nothing could discourage the people from going. They thronged into the cars so quickly that there was scarcely breathing space and some were tightly packed. At the pavilion it was impossible to accommodate the vast throng and the attendants at the counter and in the cafes were unable to serve half of their patrons. On arriving at Lakeview most of the crowd went over to Mountain Rock to see the ball games, the Concorda defeating the game by a score of 15 to 5 and after the game a grand rush for the boats. The officers had all the time to prevent the boats from being overcrowded, but the two vessels with hard work succeeded in a few hours in transporting all who wanted to leave the grove."

How times have changed! Now one can go to Lakeview within half an hour for a nickel and without a hitch. The first year of the electric to Lakeview was a memorable one. The system was entirely new to those operating it, while also it lacked many facilities that have since come into vogue. Its popularity was instantaneous and its promoters' breakdown hopes of its promoters. Breakdowns were frequent and it was not unusual for a car to be delayed for hours on the road, but, strange to relate, they always took the delays good-naturedly. Today, Mountain Rock is a barren and abandoned place where long ago it was a mecca of pleasure seekers, with its zoo and other attractions. The people of Tyngsboro, in which Mountain Rock is located, put the place out of commission by refusing the resort a license to square accounts with the street railway company for not allowing a five-cent fare to that town, on the other side of the river. It was a charming

HOW TO HEAL SKIN-DISEASES

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, reliable and inexpensive home treatment for people suffering with eczema, ringworm, rashes and similar itching, burning skin troubles. At any reliable druggist's get a jar of Resinol Ointment and a cake of Resinol Soap. These will not cost a bit more than seventy-five cents. With the Resinol Soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the Resinol Ointment, and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again.

spot in its early days, with its grand old pines and shady nooks and its pleasures have been greatly missed.

The Boat Races

One of the principal attractions of the Lakeview show of quarter of a century ago was the program of boat racing, for that sport was then in the heyday of its popularity. The professional shell race took place in the forenoon, and William J. G. Myers, formerly of the Sun, but now connected with the Associated Press, officiated as timekeeper, while Charles H. Knapp, the well known bank official and one of Lowell's crack oarsmen of days gone by, was referee. The following entered and drew positions: John Tweed, Joseph Lambert, Henry J. McDonald, Webster Wilcox, Hugh F. Mellen, J. A. Whiteaker, Charles Lambert and Daniel Gallagher. The course was about three miles, or twice the length of the lake. There were six starters but the contest lay between Tweed and Mellen, who kept close together most of the way, and at one point interlocked oars. Tweed was the first to break away and led the lead to the finish. Mellen claimed a foul on the first turn but it was not allowed by Referee Knapp. Time, 17 minutes, 30 seconds. Prizes, $50 and $25.

The single scull race was won by John Cosgrove, with Edward Donnelly second and Charles Hartwell third.

At 1:05 the sailing canoe race was on. The starters were Dr. P. C. Gage, in the "Owl," Paul Butler, in the "Fly," Ralph F. Brazer, in the "Eldo," and David S. Goddard, in the "Blanche." This was a pretty race and was won by Mr. Butler, with Dr. Gage second and Mr. Brazer third.

An Unexpected Pyrotechnic Display

Says the old Sun: "About 5000 people remained to witness the fireworks, but owing to an accident, they were disappointed. The exhibition was to have been given by Wells of Boston, from a float on the lake, but after a few pieces had been set off, a spark got into the chest and ignited all the rockets. In an instant the rockets, wheels, Roman candles, bombs and other matters, that cost and how it is proposed to meet the cost. Honey-moon in a Balloon

A marriage followed by a honeymoon trip and the clouds in a balloon was an added attraction at the Fair Grounds' show. The old Sun reported the events at this place as follows: "The amusement at the Fair Grounds afforded pleasure to between 7,000 and 10,000 people, and the entire program was advertised in the Sun. The burlesque ball game was much enjoyed and the equestrian feats by Nellie and Charles Little were quite exciting. There was a jockey race which was won by a young son of Mr. Puffer. The chief object of attraction was the balloon ascension which took place at 4:30 o'clock. The marriage of Christopher J. Stowell and Miss Lottie J. Anderson took place on a platform near the balloon, and was performed by Pastor W. W. Downs of Boston. The bridesmaid was Miss Effie Dean of Boston and the best man, Mr. C. A. Smith of Lowell. The only persons who went up in the balloon were Aerolus Allen, an assistant and the bride couple. Mr. Stowell brought with him two carrier pigeons which he released on the voyage. The balloon landed in West Newbury at 6:30 o'clock and the party had time to drive to Haverhill to catch the train for Lowell. There was no hitch or accident of any kind and Mr. and Mrs. Stowell expressed themselves as well pleased with the trip."

THE OLD TIMER

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., JULY 2.—The culmination of a series of musical festivals held here during the week, in connection with the biennial meeting of the National Federation of Musical Clubs, was reached last night with the first performance of "The American Grand Opera," "Fairyland."

The opera, which won a $10,000 prize offered by several wealthy citizens of Los Angeles, is the work of Horatio Parker, professor of music at Yale university, and Brian Hooker, of New York.

CONFERENCE AT VIENNA

INDUSTRIAL LEADERS OF GER-MANY AND AUSTRIA DISCUSS ECONOMIC UNION

ZURICH, via London, July 2, 2:23 a. m.—At the conference at Vienna of the industrial leaders of Germany and Austria to discuss means for bridging about a closer economic union between the two countries, Dr. Reiser, president of the Hansa league, pointed out that the allies of the quadruple entente not only had entered into political treaties but had concluded a number of economic arrangements. One of the most important of these, he asserted, provides that none of them may conclude a commercial treaty with Germany or Austria without the consent of the others.

LONDON, July 2, 2:23 a. m.—Commenting on the Austro-German economic conference, the Post in a column editorial article urges the allies to take adequate steps to meet after the war "the menace of German economic penetration." The Post suggests a system of preferential tariffs against Germany.

ABDUCTION IS CHARGED

16-YEAR-OLD GIRL, MISSING THREE WEEKS, BROUGHT HOME IN COMPANY WITH A MAN

BOSTON, July 2.—Annie Hohmann, 16 years old, who disappeared from her home at 7 East Lothrop street, three weeks ago, was returned to her relatives last night by agents of the Boston Society for the Care of Girls. They brought her from New York in company with Harris Emery, 23, who, it was charged, was the man who abducted her when she was 15 years old.

Emery, a married man, lodged at the Hohmann home since his arrest. He was charged with having seduced the girl and with having conspired with her to elope.

He had gone to New York about a month ago. The girl received letters urging her to come there and, since then, she has written to her mother asking her to follow. She had secured support for her mother if she came to New York.

Mrs. Hohmann became ill as she was about to go to her daughter and agents of the Boston Society for the Care of Girls went in her place. They caused the arrest of Emery in New York. He protested his innocence of any wrong doing and readily consented to return and face charges of abduction. Inspectors Pelton and McLaughlin arrested the man at the South station and brought him to police headquarters.

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

The Electrical Workers' union will meet tonight in the union rooms in the Pike building.

Tonight Organizer McMahon leaves for Fall River and tomorrow he will visit textile organizations in Andover and East Wareham.

Local 36, Cotton Weavers union, will hold a meeting in Trades & Labor hall tomorrow afternoon to transact important business.

Arrangements are under way for an open meeting for Polish Textile Workers, and an endeavor will be made to bring a Polish speaker to this city on that date.

The Ring Spinner Fixers have reported progress on plans for the open meeting to be held next Wednesday night. A committee has been received in which he promises to be on hand to address the meeting on that date.

Organizer Thomas F. McMahon of the United Textile Workers union arrived in this city last night after attending several meetings of textile organizations in Lewiston, Me., and Ipswich, Mass.

In a few weeks several old labor men will go out of office in their respective organizations and their places will be taken by young blood. Here's hoping the new leaders prove as wise and progressive as the old officers.

James Burns of the A. G. Tolland Co. says everything is in readiness for the big parade on Monday and that the Princeton club has a member all prepared to make a speech of acceptance for the first prize in the slambang division, which he says will surely go to the Centralville organization.

Morton Walker, chairman of the outing to be held by the clerks employed by the J. L. Chaffoux Co., says the coming affair will prove an unprecedented success. Mr. Walker is being helped out in every way possible by all of the clerks, and Mr. Harry Chaffoux is also active in the preparations for the affair.

Although the labor men will not participate in the parade on Monday on account of their celebration coming in a few months they are heart and soul with the officials in charge of the pageant and most of them, particularly the members of the Trades & Labor council, are doing everything possible to encourage organizations to enter to make the parade a great success.

Railway Carmen

The Brotherhood of Railway Carmen held a brief session in the union quarters in Odd Fellows building last night, but only business of minor importance was transacted.

Painters' Union

The Painters' union held its regular weekly meeting in Carpenters' hall, Russell building, last night with President George Fitch in the chair. A number of committee reports were read and accepted and a list of routine business was transacted.

Local 319, Machinists

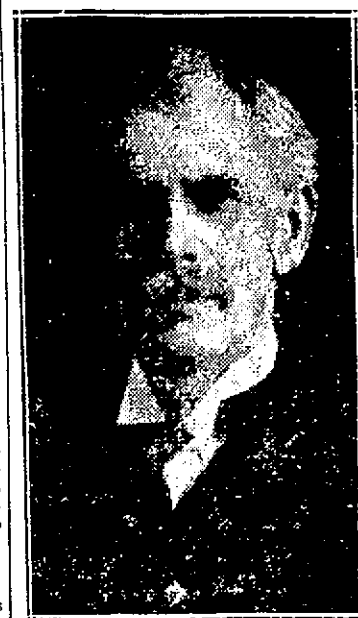

The downpour of rain did not dampen the ardor of the members of the Machinists' union employed at the Boston & Maine repair shop any, and there was a large attendance at the meeting of their organization in Odd Fellows building, Middle street, last night. Considerable business of importance was transacted, two new members were admitted and several applications for membership were received. A number of reports were read and referred to the proper committees and the secretary-treasurer reported the union to be in excellent financial condition.

Trades & Labor Council

The Trades & Labor council held its regular bi-monthly meeting in the union quarters in Middle street last night with President Frank Warnock in the chair. A number of credentials from delegates to the organization recently chosen were received, and the matter of a celebration on Labor day was discussed and laid over until the next meeting on July 15. At that time a number of committees will be appointed to make arrangements for the celebration. The grievance committee submitted its report on a number of matters on hand and a lengthy report denoting progress by the labor forward committee was read.

A number of communications relative to organization were received from the American Federation of Labor, and considerable business of a routine nature was transacted.

GRADUATION EXERCISES

Lowell Commercial College Sends Out Class of 80 Graduates—New Man on Teaching Staff

The school year of the Lowell Commercial college was brought to a very pleasant closing last evening in the hall of the school in the Grosvenor block when the fifth annual graduation class was given a banquet by LEO F. Kimball, president of the school. Preceding the presentation of diplomas it was by far the most pretentious graduation in the history of the school.

Robert F. Marden, president of the Lowell board of trade, was the speaker of the occasion and gave a short, comprehensive talk to the graduates on the sort of life which they are about to enter upon. His remarks were eagerly absorbed by the young men and women and his advice was heartily applauded.

Mr. Kimball, president of the school, acted as toastmaster during the evening and proved a very witty speaker. In his address to the graduates in the institution, spoke to the graduates along the lines of thoroughness. Mr. Spence stated that he would not be with the school another year but that he would always remember and appreciate the pleasant associations which he experienced while a teacher there.

Earle R. Kimball, the school's new treasurer, was called upon for a short talk and responded with an outline of next year's curriculum. Mr. Kimball stated that he would be an active member of the school's teaching staff next year.

The new treasurer is a Lowell man, having prepared for Harvard in the local public schools. After graduating from Harvard Mr. Kimball entered the Banks Business college of Philadelphia, where he specialized in the various model-office branches taught in the Lowell Commercial college. Mr. Kimball stated emphatically that he had found no better preparatory school for business in any of the larger cities.

Mr. Kimball said that next year several innovations would be made in his departments which will be sure to lift the school far ahead of its competitors. Mayor Murphy presented the diploma after giving the class an earnest talk on the business life which faces them.

Will the Fourth of July campers have lifeboats?
J. F. Donohoe, Donoyan bldg., real estate and insurance. Telephone.

This week is "Quarter Week" at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

Yesterday's rain not only gave all a good dousing, but it also broke all previous records.

They'll soon be changing the name of Merrimack Square to Society Square.

There's some class to the Fourth of July decorations on the bank buildings of the city.

The slambang, like the old times, will be the grand feature of the parade. All up for the slambang.

The man who said: "Rain before 7, clear at 11" should pass the dice to the next player, as he loses.

"Joe" Murphy the well known printer is home from Milford, N. H., where he is employed, for the Fourth.

Get ready to receive a letter from your country cousin this week. It might mean a bid for a Fourth of July visit.

Discussing the bridge question or the cost of sewers would make a good feature for the slambang division of the parade.

Fifty years ago our fathers and grandfathers were just returning from the Civil war after smelling powder for five years.

Quite a number of henneries have been drowned since the rain started and the ducklets that could not swim have been drowned.

The small boy is out on the war-path willing to do any kind of errands or work, from picking cherries to selling junk to get money for the Fourth.

The other day two men stole an auto in this city and abandoned it when they got to Nashua. Not because it was a Ford, but because the police were after them.

Jimmie Gallagher is the biggest man in town in the estimation of Young America and will be until after the Fourth. It's a case of let 'er go Gallagher.

Charlie Young, the decorator, has more than a hundred orders for decorating stores on the main streets. He's the busiest man in town, he will be able to sleep or rest until the Fourth.

Peter Mealey, the decorator, is doing stunts in the city this week that make one hold his breath with fear. He'll take a jump out of a window and drop to the sidewalk. He is a veritable stinkie climber.

When the governor comes to our city on the Fourth to deliver his oration on the North Chelmsford we hope that he'll wear a pair of green glasses so that he'll imagine that the grass is green on the common.

Supt. Welch asks that Lowell residents witness the parade by witnesses. The chief wants them to see it in the outlying parts of the route of parade, leaving the downtown section to the out-of-town visitors. The downtown section will be wired off, while the outlying district will not be.

When out looking at the parade don't, on your life, go without leaving at least one person on guard at your home as an uninvited friend, otherwise known as the sneak-thief, will be in town for that occasion.

Chop suey will be the favorite dish for Fourth of July.

Another word of warning. Don't forget to secure a seat from which to view that parade on Monday. Major Klittridge estimates that the parade will take about two hours and a half, and another hour to that for unforeseen happenings and the fact that it is not exclusively a military affair and you'll come within an hour's actual time that the parade will take.

Garfield Baker who knows something about building bridges over running water and James P. Dunnigan who has had experience with drinking water systems as a member of the North Chelmsford water commission found themselves up against a new kind of water problem yesterday when they were among the passengers on South Chelmsford car, numbered 131, which leaked badly, to the discomfort of said passengers. The car is what is known as "closed" car, but rain which came through the roof upon the unoffending heads of the passengers.

An old time friend blew into town this morning, in the gentle person of W. D. Coxe, advance agent for Ranch 101, which is to appear here with 1000 head of cattle on a feature on July 15th. Mr. Coxe is one of the oldest advance men left in the business. His contemporaries being Dexter K. Fellows, who is still with Barnum & Bailey, and Major Burke, who for years was ahead of the Buffalo Bill show, and who today, loyal to his old friend to the last, is with Col. Cody in a minor attraction now playing in the west.

Mr. Coxe signed a contract with The Sun over 20 years ago for the first appearance of Ringling Bros. show in Lowell, and he has come here every few years ever since. He has a wonderful memory for faces and names and greeted his old friends of The Sun and by name as though he were a frequent visitor here. He reports that Ranch 101 is drawing a fine business, due in a great measure to the presence of Jess Willard. Mr. Coxe is often mistaken for a minister but although he could preach in an emergency, he says the show business pays better.

MILK PROBLEM

Chamber of Commerce Committee About Ready to Report

BOSTON, July 2.—Co-operation among producers, distributors and consumers, as well as recommendations that the dairy industry in the New England states be standardized so that the maximum point of efficiency in production might be reached, will be the salient points in a report to be issued by the Boston chamber of commerce committee on agriculture. This report, according to Sec. Harry F. Orcutt, will be made public in the next two weeks, and will contain the results arrived at by the committee's recent extensive inquiry into the milk problem in New England.

The committee, of which Theodore N. Vail is chairman, began its inquiry into the milk situation last year. Three phases of the question were considered: The production, distribution, and transportation of milk.

The report will explain the inquiries into the problems confronting the producers were made through hearings conducted in all the principal cities of New England. A mass of testimony was secured, and according to members of the committee who officiated at the various hearings, the chief problem was the production of milk.

Proper standardization. All this will be set forth in the document now being prepared.

The committee found that lack of standardization resulted in varying costs in plants of the same capacity, and prices obtained by the producers varied. The report of this as disclosed by further hearings was to shift more or less of the additional cost on the shoulders of the consumers.

Cost of Distribution Heavy
The next question taken up was the distribution of milk. On this subject a number of hearings were held in this city and a large number of dealers, wholesale and retail, appeared and gave testimony.

Conclusions arrived at by the committee and embodied in the report show that much of the expense of the milk when it reaches the consumer is due to the cost of distribution. In this connection Wilfrid Wheeler, secretary of the state board of agriculture, in an interview, declared that milk could be obtained by the consumer much more cheaply if a system were devised where the delivering of milk by more than one milkman on one route was eliminated. He suggested in the course of the interview and to the chamber committee the advisability of considering some method whereby one milkman would carry the different brands of milk wanted by the customers on his route, and in this way reduce the distribution cost to a minimum.

The transportation problem was attacked by the committee at a gathering of the railroad officials and milk producers recently held in the South station. The question of milk shipments from distant and nearby points, proportional charges, carload and proportional loads, were taken up at length.

Proposes Co-operation
Complaint was made to the committee by the producers that on matter of proportional issues, the nearby shippers had the advantage of those from more distant points. The point raised was that the distant point shippers had additional charges imposed after the shipment arrived at the freight terminals and that refrigeration of the long haul shipments was also a charge which made competition with the nearby shippers more or less difficult.

"The transportation problem was the hardest of the three for the committee to solve. The railroad officials maintained that their rates are governed by the rulings of the Interstate Commerce act and that they are powerless to make rate discriminations, such discriminations it being pointed out, made, would be in violation of the Interstate Commerce act.

On this phase of the milk problem the committee in its report recommends co-operation between the producers in New England, has not yet been submitted to chamber's executive committee for its approval.

STATE SATISFIED THAT EVELYN WILL APPEAR

Policemen Who Arrested Thaw
After Murder of White Called to Testify

NEW YORK, July 2.—Justice Hendrick and the jury at Harry K. Thaw's sanity trial had heard most of the state's documentary evidence when court re-convened today. Counsel for the state brought their witnesses in the expectation of calling the first of them this afternoon. Policemen who arrested Thaw immediately after he shot Stanford White were among those waiting to testify.

Satisfied that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw will be here early next week in response to a subpoena calling her as a witness, the state's attorneys had abandoned their preparations to obtain an attachment to compel her presence in court.

Policemen Called

After the introduction of further documentary evidence, the state called as its first witness, James M. Barrett, a policeman assigned to the Tenderloin police station on the night Harry Thaw was taken there after the killing of Stanford White. He gave testimony intended by the state to prove that Thaw while in his cell was under a delusion that he heard the voices of little girls screaming.

"Thaw asked me two or three times," said the witness, "where are those little girls screaming? I told him there were no little girls. Some women had been arrested and one was shouting and carrying on. I told him they were women, and he said, 'Oh, no; they're not. They're little girls. I hear them screaming.' He asked me who was beating and abusing them."

"Thaw, when brought into the station, said the witness, had his head thrown back and his eyes were staring."

"Very Irrational"

Thomas F. Lynch, on duty at the police station the following day, said that Thaw had talked to him also about little girls.

Thaw's conduct when he was forcibly

GERMANS DRIVEN BACK BY FRENCH

Attempt to Break Through to Verdun Checked — Teutons Continue Advance on Warsaw — Germans Sink
Five More British Vessels

The Germans are hammering away at the French lines in the Argonne region in the apparent hope of breaking through and reaching Verdun. They gained some ground there on June 30, and the latest French statement shows a further attempt to advance through violent attacks; the official statement asserts that the Germans were driven back.

The repulse of German attacks in the forest of Le Pretre to the northwest of Nancy and on the French positions along the road from Abain Angres where the grenadiers delivered the assault, also is reported.

London observers of military movements do not accept the belief that the Germans as yet are withdrawing their troops from the eastern front with the object of sending them to the western front.

In the British capital, it is believed that the Teutonic allies desire first the capture of Warsaw. In this field the Austro-Germans continue their sweeping advances.

Five British Ships Sunk

Five more British vessels, three of them steamers of good size, have fallen victims to German submarine warfare. Evidence of the prosecution of this warfare on a large scale has recently come to hand with frequency.

Loss of life, however, has been exceptional, being confined mostly to the case of the Arcturion, a British mail steamer, which was sunk by a German submarine in the Adriatic.

The sinking of this craft indicates that the casualties among them were inflicted while the steamer was in sight after having been signalled to stop.

Teutons Push On

In the fighting in the east there is no indication, even in the Russian official statements, that there is any halt in the sweep of the Teutonic armies northward and eastward from Lemberg. Further south, however, the troops of Grand Duke Nicholas have made what looks like a determined stand along the line of the Gnila Lipa river.

Austro-German accounts tell of victories even in that sector of the curving eastern front, but the Russians deny the reverses there were serious.

To Abandon Galicia

German observers believe the Russians are preparing to abandon Galicia and attribute the desperate fighting north of Halicz to a desire to give time for the preparation of strong defensive positions beyond the border.

Reports from neutral sources declare that the Russians have recently received new supplies of high explosive shells which have enabled them, in their stand and in their retreat, to swell enormously the casualty lists of the assailing armies.

Austro-Italian Front

The latest statements from the headquarters of the Teutonic allies indicate that there has recently been desperate fighting along the Austro-Italian front. The main effort of the Italians to advance seems to have been northeast of Montefalco in the Isontro region and the invaders are admitted to have made slight advances. The series of assaults as a whole failed, however, the Austrians claim.

Snatched Inch by Inch

The Italian war office contents itself with claiming ground snatched "inch by inch" from the Austrian defenders, while along the rest of the front the process of consolidating positions and making up preparations by the Austrians for defense is proceeding satisfactorily.

Greek Bands Advance

Further reports of occupation of Albanian territory have been received. Greek bands having moved toward Berat, occupying villages along the way.

This follows closely the recent occupation of Scutari by the Montenegrins and the previous Serbian move into Albania.

AUSTRO-GERMANS ARE MAKING
EVERY EFFORT TO CAPTURE WARSAW

LONDON, July 2, 12 noon.—Evidently bent upon a decisive victory against the Russians, the Germans are not yet sending troops to the western front, but, assisted by their Austrian allies, are making every effort to capture Warsaw.

Berlin claims further advances by the great Austro-German armies in Galicia, and Field Marshal von Mackensen is pushing steadily ahead between the Vistula and Bug rivers.

Activity in Arras Region

Artillery activity continues unabated in the Arras region of France, but as yet there are no signs of an infantry offensive on that front, although it is scarcely possible that so many thousands of shells are being fired without some such objective.

In the Argonne region the Germans on June 30 gained some ground, though at the expense of heavy losses.

In the Dardanelles

A further report regarding the Dardanelles operations claims that the Colonial troops have not been checked in their effort to advance, but that they have been used merely to keep the Turks on their front too busy to send reserves to that portion of the line where the Anglo-French troops made an advance of 1000 yards.

Press Comment on Armenian

The London morning newspapers generally print editorial articles on the sinking of the steamship Armenian by a German submarine, the trend of the discussion being that the relations between the United States and Germany are bound to be further strained by the latest of German submarine exploits. The articles, however, evidently were written before the status of the Leyland liner had been settled.

Zeppelin Destroyed

Amsterdam is responsible for the report that a Zeppelin dirigible balloon was accidentally destroyed by an explosion today when leaving its shed at Brussels.

35 British Ships Sunk in Month

During the month of June 35 British ships aggregating slightly more than 35,000 tons were sunk by submarines or mines, with the loss of 111 lives.

SOUTH COMMON MIDWAY

CLERK FLAHERTY BUSY WITH THE FAKERS WHO WILL BE DO-ING BUSINESS ON THE MIDWAY

Preparatory to the opening of the great midway on the South common in connection with the Fourth of July celebration, Clerk John J. Flaherty of the license commission is busy issuing licenses and permits for the numerous "fakers" and "barkers," and to date 52 of these documents have been given out and paid for. The fees range from one to five dollars, according to the style of the instrument used to afford amusement.

Judging from the variety of applications made of the features will be missing at this year's midway. Already licenses have been granted for Ferris wheels, merry-go-rounds, refreshment stands, Japanese ball games, bucket games, monkey marble game, doll, candy, teddy bear and pillow wheels, fish pond, cat games and others. The monkey game seems to be a new one here. Marbles containing numbers are sold among the crowd and a set with corresponding numbers is thrown into a ring. The monkey picks up a marble and the holder of the lucky number on the outside of the ring wins a gold watch, or whatever the prize may be.

STATE OFFICERS BUSY PROBING THE MURDER

The House Thoroughly Searched
This Afternoon — Statements by Comatos Proven False

The state officers are now working in conjunction with the local police upon the murder of John Demos, in Elm st., on Wednesday night, and this afternoon a complete search was made of the house and premises for the weapon or any other article that might cast light on the tragedy. The great question is where the money of the murdered man has gone.

Like the money taken from Olinas, it may never be located. It would seem that the weapon might be found and identified if the murder were committed by any of the parties interviewed by the police.

Counsel Retained by Relatives
James F. Owens has been retained as counsel for Comatos. Both Mr. Owens, a Greek interpreter and Evangelos Papastergiou, a Market street grocer, in whose hands the case was first placed by relatives of the suspected man made a trip to the Lowell jail and conversed with Comatos for about five minutes this morning.

State Inspector Here
Thomas Eustis, a member of the state police, came to Lowell yesterday afternoon as a representative of the district attorney's office. After a

VICTIM OF "FRAME UP"

Lawyer Says Bridgie Webber
Told Him Becker Had Nothing to do With Rosenthal Murder

NEW YORK, July 2.—Bridgie Webber, one of the three self-confessed accomplices in the plot which resulted in the killing of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, has said, according to his attorney, H. T. Marshall, that Charles Becker had absolutely nothing to do with the murder.

"Becker," said Mr. Marshall, "had absolutely nothing to do with the murder of Rosenthal. Bridgie Webber, when he employed me as his counsel, at the first trial, admitted this to me and said that he and the others were perjuring themselves in order to save their skins. When Webber told me that, I told him to get another lawyer. "From that time on my mouth was sealed. I could not speak because of professional obligation. But had I not been convinced of Becker's innocence I would not have aligned myself with the lawyers in his defense at the second trial. I never would have entered the case had I not known, from what Webber told me, that Becker was deliberately 'framed up' by Charles Vallon, Jack Rose and Sam Schepps."

and at the Middlesex Trust company $25,000.

City Cancels Obligation

Notes against the city amounting to $150,000 came due yesterday and have been paid. The notes represented $250,000 in 1913 taxes and $200,000 in 1914 taxes. The notes have been paid and the general treasury is $4000 to the good as the amount was collected in excess of what was required to liquidate the indebtedness. The $4000 is booked as in favor of the general tax account.

The Insurance Money

The insurance money on the Memorial building is coming in every day and the mayor stated today that he expected the last of it would be in next week. This means the insurance on the building and contents and the money will be used for the renovation and reconstruction of Memorial hall.

To Review the Parade

Grand Army veterans will review the parade on Monday from an enclosure in front of the Memorial building. It was stated today that none would be allowed within the lines except those in uniform or wearing the badge of the G. A. R.

Many Chauffeurs Examined

A class of twenty would-be chauffeurs took the Massachusetts highway commission examination at city hall this forenoon. The examination was held in the aldermanic chamber and the examiners were Messrs. Bliss and Bonzagni.

Workmen's Compensation Act

An arbitration hearing under the workmen's compensation act will be held at city hall on Wednesday morning, July 7, at 10:30 o'clock. City Messenger Monahan received notice of the hearing today and gave out that it would be held in the aldermanic chamber.

Expense Creeping Up

Major Kittredge was a caller at Mayor Murphy's office this forenoon and the mayor reported that the cost of the celebration up to date is $4135. The mayor also stated that at least two moving picture companies would have men here to take pictures of the parade.

ARCHBISHOP QUIGLEY NEAR END

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 2.—Continued improvement in the condition of Archbishop Quigley of Chicago, who is critically ill here, was announced at 5 o'clock this morning. Temperature and pulse were better and the prelate's mind was clear. The change set in late yesterday afternoon a few hours after the patient suffered a second stroke of paralysis. It was stated this morning.

At noon the archbishop's heart action became perceptibly weaker and at the same time his temperature took a sudden drop. These symptoms were regarded by the attending physicians as indicating the approach of the end.

CITY HALL NEWS

Tuberculosis Dispensary
Opened—Parade
Expenses are $4135

The board of health has opened a tuberculosis dispensary in the basement at city hall. The days for examination will be Tuesdays from 4 to 5 o'clock p. m., and Thursdays from 7 to 9 o'clock p. m. Dr. Francis A. Finnegan will be on hand during these hours and will be assisted by the board of health nurse, Miss Bertha Mulvey. The establishment of a tuberculosis dispensary is in accordance with chapter 103 of the acts of 1914.

Distribution of City's Money

The city's money is being more evenly distributed in the banks these days than has been the case in former years. The city is now using four banks; the Union, Lowell Trust, Old Lowell, and the Middlesex Trust company. W. W. Duncan, commissioner of finance, stated today that there's about $250,000 of the city's money at the Union bank and the city uses this as its active account. At the Lowell Trust company the city has a deposit of about $125,000, at the Old Lowell bank $100,000

KEEP HUERTA FROM CROSSING THE BORDER

Four Different Ways of Detaining Dictator Considered by U. S. Officials—
Red Cross Relief Expedition Now
Within Carranza Lines

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Gen. Victoriano Huerta, former dictator and president of Mexico whose defiance of President Wilson led to the seizure of Vera Cruz by American marines and bluejackets will not be permitted to enter Mexico from the United States at a time when his presence would be a further menace to the plans of this government to restore peace. If the federal government can prevent it.

Determination to keep Huerta from crossing the southern border of the United States, thus complicating the present Mexican situation with a new revolution, reached the point today where four different ways of detaining the former Mexican chiefman were under consideration by various departments of the United States government.

Secretary Lansing in referring to the receipt of a formal request for the extradition of Huerta from the military authorities of the state of Chihuahua, intimated that the federal government could, if it chose, withdraw its present charges of violating American neutrality laws and surrender Huerta to the Villa commander at Juarez.

Secretary Wilson of the department of labor has under consideration a plan for deporting Huerta to Spain, under the immigration laws covering the return of undesirable aliens.

May Use Military Force

Gen. Funston of the department of Texas, has orders to use the military forces at his disposal to prevent Huerta from crossing the line while at liberty on bail.

The department of justice is gathering evidence for the prosecution of Huerta under federal status. Until the hearing on July 12, Gen. Huerta will be kept from re-entering Mexico by the joint efforts of agents of the department of justice and the troops of the American border patrol. Fearing that Huerta might forfeit his bond of $15,000 and cross at some secluded point on the Mexican border and join some of the bands believed to be awaiting him on Mexican territory.

WOMAN RUN OVER BY WAGON MAY NOT RECOVER FROM SHOCK —HER LEG FRACTURED

The many friends of Mrs. Bynon, mother of W. S. Bynon, the well known Bridge street grocer, will be grieved to learn that she is confined to her home, 153 Sixth street, suffering with a fracture of the right leg, sustained Monday evening, when she was run over by a wagon in Bridge street.

Mrs. Bynon, who has passed her 70th birthday anniversary, was walking across the street near Merrimack square, according to witnesses, when a wagon containing two young men came along at a fair rate of speed. The wagon struck the aged woman, throwing her to the ground and one of the rear wheels passed over her leg. The injured woman was removed to her home and was treated by Dr. Howard W. Jewett. It is said that the driver of the wagon did not even stop his horse to find out if the woman had been injured. The names of the young men in the wagon could not be learned. Mrs. Bynon was resting comfortably this afternoon, but owing to her advanced age it is feared the accident may have serious results.

REFUSES TO RECOGNIZE FOREIGN CLAIMS ON AMERICANS BORN OF NATURALIZED PARENTS

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Children born on American soil, whose parents have become naturalized American citizens, cannot be classed as possessing dual nationality and are not considered liable to military service under a foreign flag, the state department made clear in a statement issued yesterday. "While the United States always has recognized," the department says, "the existence of dual nationality in the case of children born in the United States of alien parents or children born in a foreign country of American parents, it does not concede that dual nationality exists in case of a foreign-born parent who has acquired naturalization as a United States citizen."

While the state department extends whatever protection it can to persons of dual nationality who enter the other country by which they are claimed, it does not assure them immunity from military service.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

No better staged society photoplay has ever been presented locally than "Her Own Way," which was shown twice yesterday at the B. F. Keith theatre, and which will be given twice daily the remainder of the week. The necessities used in the production run all the way from a magnificent modern stone palace in New York to swans and peacocks in the Italian garden. The wealth of rich settings simply shows to what lengths the Metro company will go in its desire to present a piece properly. Florence Reed, one of the best known native actresses, appears in the very trying role of "Georgiana Carley," whose fortune was squandered by a reckless brother and who was literally forced into agreeing to become the wife of a strong-willed schemer, notwithstanding the fact that she loved a regular army officer. By constantly intriguing, the schemer gained her assent to the marriage, but her lover returning just as the ceremony was taking place, she left the altar and went to him. This scene is highly dramatic, and it will cause an audience to hold its breath. Four other and shorter pictures are also shown, including "The rattling good George Ade fable," "Tonight the battle of Gettysburg" will be shown in motion pictures and all veterans of the Civil war are invited to be the guests of Manager Pickett. The performance will start promptly at 7 o'clock.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Two five act brand new Paramount features constitute the chief attraction at the Merrimack Square theatre today and tomorrow. One of these, "Chimmie Fadden," a heart-rending Irish-American comedy drama, holds a place of honor among the best photoplays. It is playing in New York city's largest theatre and drawing huge crowds at a $1 admission price. It is a remarkable fact that Lowell people may see this picture at 5c and 10c prices. Victor Moore, the internationally famous character actor, appearing in the title role, furnishes the greater part of both fun and pathos, and there is a delightful intermingling of both. "Chimmie" as a butler presents one of the funniest scenes ever shown on the screen. The manner in which he acts the part of the green servant is calculated to dispel the worst case of blues. On the other hand, his dramatic ability is brought out in his acting of the part of the elder brother, who shielding his brother and mother from shame is ready to sacrifice himself. Don't miss this wonderful human photoplay. Then, of course, you will not deprive yourself of the opportunity of seeing Blanche Sweet, charming older films. The most prominent is the third episode of "The Romance of Elaine," featuring Pearl White, Lionel Barrymore, Creighton Hale and the mysterious Mr. X. This serial is a sequel to the well known and nation wide popular "Exploits of Elaine." "The Path of the Rainbow," a three part play, "Rivals," a two reel Italian play, and a comedy with Charles Chaplin are the other features on the program. A great end-of-the-week show, which will bring praises from every quarter. Great shows have been booked for next Sunday and 4th of July performances.

ROYAL THEATRE

A delightful combination show of serials and features has been arranged by the Royal theatre management for today and tomorrow. Four features will be shown, besides other films. The most prominent is the third episode of "The Romance of Elaine," featuring Pearl White, Lionel Barrymore, Creighton Hale and the mysterious Mr. X. This serial is a sequel to the well known and nation wide popular "Exploits of Elaine." "The Path of the Rainbow," a three part play, "Rivals," a two reel Italian play, and a comedy with Charles Chaplin are the other features on the program. A great end-of-the-week show, which will bring praises from every quarter. Great shows have been booked for next Sunday and 4th of July performances.

LAKEVIEW PARK

Two band concerts at Lakeview park Sunday, July 4th, 1915 by the Lowell Military band, Wm. Regan, conductor.

The afternoon program: March, Our Republic. Overture, Tancred and the Golden Apple. Selection, Remick's Hits 1915. Cornet solo.

E. A. Mores. Concert Waltz, Wending of the Winds. Selection, China. Xylophone solo.

Popular numbers: (a) I am on My Way to Dublin Bay. (b) Come Over to Dover. Selection, Stern's All Star Medley. March, Boston Commanders.

The evening program: March, Swastika. Overture, Orpheus. Selection, Sunny South. Cornet solo.

E. A. Mores. Selection, Bohemian Girl. Selection, Remick's 1915. Solo for xylophone.

Popular numbers: (a) It's a Long Way to Tipperary. (b) When You Were a Tulip and I Were a Rose. Selection, Joy to the World. March, Col. Logans.

CANOBIE LAKE PARK

Tonight, tomorrow and Sunday will afford the music lovers of this city their last opportunity to enjoy the splendid concerts of the Boston Opera Singers at Canobie Lake Park, theatre which have drawn so many to this popular recreation park the past week. The present new program which started Thursday will be continued until Sunday. Another entire new selection of numbers will be presented closing the engagement in a blaze of operatic splendor for all.

Next week the theatre will be devoted to a period of photoplay and for the special feature the management will offer what is conceded to be the greatest motion picture ever presented upon the screen, the Vitagraph production of Hall Caine's superb love story "The Christian" in eight parts and 500 scenes. The entire new cast of Vitagraph Players is headed by Miss Edith Storey and Earle Williams.

"The Christian" as a novel was a great success. Later, it was dramatized and it brought fame and wealth to Miss Viola Allen. Its present form is its best, inasmuch as the talky dialogue of the novel and drama have been eliminated and the many scenes which were omitted in the stage version are utilized in the picturized version.

Sunday afternoon between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock the theatre will be open with free admission to all and the Lowell Military band will offer another brilliant band concert, while the open-air theatre is swept by the cooling lake breezes.

BIG LAWN FETE

Plans Completed for Sacred Heart "At Home" Tomorrow

The good old weather man seems to have done his part in emptying the clouds of their rain that the Sacred Heart parishioners and their friends may have a good day for their "at home" on the parish grounds tomorrow. Never have such elaborate preparations been made for the annual town fair, and never have conditions been more auspicious for a good time than at the present moment.

The gates will open at 1 o'clock. The fete will be a great affair, with its unique attractions of hoop-in, wheels of fortune, fakirs, its novel Chinese laundry, the watchman of Hibernia, mamma's darlings, its refreshment booths, the miniature circus in its canvas tent, exhibiting among other marvellous wonders, the smallest horse and the largest dwarf in the world; bears, actually human in their intelligence; a wild cat, a fox in a wild state, a three-legged dog, and a den of easily recognized animals, are but a few of the attractions.

At 2.30, with the crack of a pistol, 30 or more sturdy runners, competing for the championship of Lowell, will start from Belle Grove. They will come directly to the grounds on Moore street, accompanied by autos containing physicians and judges. Immediately on their arrival five prizes will be awarded.

The arrival of the runners will be the signal for beginning the other numbers on the program of sports. These include events for men, women and children.

At 7 o'clock a chorus of 50 trained voices under the direction of Mr. James Connel will give a concert of old and new songs. Many are looking to this feature as the treat of the evening.

PUT TO DEATH

David Dunn, 20 Years Old, Executed for Murder of H. T. Edwards

AUBURN, N. Y., July 2.—David Dunn, 20 years old, died in the electric chair early today for the murder of Walter Fazio Agent Harry T. Edwards in Corning February, 1914. Dunn spent his final hours in prayer.

Whether Jess Willard, the cowboy champion of the world, is coming to Lowell Friday, July 16, with the 101 Ranch Wild West show, or the Wild West show is coming with Willard, is an open question, but either is a big enough attraction to excite attention, not only among the athletic fans, but also among those who thoroughly enjoy a strenuous, up-to-date border exhibition.

Willard has now been with Miller Bros. & Arlington's big aggregation

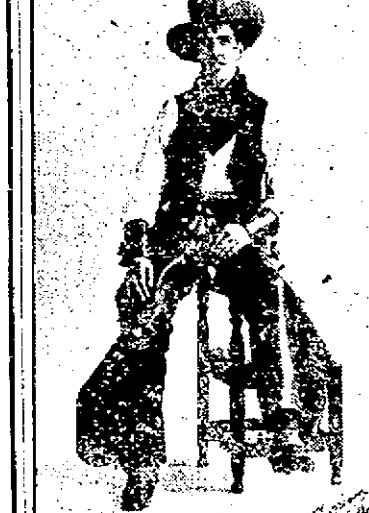

MISUSE OF U. S. FLAG

ANOTHER NOTE MAY BE SENT TO GREAT BRITAIN — SEARCHING INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Searching investigation is being conducted by the United States into several cases in which it has been officially reported that British ships flew the American flag apparently to avoid attacks by German submarines.

The United States will not act until it has received complete information, but in view of the emphasis which is laid in Berlin upon the dangers of such a practice, Ambassador Gerard's information on specific cases as obtained from the German government is being carefully investigated.

Sufficient proof, it was stated, authoritatively today, already has been gathered to cause officials to consider the making of new representations on the subject.

Sinking of Armenian May Inspire a Real Ultimatum From Washington, Says Paper

PARIS, July 2. 5:45 a. m.—The sinking of the steamship Armenian has caused a stir in Paris, stress being laid upon the deaths of Americans on board the vessel. Coming so soon after the Lusitania case, which is not yet settled, the press wonders what will be the outcome of the latest incident connected with Germany's submarine warfare.

The Matin says the Armenian's destruction certainly will greatly increase the indignation of Americans and perhaps inspire a real ultimatum from Washington.

testified that Comatos wore the black outer shirt at work during the whole day.

Comatos also said in examinations that he never knew that Demos carried a large sum of money on his person, but last night he changed his statement and said that he was informed of the fact by Glakas after his return from a visit to the Lowell General hospital a few weeks ago.

Vurkaropoulos, the Market street grocer also told him, he said, and stated that every resident of Market street knew of the money and believed it was carried by the married man. None of the four farmers were detained and shortly after the examination Comatos was taken to the Lowell jail where he will remain until the date set for his hearing, Saturday, July 10.

Comatos Held

"Apparel Shop"
72 MERRIMACK STREET

John Comatos, looking pale and drawn after spending several hours in a cell at the police station, was brought into court late yesterday afternoon and arraigned for the murder of John Demos, whose badly mutilated body was found in a bed room at 323 Madison street, about 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night. Comatos is a farm hand, having been employed on Trull's farm off and on for over five years. He was very respectful to his employers and was well liked by them, and the news of his arrest came as a big surprise to them.

When brought into the courtroom, Comatos first looked around in a bewildered manner until Lieut. Mahon motioned to him to be seated on a bench in front of the prisoner's dock. Assistant Clerk Trull then read the complaint for murder, and through the interpreter, Nicholas Spyropoulos, Comatos pleaded not guilty, although he didn't seem to understand fully the seriousness of the complaint he was charged with. At the request of Sup. Welch a continuance to July 10 was ordered and the prisoner was committed to the Lowell Jail until that time without bail. At the conclusion of the proceedings, Comatos inquired if the interpreter if he could go free, and he was told that he could not. It is plain to be seen that he did not understand much about court proceedings. He was then taken away by Lieut. Mahon.

Comatos is a small wiry man, with piercing eyes and curling mustache. As he sat on the bench in police court waiting to be arraigned, he looked over him at Nicholas Spyropoulos, the interpreter, until he was called to answer in the charge of murder. He then walked to the witness stand where he was informed that he was charged with the murder of his roommate, John Demos, by stabbing him several times in various parts of the body.

Warrant Issued

Before the warrant was issued Judge Enright, Superintendent Welch and Assistant Clerk Trull visited the scene of the murder in Elba place, and the circumstances of the crime, so far known by the police, were explained. On their return to the court room, a jury and a few minutes later Comatos was brought late court.

The Autopsy

Medical Examiner Melas and Dr. Chryslan Tighe performed an autopsy on the body of the murdered man in the morgue of the Metropolitan Police in Gotham street yesterday afternoon. After a thorough examination Medical Examiner Melas reported that there were 12 stab wounds in the chest and two knife wounds on the side. There were internal injuries to liver, lungs, stomach and heart, and there were also the characteristic marks on the chest. These were probably made by the murderer kneeling his victim. The wound over the heart was undoubtedly what caused death instantly, and the police believe that the murderer cut on his knees on top of his victim's chest and slung the knife into the body with his thumb up.

Dr. J. J. Portland, Superintendent, and Assistant Clerk Trull visited the scene yesterday afternoon, the police were unable to find anyone who has been a part of a struggle in the upstairs apartment. Yesterday, however, Judge Enright, in conversation with a young girl who resides downstairs, learned that she heard a sad cry at 10:30 p. m. by a man falling, but she did not think any more of it, as the men frequently wrestled or fooled in the apartment above.

OVER PLAINS OF ILLIUM

Sound of Cannon Booms Over
Land Made Illustrious by
Homer's Immortal Epic

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 2.—Can-
non awakening the echoes over Ilium's plains, where the allies are trying to pound their way beyond the Dardanelles, stir many legendary memories
of this historic battle region and bring to mind the oddest contrasts. Here, where now modern ordnance is hurling its messengers of destruction, Homer's heroes waged their spectacular, single-handed combats, while admiring armies grouped themselves
around to watch. It is a far cry from the romantic siege of Troy to the terribly impersonal battle of today.
Yet the old walls of Troy must bring
some sort of inspiration to the soldiers fighting in their shadows, soldiers of the allies or of the Turks. Excavated Ilium beside the present war's great battlefield is described in a communication to the National Geographic society by Jacob E. Conner. He says:
"The Trojan walls are still in evidence; those same walls that defied the onslaughts of Agamemnon and Men-elaus, of Ajax, Nestor, Diomed, Ulysses
and Achilles, to fall at last by strata-ge. They remain as a ruined and abandoned stage minus its paraphernalia, whereon was played so many centuries ago an insignificant little drama compared with modern events;
but it was a drama so big with human interest divinely told that the world
has never known its equal."
"Wars in these crowded times are
for gain—shameless gain—but in the youth of the world, if we take the Iliad literally, men could afford to fight for an ideal. Hence the Homeric
warfare was a beautiful, a poetic pastime, seriously resting to some happy few, who were therefor rewarded with immortality in song."
"As the theatre of the world's greatest epic poem, Troy deserves a visit
any year, every year. In the thoughts
and emotions it revives and stimulates,
in the aroused sense of indebtitude
of all subsequent literature and art
it richly repays a visit. The classical student will leave it in a daze of meditation upon things more real to him than the actual things he has seen
and touched."

On the site where the German captain, Schumann, unearthed Hom-
er's Troy, nine layers of old-time cities
were found, one above the other. They were built, destroyed, and forgotten
here during the more than 5,000 years
that civilization has lived upon the products of the fertile valley. The topmost layer contained the ruins of the Roman city of Ilium; two Hellenic villages were found directly beneath it,
which flourished here between 1000 B.
C. and the Christian era. The sixth
city from the bottom was determined Homer's Troy. The bottom layers contained the remains of pre-historic settlements, unimportant villages that have escaped every memory except
these few, uncovered, decaying stones.
In the Second or Burnt City, probably 800 years before the time of Troy, was found a considerable mass of buried treasure, silver jars, gold daggers and wonderfully wrought ornaments of gold.
Describing the country around Troy,
Mr. Conner, continues:

MOTHER OF SCHOOL GIRL

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Daughter's Health.

Plover, Iowa.—"From a small child
my 13 year old daughter had female weakness. I spoke to three doctors about it and they did not help her any.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had been of great benefit to me, so I decided to have her give it a trial. She has taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound according to directions on the bottle and she is cured of this trouble. She was
the Compound and her periods did not come right. She was so poorly and weak that I often had to help her dress herself, but now she is regular and is growing strong and healthy."—Mrs.
MARTIN HELVIG, Plover, Iowa.

Hundreds of such letters expressing
gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received,
proving the reliability of this grand old
remedy.

If you are ill do not drag along and continue to suffer day in and day out but
at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a woman's remedy for woman's ills.

This famous remedy, the medicinal propties of which is derived from native roots, herbs, has for nearly forty years proved to be a most valuable specific for woman's ills. Why don't you try it?

OBREGON MUCH ALIVE

FIRST REPORTED DEAD, LATER
WOUNDED AND STILL LATER WITH CARRANZA'S ARMY

It was reported a short time ago
that General Obregon was killed in battle. Later reports declared that while Obregon was wounded—in fact, one of his arms had been shot away—he was in no danger of dying. Still later Obregon declared that he intended to support the forces of General Carranza in the much muddled
Mexican situation.

HOMEOPATHS AT CHICAGO

Dr. Horner of Cleveland Thinks Careful Diagnosis Would Cure More Insanity Cases

CHICAGO, July 2.—Dr. Henry C. Aldrich of Minneapolis was elected president of the American Institute of Homeopathy at yesterday's session of the annual convention. The next annual meeting will be held in Baltimore.

Dr. George Royal, chairman of the committee on medical education, announced that work had been begun on a new hospital to cost $60,000 on the campus of the Ohio State University in connection with the school of homeopathic medicine.

Dr. J. Richey Horner of Cleveland, in speaking on the "modern treatment of the insane," declared that many additional cases of insanity would be cured
if physicians were to give them the same careful diagnosis and attention
that is given the victims of other diseases.

WAR INCREASES LETTERS

PARIS, July 2.—War has had contrary effects on the postal service of France. Obstacles to commerce and industry resulted in a great decrease
in business correspondence, but this is more than compensated by the increase in personal letters between members
of dispersed families and the soldiers
and their relatives. In a single day the postal department handled 14 million letters, 750,000 registered letters and packages, 135 thousand newspapers and 57 thousand postal orders. The volume of matter has steadily increased since December.

But the moratorium, the closing of a number of financial establishments and the suppression of discount has also turned a great flood of collection business to the postal department.
Naturally, "dead letters" have also largely increased, partly through the impossibility of delivering the letters or packages to their destination, but largely on account of defective addresses. Between December, 1914, and May 31st last, eight and a half million letters and nearly sixty thousand packages were thrown into the refuse heap.
Among the letters that have gone to the "Dead Letter Office" during that time were found bank bills to the amount of 360,000 francs, of which the department has been able to return to its owners only about 30,000.

FOUR FISHERMEN DROWN

Three Others Narrowly Escape When Their Power Boat Upsets Off Ocean City, Md.

OCEAN CITY, Md., July 2.—Four fishermen were drowned and three others had narrow escapes when their boat capsized in the surf here yesterday. The men were fishing from a power boat, which became unmanageable when the engine suddenly stopped. The craft rolled broadside to the seas and was overturned by a huge wave.

daily at his work.
At the same time Lady Norbury had begun work as a waitress in a soldiers'

Upriver Paper Discusses the New England League Situation in That City

"Manchester is a dignified and self-respecting city, mindful of the rights of others and of her own, expecting to give a square deal and to be dealt fairly with in return. She is not, however, the sort of community to meekly submit to wrong or unfairness, or to being handed anything in the shape of a gold brick.

From the facts that have thus developed, it would appear that persons interested in the taking of the New England league ball team from the town without having given its people a chance to approve or disapprove such a proceeding have picked out the wrong city for their ill-fated operation. As nearly as can be learned, negotiations to transfer the Manchester franchise to some little town down in Massachusetts were well under way before the people of this city had had any opportunity to express their preference in the matter, or to subscribe the amount necessary to retain the team. Just what motive was behind all the gum-shoe work is not altogether in evidence as yet, but when the plan was finally made public through the columns of The Union and Leader, it became very evident that the city could not submit, without a tangible protest, to any such high-handed proceeding.

Men who not only realize the excellence of the Manchester team and the undoubted benefit that is to be derived from having the city represented in the New England league, but men who also appreciate how unfavorable an impression its unopposed transfer would create, have taken the matter up in earnest. The result is that now the indications are that the pretty little village down in the Bay State will have to flourish its handful of money in some other direction.

Such men as Mayor Harry W. Spaulding, Edwin A. Dunbar, Carroll S. King, William C. Carroll and others, who do not make failures of their undertakings, have interested themselves in the matter of the retention of the team, with the result that nearly half the money necessary to insure its finishing the season wearing the Manchester uniform has been subscribed, with the canvass hardly begun.

The business men of this city, in so far as they have had a chance to express themselves at all, have been unanimously in favor of retaining the team, and the contributions for stock necessary to maintain it, have been made with the utmost willingness. With the stock owned locally, and the administration of affairs in the hands of Manchester men, there is little doubt that so great an added interest will be given the game here as to insure the finish of the season at a profit rather than loss.

In any case, the reputation of the city in the matter of public spirit will have been sustained, besides the recreation and amusement that will have been afforded; and either one of these considerations is worth all that it will cost to keep the team here.—"Manchester Union-Leader."

In the first paragraph reference is made to a gold brick. That's very funny. Manchester being handed a gold brick, in a baseball sense, is extremely funny.

If there was any goldbricking done it was by the Manchester men, who were loud in their protestations that the Queen City was hungry for baseball. Their lack of interest in last season's club was easily comprehensible for Luke's aggression was not a pleasant surprise. But they said, these people of Manchester, that the fans would surely turn out and support a regular honest-to-goodness ball team.

Well, Keady and Kiernan gave them that sort of club. Manchester has a root team. It is composed of good ball players in the main—players who are never beaten until the third man is retired in the last inning.

In Tom Keady and Jack Kiernan, Manchester has a pair of magnets who are gentlemen in every respect. Manchester boasts a large sprinkling of Dartmouth men and Keady is one of the best known of that college's alumni. Kiernan has been identified with baseball for years, both as a player and manager.

Therefore Manchester could not have any complaint to make either on club or on owners. Yet this editorial states that with Manchester people at the head of Manchester baseball everything should go along swimmingly. It looks as though the Manchester people won't pay to see anything unless the receipts go into Manchester pockets. Wonder what the thrifty business men of Manchester do on circus day?

If the attendance defends local ownership, it is to be hoped that hereafter now that Manchester folks have woken up, the future games will draw large crowds. When a city fails to patronize ball games the only inference is that it has no interest in the game.

THE EMERY BALL

What it is and How it Was Used Before
the Ban

Take a nice, new ball, fresh from the factory. Roughen a spot on the surface no bigger than a dime. If you wish, and place it in the hand of a pitcher with ordinary speed, and it will move ordinary curves. Instantly your pitcher becomes more formidable than Walter Johnson or Christy Mathewson, and he has an article of goods which the greatest batsman in the world can't fathom. It becomes an "emery ball" pitcher.

The latest addition to the baseball category of freak items is still a great mystery to most fans. It is only lately that the expression has crept into newspaper columns, although the thing which it describes has been known to the wisecracks of baseball for the last three or four years. Russell Ford is said to be the discoverer of the new fad. In a confidential mood he passed the secret on to two or three other pitchers, and in the same manner it reached "Skeeter" Fanning, who introduced it into Coast League society.

But the start thing he noted in connection with the "emery ball" is that its use is frowned on in the American association there is a rule that no pitcher shall use a ball that is rougher than the one he is using. The latest member of the deception family will be fined $100 and suspension for 30 days. As far as is known, this is the only league that takes official notice with regard to the "emery ball," although all umpires have been instructed to maintain a close watch against its use.

The new twister gets its name from the fact that the roughened surface was first produced by massaging a small spot with a fine sandpaper. It was discovered that the act made the horseshoe perform evolutions which it had never been known to perform before. It needs no oil, and only with ordinary speed and comes up to the plate straight and true, and looking as fat as a balloon to the batsman.

What It Does

Now, here is what it does. When within a foot of the plate, it breaks suddenly and goes up or down, according to the way it was thrown, almost perpendicularly. The jump is generally for eight or ten inches, and it breaks suddenly again and shoots right across the plate. No batsman in the world can gauge it. It may go up or down, or it may move in a side motion, and unless the catcher is aware of what's coming, he's as helpless as the batsman.

The element of danger to the batsman is the reason why the new ball is looked upon with disfavour. It breaks so fast that he has no chance of stepping out of the way should it happen to get in the road. If the ball happened to be high and thrown to break it toward the plate, there'd be no escape for the batter. He would be sure to be hit, and as if someone stood over his head and pounded away with a club.

Toward the latter part of last season Fanning, pitcher of the Boston Braves, pitched a ball that broke in this manner, and Sunday morning, got hold of a ball that collided with the stand. "Skeeter" used his finger nail to complete the corrugation, and no one but himself and Walter Schmidt knew what was going on. The result was two hits for the opposition, and Fanning allowed them simply to drive suspicion from himself. He tried "Rube" Gardner out on it in the Imperial league this winter, and in four trips to the bat Gardner didn't touch the ball once.

THE GROOVE BALL

The Pitchers' Bugbear—
Also Their Alibi When
Sluggers Connect

"Oh gee! What a boob he was to give the guy one in the groove!" How often have you heard that expression at a baseball game?

Almost every time "Rube" Cravath, the champion home run flourish of the major leagues, sends one into the bleachers or over the rightfield fence, some one in the crowd is sure to cry "There goes him, hit in the groove!" They used to say it about J. Franklin Baker before the American

Lowell Boy Will Train
Here for His Next
BoutPercy Aubrey of England Faces Him in
New York, July 14

Joe Brooks, the local lad who boxes under the name de guerre of Gardner Brooks, took a run to the city of New York yesterday and will spend the Fourth at his home.

Joe, or Gardner as he is more popularly known, took the elevator and came up to see us soon after his arrival. He's just the same modest little fellow who departed for the big burg a few months ago to make his fortune in the henpen square. His successes in Gotham's arenas haven't worked any noticeable change upon him and he wears the same size cheapie as of yore.

Today young Brooks stands among the top-notchers in the bantam weight division and is resolutely shunned by many of the boxers of his weight who are well thought of. In fact many of them have learned to their sorrow that the Lowell product of the padded mitten game is a bad actor when clucked into the squared arena with an opponent.

Jerry Pelton, manager of Brooks, has vowed to get into a match with Art Williams but there's been nothing doing thus far. Williams doesn't care to tackle anything quite as tough as applied to New York July 14 and will train for the bout in Lowell.

League "Home-Run King" retired to pasturing in a county league. From the time the Trappe, Md., farmer broke into major league baseball, he has been a constant source of amusement and embarrassment to the team and his batting eye was brightened by what he picked up as a member of the Athletics, every player on the roster of the Tri-State league and the New York Giants in the National League, who met Baker in two world's series, tried to find out how he did it. But Baker's pitchers thought they knew it and every time one of them fanned the slugger, he decided that he had discovered what Baker couldn't hit. But Baker continued to hit home runs just the same.

May Have Weakness

It is the weakness with Cravath of the Athletics, who is the Chicago Cubs' Larry Doyle of the New York Giants, Sherwood Magee of the Boston Braves and a few more of the "leather-hitter" brigade. Probably all of these heavy hitters have a weakness that is known to one or more pitchers in the National League. Maybe Ty Cobb, the premier batsman of the Tri-State league and Cleveland, Tris Speaker of the Boston Red Sox, and some more of the American league's star batsmen are weak hitters against the "leather-hitter" but year after year these men go on hitting just the same, and every time one of them lands on a ball for a hit, that "clean" or "home" is a cause of a critical stage of damage, where it does a lot of damage, there is the same old cry: "Grooved that one."

Finding a batter's weakness is one of the fine points of baseball these days. It is a part of what is called "inside baseball," and it is a most important part of the system of play that is usually followed by a winning team. Connie Mack, George Stallings, Clark Griffith and the other managers of the "leather-hitter" brigade, as part of their daily drill and schooling, make this one of the most important lessons taught to the players, particularly the youngsters, who may spend the greater part of the season on the bench.

Pitcher's Control is Factor

Of course, the pitcher cannot always get the ball just where he wants it, even when he knows where it ought to go. This is where control counts. During the world's series of 1911, between the Athletics and New York Giants, Baker hit one of his history-making "home" off Rube Marquard and the eccentric southpaw was criticised for giving Baker "one in the groove." Christy Mathewson, who was supposed to be writing a series of special articles was credited with having taken Marquard to task for giving Baker one he could hit one of the fence. "Keep it high on the inside," was Matty's advice to Rube. In the next game, with Mathewson pitching, Baker hit another "home," and after the Athletics had won that game Mathewson was asked what kind of a ball he pitched to J. Franklin. He said: "I tried to put one over his shoulder, but I must have slipped it right through the groove to him." The same old alibi has been given hundreds of times and will be given again so long as the sluggers continue to slug the ball and the pitchers continue to try for the batter's weakness.

There were heavy hitters in the golden days and it is likely that some of the old timers had a "weakness," but the players and managers did not think so much of the "inside game" in those days and there was little effort made to learn if a player was known to be a slugger had such a thing as a batting "weakness" concealed about his system. If the great Ed Delahanty of the Phillies had a weakness, no one ever found it for "Big Ed" was still slugging the best pitchers up until the time he jumped from the Phillies to the American league, where he was playing when he died.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Washers of Bowden street are ready for any 3 year old team in the city. We "washed" the Corbett street team and the Crickets. Here we are Charles Tummully, 3rd base; Frank Massey, capt. of Clinton Barton, 1st; Smith Powers, p. Ed. Donnelly, 2d base; Arthur Braxey, 3d; Ed. O'Neil, c; James Flagg, 1b; Tim Sullivan, r.f.; John E. Powers, mascot. Send all letters to Capt. F. Massey, 69 Bowden street.

Roddy's Pets would like a game with any 12 or 13 year old team in the city for Saturday, July 3. The lineup is as follows: J. Roddy, captain and pitcher; A. Kellier, catcher; J. Corea, 1 base; C. Messer, 2 base; C. Greiner, ss; F. Tisherman, 3 base; L. Maltitt, 1 field; Maltott, c field; W. Craig, r field. Captain Roddy would like to hear from Manager O'Shea of the O. M. I. catchers in regard to a game for Saturday.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

Benny Kauff had a day off and for the first time had a chance to see Detroit's team play ball. Ty Cobb beat out an infield tap, went from first to third on an infield out and slid a cyclonic twister around the catcher. Kauff arose and walked to the press box.

"Say," he remarked, "where's that guy who called me the Ty Cobb of the Federal league?"

"I'm the one," spoke up the reporter.

"I just wanted to thank you," said Kauff. "I didn't know how hard you were boosting me until I saw that fellow Cobb in action."

One of the most peculiar plays recorded in base ball came up in a Federal league game at Baltimore on June 19. In the first inning the Chiffos had the bases full and one out. The batter struck out but the ball got away from Catcher Owens and the batter chased it first base. The man on third imagined he was forced, saw no chance to reach home, so departed for the bench. Owens threw to third base, though just how he expected to tag the runner who was on the bench that way is not clear. Then some one waked the runner up and he chased from the bench to the plate with the fielders after him. He reached the plate first and Umpire Johnstone allowed the run. Baltimore has protested in regard to this play. President Gilmore to decide the tangent.

The Chicago Americans, a notorious bad road club in bygone seasons, began their campaign as if they were going to be soft plucking when operating in the hands of the enemy. Right off the reel they dropped two out of four in St. Louis and were whaled four in a row in Detroit. But since that disaster Manager Rowlands' men have traveled just as swiftly on the road as at home. On the tour ending Saturday in Cleveland, the Chicagoans engaged in 20 combats. They hooked on to 14, which is traversing the only clip of 700.

While the National league is enforcing the 21 player limit rule, much to the disgust of several leading managers, a loophole has been discovered which is permitting the clubs to sign new players for next year without further delay. The rule makes it illegal to carry more than the limit number of players on the payroll, but there is nothing to prevent the signing of promising youngsters at this stage of the proceedings, providing they are not used in championship games.

Circuit changes are talked of for the Colonial as well as for the New England league. President Copen of the Little Outlaws states that the chances of a transfer of the Taunton team are very fair, which is almost as conclusive a way of putting it as the Boston and Worcester's famous sign: "Passengers are forbidden to ride in the front vestibule and will not be allowed to ride in the rear vestibule."—Boston Journal.

Slowly but surely the red man is passing. Jim Thorpe who couldn't make good with a Class AA team is sure to drop from sight when his contract expires next fall. And it's a question now how much longer Chief Meyers will be able to hold out.

Now and then around the circuit we hear that Portland looks like a Class A club, while Lynn has the appearance of a Class D club. All of which may be true but Lawrence is still at the top and it's a clutch that Portland's club is not a Class A club. Perhaps opinions as to the relative strength of the various clubs are about on an equal footing with those of the opinions relative to umpires this year.—Lynn News.

WITH THE PADDED MITTS

Joe Rivers, the Mexican fighter, is scheduled to perform before the boxing public of Boston next Tuesday evening. Rivers' opponent will be Gilbert Gallant of Chelsea and a rugged bout should be in order. Rivers, a few years ago would beat Gallant every day in the week, but Joe has slipped down the chute and Gallant has an excellent chance of coping a victory.

Walter Butler and Tommy McFarland, two Lowell favorites, will unwind evenings at each other in the semi-final to the Rivers-Gallant bout. McFarland put up two tough fights with Larry Burns in this city a few years ago and his gameness and courage made quite a hit. Walter Butler won both of his fights in Lowell by kayos, Jack Mansfield going down with a right to the stomach, while Young Rivet hoisted the distress signal from the canvas after three rounds of battling.

There is talk about starting a boxing club at Rockingham park shortly. If such is the case and if the promoters live up to their promise the fans of New England are in line to witness several high grade boxing matches. George Lawrence, manager of Sam McVea and Colin Bell, is the man who is behind the venture and he recently stated, if he opened the club, Charlie White and other high class performers would appear there.

The coming bout between Charley White and Gilbert (Young) Sayler, looks like one big affair from where we sit. Sayler has fought practically every lightweight of note in the world and has always made a good showing, sometimes he lost, but in the majority of his bouts he was on the long end of the decision. White has only allowed two men to stay the limit in his last ten bouts, each by a knock-out. Charley Thomas, but he stopped Thomas shortly after. The boy will box 12 rounds at the Atlas A. A. on July 14 and a record house is looked for.

Walter Mohr and Eddie Murphy are down on the cards for a bout next Wednesday at Thornton, R. I. These boys are not strangers to each other, having clashed on two occasions at Cambridge. After Mohr giving Murphy a terrible lacing in the first battle only to have the referee call it a draw. In the second encounter he held his own, but lost the decision. Mohr is the favorite, but Murphy will make him travel at top speed.

Bay Wood knocked out Grover Hayes, the veteran lightweight, at Turners Falls last night in the tenth round. Wood had the better of it up till this session and when he put Hayes through the ropes in the tenth, the Chicago boy could not respond. Joe Carroll and Joe Boudreau fought ten rounds to a draw in the semi windup.

Bay Wood was one of the most popular boxers that ever graced a Lowell ring and every time he was booked to appear, standing room was at a premium. He never lost a battle in this

Rochester Golfer Wins
Open State Golf Title
—Brady Second

BOSTON, July 2.—Walter Hagen of Rochester, N. Y., regarded by many as the best golfer in the United States, proved yesterday that, no matter under what conditions he had to encounter, his golf was a trifle better than that of those who competed in the Massachusetts open championship in the last 36 holes at the Country club, Brookline.

Winners of the Night Prizes
Walter C. Hagen, Rochester, N. Y. $150
Michael J. Brady, Wollaston, N. Y. 100
Gilbert Nichols, Wilmington, 70
J. H. Barnes, Whittemarsh Valley, 50
C. H. Hodner, Woodbury, N. J. 30
Tom Anderson, Montclair, N. J. 20
Patrick J. Delaney, 10
Louis Teller, Canoe Brook, and Alec Campbell, Baltimore, split 5

Totals $435
Hagen, who was tied with Mike Brady, the Wollaston professional, after 54 holes, started after luncheon to annex the state title held by the Wollaston player. Brady and Hagen had totals of 222 each, but after the fourth and last rounds Hagen had gained five shots on his brother pro, which gave him the state title, with 293 as his total.

Brady scored an 81 on his last round, giving him second money, with a total of 303, while Gilbert Nichols of Wilmington received third prize, one shot behind the former Brighton golfer. Jim Barnes of Whittemarsh was tied for fourth with Francis O'Brien, four shots behind Nichols, and C. H. Hodner of Woodbury, N. J., was fifth, two shots behind Barnes. Francis O'Brien, national amateur champion, will receive a special prize and Barnes will be awarded fourth money, according to the ruling of the state association.

Tom Anderson of Upper Montclair was sixth, Pat Doyle of Myopia seventh, Louis Teller, French professional, and Alec Campbell, for many years the professional at the Country club, but now at the Baltimore G. C., dividing eighth.
Tom McNamara of Boston, runner-up in the recent national open championship, failed to get in the money, as did O'Brien Teller, and Spaulding who was runner-up to Mike Brady last year. McNamara scored 320 and Terry was one shot worse. Tom Kerrigan failed to get in the money, an 85 for his last two rounds, which gave him a total of 322.
Jesse P. Guilford, Bellevue G. C., winner of many amateur tournaments in this vicinity this season, had 221, which was the second best score made by the amateurs. Sam Sterne, of the Tatnall club, Worcester, was the third best amateur.

KAUFF JUMPS THE FEDS

SAYS HE WILL REPORT TO
GIANTS

NEW YORK, July 2.—Benny Kauff, the Ty Cobb of the Federal league who earlier in the season had occasioned a sensation by jumping from the Brooklyn Reds to the Giants, and Tom Seaton, former star twirler of the Phillies, jumped the Brooklyn Reds and say they will not return to the Outlaw fold. Kauff said that he would report to McGraw at Ebbetts field tomorrow and if not accepted by the Giants he would quit baseball for good.

Tom Seaton signed with the Reds at a salary of $25,000 a year. His jumping this season drew many uncomplimentary remarks from the fans and recently he was suspended by Manager Leo Magee.

When told yesterday afternoon at Ebbetts field that Benny Kauff intended to report to the Giants today, Manager John McGraw did not appear to be much excited.
"I do not see what I can do with Kauff," said McGraw. "When we tried to play him before the case was decided against us and there has been no change in the situation since then."

According to Dick Carroll, business manager for the Reds, Kauff's salary was held up because he had drawn advance money while he was with the Indianapolis club. After the Giants were notified that they could not play Kauff the latter returned the Reds and began proceedings in a $5000 suit against the New York club. Kauff's complaint was breach of contract.

RAY WOOD WON

TURNERS FALLS, July 2.—The Turners Falls Athletic association staged its star bout of the season last night. The preliminary was a six round bout between Jerry Lee of Turners Falls and Young Wagner of Lawrence. Wagner's manager threw in the sponge in the sixth. The semi-final was a go of eight rounds between Young Carroll of Lawrence and Joe Boudreau of Malden. The result was a draw.

The main bout was scheduled to go 12 rounds between Ray Wood of Fall River and Grover Hayes of Chicago. Wood knocked Hayes out of the ring in the 10th round, and as Hayes failed to respond to the count, Wood was awarded a knockout. Wood had things his own way in every round.

IN TITLE GAME

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 2.—R. N. Williams, 23, of Harvard, national amateur champion and George M. Church of Pittsfield, Massachusetts, champion, will compete on the courts of the Pittsburgh Athletic association this afternoon for the national clay court championship. In singles Williams worked his way into the final yesterday by defeating N. W. Niles of Boston, while Church was winning from Will Niles at 2 o'clock.

Play in the women's singles will continue this forenoon and matches in the men's doubles this afternoon. Officials also hope to get several rounds in the mixed doubles completed before the day is over.

TARGET PRACTICE RESULTS

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Results of the target practice of the first Pacific destroyer division, announced by the navy department today, show that while the scores were slightly better than those of last year, they were not so good as those made this year by the destroyers of the Atlantic fleet.

MORE SAILING SHIPS

PANAMA, July 2.—Since the opening of the Panama canal it has been noticed by shipping agents in Panama City that the number of sailing ships to appear on the seas has rapidly increased. All of these have at one time or another passed through the waterway.

Shipping authorities attribute the increase in sail tonnage to the high freights due to the European war with the consequent lack of steam bottoms of neutral countries. It is stated that most of these sailing ships are of American register. They are employed in carrying wheat and other grains from United States Pacific ports to England and ease off to the United States ports to the far east.

TOPICS OF TEWKSBURY

Ferris Bros., Successful Western Electricians Renew Old Acquaintances

Mrs. James Fairgrieve of Tewksbury Centre had distinguished visitors at her home during the past week in the persons of William G. Thomas, Robert and James Ferris, former residents of this city, who are now located in the western part of the states, where they have established what is known as the Ferris Brothers' Electrical system.

William G. Ferris is located at Boise City, Idaho; Thomas at Osage, Iowa; Robert at Yankton, South Dakota, and James at Watertown, South Dakota. The four young men were accompanied by their sister, Mrs. William True of Hatfield, Wis. The party also visited their mother, Mrs. Margaret Lincoln of 359 Lincoln street, this city.

The Ferris brothers formerly resided in this city, where they were brought up. Some 15 years ago the eldest boy, William G., went west and secured employment with the General Electric Co. of Chicago, Ill. After learning the electrical business and becoming an expert in this particular line of work, the young man went into business for himself and later formed a company with his three brothers and the famous Ferris Bros' Electrical system, which is noted to be one of the most electrical developments for years, was started.

Large concerns in the western states were interested in the system and in a short time the young men were doing a tremendous business. The system was introduced in different parts of the west and finally it was deemed advisable to open offices in various cities and accordingly William G. went to Boise City, Idaho; Thomas to Osage, Iowa; Robert to Yankton, S. D. and James to Watertown, S. D. Each one of the brothers has charge of his end of the business and they all report success. The system consists of electrical power and lighting and, according to reports, many of the large manufacturing concerns of the west that formerly used water power have given this up and now have recourse to the Ferris Bros' system.

Water System

William T. Lewis of Main street, Centre village, is installing a water system at his home which will prove to be a great improvement. Wells have been driven and now men are at work installing a 1000-gallon water tank in the basement of the house, which will serve as the reservoir, the water to be pumped from there into the various apartments of the building.

School Teachers

The schools of the town, as previously announced, closed during the past week and most of the teachers, who reside out of town, have returned to their homes, carrying with them the best wishes of their pupils.

Miss Nellie Fleming, principal of the Foster school, is planning a trip to California, during which she will visit the two expositions, which are being held at San Francisco and San Diego. She will be gone a couple of months.

Building Sidewalk

In compliance with a vote of the citizens at the last town meeting, the town is having a sidewalk of cinders laid on the main road from Chanler's corner to North street. Several town employees are busy on the job.

Personals

Melvin Ellis, who recently graduated from the Lowell high school, has gone to Levant, Me., to spend a month with his parents. He will return for a post-graduate course at the same school. His mother, who attended the graduation exercises, has returned to her home.

Franklin Spalding is erecting a garage in the rear of the home of his father, Benjamin Spalding in North street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Billings, their daughter, Gretchen, son, Master Rodgers and Miss Edith Forestall, have gone on an automobile trip to New York.

Harry Lord of Pleasant street has purchased a Ford automobile of the touring type.

Jeremiah K. Chandler is having his automobile overhauled and painted, the work being done at the shop of Aiden Haines.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garlick, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Sweet, John Randall, Miss Bertha Randall and Miss Avis Dismore have received invitations to attend the wedding of Miss Lillie Hulten and Carl Olsen at Brockton, July 3.

Mrs. J. L. Burtt of Pleasant street has had as her guest, Mrs. M. S. Hoyt of Exeter, N. H.

Mrs. Homer Darby and son will spend the holidays at the home of Mrs. Darby's mother in Haverhill.

Mrs. William R. Means has purchased a Rio automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Gale and the latter's mother, Mrs. Hawkes, have returned from a pleasant automobile trip to Little Boars Head, N. H.

Lawn Party

The annual lawn party under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society of the Congregational church of the Centre village, was conducted Wednesday evening on the beautiful lawn of Ench's rooster in the Centre village. On account of the afternoon rain it was thought the event would have to be postponed, but fortunately the skies cleared up in the latter part of the afternoon and the weather, although not of the best, was favorable for the event and the affair proved very successful. There were about 150 people in attendance and all spent a most enjoyable evening.

The trees about the lawn had been beautifully decorated for the occasion and a big arch of gas lights added greatly to the brilliancy of the party. The entertainment program, which was scheduled to be held in the open, was conducted in Deacon Foster's home and consisted of vocal and instrumental selections by some of the best talent of the town.

Those in charge of the event were as follows:

Candy table: Mrs. Herbert Patten, Mrs. James Miller, Mrs. Clarence Clark, Mrs. P. W. Cameron, Mrs. King and Miss King.

Ice cream: Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. George

Mrs. W. H. Brown Tells How She Was Relieved After Long Suffering

Mrs. W. H. Brown of Danvers, Mass., was a victim of stomach trouble which tortured her for years. She tried many treatments and medicines and got little relief.

Then she took May's Wonderful Remedy and got results right away. In telling her case she wrote: "For years I have suffered terribly with stomach trouble. I could find no relief. Then, like a blessing from above, I heard of your remedy; sent for it, and after a few treatments am being cured. I am going to tell all my friends of your miraculous remedy."

May's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

We Believe In "Turn-Overs"

BUT NOT IN GOING TO SLEEP

Our swift-selling stock is turned into cash so quickly that we can operate on a small profit.

The Wrong Way!

Most stores sell clothes at high prices ten months in the year. Clothes that they get anywhere and everywhere, without regard to style, fit or fashion. Then, two months in the year they sell the "left-overs" which have accumulated during this season—last season—and many previous seasons. The newspapers are full of ads announcing sales. Sales! Sales! Sales! like Fire! Fire! Fire! Exciting, but it means nothing to the buying public. Bargain Sales—Clearance Sales—and other sales all mean that you are being offered "left-over" clothes that no one ever wanted. Thus clothiers try their damndest to work off these "Stickers."

The Right Way!

Figure it for yourself and you'll agree that the P&Q way is the correct way. The P&Q tailoring shops at 594 Broadway, N. Y., make a limited number of suits that are just right. We don't overstock. We sell the latest New York style creations as quickly as they are tailored at our low prices, $10-or-$15 ALL THE YEAR ROUND. We don't mark them up so we can't mark them down.

$10 Just Two Prices $15
Two Just Prices

And P&Q Clothes at their low prices of ALWAYS $10-or-$15 contain from 25 to 33 1-3 per cent. more quality than the average clothes being featured in price-cutting announcements.

Men of Lowell!

Thousands of your fellow townsmen have purchased P&Q Clothes and found them more than making good what we had claimed for them, and if you desire real value and great value, smart, all wool fabrics, New York style and a service guarantee, purchase only P&Q garments.

JUDGE BROWN SCORES WATCH AND WARD SOCIETY AGENT IN DRUG USER CASE

BOSTON, July 2.—Michael Carbond, admitted by Sec. J. Frank Chase of the Watch and Ward society to have been one of the society's agents employed in obtaining evidence against drug users, was sentenced to three months in the house of correction by Judge Charles J. Brown of East Boston yesterday. He appealed and was held in $500. Carbond was arrested with Edward Williams in the North Ferry house, having been noticed to be acting queerly. Williams pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three months. Judge Brown scored Sec. Chase for having a "drug fiend" in the employ of the Watch and Ward society. Mr. Chase said that if his society or anyone else wished to obtain evidence against drug sellers they must employ such men as Carbond.

AGREEMENT EXPECTED

Miners on Strike Around Joplin, Mo., Adopt a New and Lower Scale of Wages

JOPLIN, Mo., July 2.—A new and lower scale of wages was adopted yesterday at a meeting of officials of the American Metal Miners union in Webb City. At a conference held later with mine operators it seemed that the strikers might soon agree with the employers.

The new scale, which is lower in many instances than the one previously agreed upon by the strikers, has $50 as a basis price for ore and would be lowered or increased with fluctuation in the market. The scale provides that no men working underground shall receive less than $4 a day.

The opinion of miners and operators is that the strike will be settled within the next few days and the mines probably will resume operations next Tuesday.

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

EFFICIENCY IN HOUSEKEEPING

"Oh dear, it is so tiresome planning the meals and all the other bothers about housekeeping," moaned Marjorie dejectedly. "I never seem able to get my work behind me, as they say."

"Careful planning and writing out at least three meals in advance and marketing for the same, is absolutely essential in housekeeping efficiency, if a woman expects to keep her youth, beauty and good health and particularly her sunny disposition," said Marie.

"I thoroughly believe in a system," she continued, "and so does any well organized business organization, but it can be a fairly flexible one in the hands of the woman who thinks. No wonder women wear out. They either carry the house around on their two shoulders from morning to night or they forget it entirely. There is a happy medium. Take a good pencil and go to the refrigerator after breakfast and make a note of just what food is left over. Then decide where any one of these may be used in the next three meals. Maybe the outside stalks of celery are there for a nice cream of celery soup for instance."

"Now plan, and write out on a card (which should be kept in a card index back of the menus) each of these menus, and on another slip write the necessary orders for the grocer, at the same time see if any of the staple goods, such as sugar, tea, coffee, rice, etc., must be replenished, and write these down also."

"If you know exactly what is wanted once, twice, or even three times a week, this order can be telephoned, at other times it is necessary to go to market to compare foods and prices, know values and become skilful in marketing. Besides it is a great advantage to have personal acquaintance with the butcher, baker and candlestick maker."

"Now with this done prepare all these meals as far in advance as possible, such as meats, desserts, etc., so that your work can all be pigeonholed as it were. Very little time is needed then in preparation of any one of these three meals at the last moment."

MISS GARDNER TO WED

DAUGHTER OF CONGRESSMAN AUGUSTUS GARDNER TO MARRY GRAFTON WINTHROP MINOT

HAMILTON, July 2.—People along the North Shore were interested last night in the announcement that Miss Constance Gardner, daughter of Congressman and Mrs. Augustus P. Gardner of Sagamore farm, would become the bride of Grafton Wintthrop Minot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grafton Minot of Boston and Nabant, in the Episcopal church in Ipswich on July 24. Miss Gardner made her debut two seasons ago. She has been interested in the Vincent club and other organizations. She is a granddaughter of United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, who spends the summers at Nabant, where the Minots have a beautiful summer home.

Mr. Minot graduated from Harvard

two years ago. He studied abroad, and for the past year or so has been an attaché of the American embassy in Berlin. He recently returned to this country. The Gardners have been at Hamilton since congress closed.

ROSTER OF THE PARADE

Officials at Armory Gave Out Final Arrangements—The Five Divisions

All is now in readiness for the big Fourth of July celebration to be held in this city Monday under the auspices of the local companies of the National Guard, final arrangements having been made at a meeting of the marshals of the five divisions, which was held in the quarters of Major Colby T. Kittredge at the state armory last evening. According to present arrangements, the affair will be the biggest of its kind ever conducted in the state of Massachusetts.

Last night's meeting was presided over by Chief Marshal Kittredge and the marshals of the various divisions reported as to what had been done in the line of progress, and after all reports had been heard all were unanimous in saying the affair will be the best Lowell has ever seen, providing the weather man does not butt in.

Major Kittredge wishes it understood that the parade will start promptly at 10 o'clock, unless something unforeseen happens at the last minute. A toll of the fire bells will announce the starting of the parade and the route to be covered will be as follows:

Route of Parade.
Formation in Westford street and side streets above the armory. The parade, which is expected to be over four miles in length, will march over Westford street to Chelmsford, to Thorndike, where the automobile and motorcycle division will join; to Middlesex; to Gorham to Davis square, to Central to Merrimack, to Bridge, counter-march at West Sixth, to Merrimack, as far as Cabot, where dismissal will take place.

The Roster.
The roster of the parade so far is as follows. It was stated that a few changes may occur on account of organizations joining in at the last minute.

SEVERAL THOUSAND IDLE
CHICAGO, July 2.—Forty-three of Chicago's largest lumber yards and sixty-five brick-making plants were closed today, throwing several thousand men out of employment.
The establishments will not make deliveries of any building materials until the strike of 16,000 carpenters is settled, according to announcement made. The 11th hour decision of the Allied Building construction and material interests to continue manufacturing operations but not selling placed a more optimistic aspect on the outlook against the carpenters and other building trades workmen. No building material, either brick or wood, will be permitted to reach any building contractor or manufacturer in Chicago. It was declared, however, until peace is restored in the industrial war.

DISPUTE SETTLED

New Haven Agreement With Clerks Now in Effect

NEW HAVEN, July 2.—After negotiations extending over two months, in which a general strike was at one time threatened, the difference between the New York, New Haven & Hartford and its freight clerks were finally settled late yesterday, through the efforts of a federal mediator, G. W. W. Hanger of Washington. Of the original 16 grievances all except three had been amicably settled before Mr. Hanger's appointment as mediator. The most important question, which involved the right of appeal, was settled yesterday by the substitution of a new rule.

This provides that clerks may appeal their grievances, except in competency cases, to the general superintendent, who shall appoint a committee, of which he may be a member, to hold a hearing and make final disposition of the matter. The rule is similar to the one now in force between the company and its engineers and firemen.

The other cases, technically known as "the Harrington case" and "House No. 4" of Boston, were settled by concessions. The agreement, drafted by Mr. Hanger, was signed by C. L. Barde, general manager of the railroad, and E. Stearns, general chairman of the clerks' committee.

Rudolph Malik Charged With Threatening the President

NEW YORK, July 1.—Rudolph Malik, who was indicted by the federal grand jury on the charge that he sent a letter to President Wilson, threatening the president with "a political crime" should the president refuse to pay him $3000, when arraigned, pleaded guilty and was locked up again in default of $3000 bail. Harold A. Conant, the assistant district attorney detailed to the case, said he regarded the letter in "a much more serious light than the usual expression of a harmless or mentally disordered person. The letter contemplated by the writer, Mr. Malik, said he had reason to believe, was more than a political crime. Malik, who has been in the country only 11 months, it is said, was charged with having devised and operated a scheme to defraud the president. The letter was mailed in this city June 23, addressed to the president in Washington. It was written in German, signed Rud. Malik, and read, in part, as follows:

"My finances are exhausted and I am here without any help. The Austrian consul will not help me as he is not permitted to do because his government had called for this horrible war. The United States is also guilty for my misfortune. Through the delivery of war materials to the allies you are prolonging the war indefinitely. I, therefore, have the right to demand indemnity from your government. This amounts to a sum of $3000 which you will send to my address within a week at latest. Should this amount, however, not be placed within the time I will, without further ceremony, commit a political crime for which you are absolutely responsible for me to live longer in my critical situation."

"Observe once more that it is my firm resolution to give my wit, my knowledge, no longer any rest. I must do something for my rescue. Should you deny me the indemnity asked for, then let me let me be immediately arrested, whereby you can still prevent the greatest misfortune."

The salutation to the letter was: "Honored Mr. President."

KILLED IN WRECK

Lowell Police Notified of Death of Wiggins Monghan

The following telegram, which is self-explanatory, was received by the chief of police at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon:

Chief of Police, Lowell, Mass.
Wiggins Monghan killed in wreck at Brattleboro, Iowa, last night. If he has any relatives in Lowell, wire answer collect.

Signed, Osa Dunlavy, Sheriff.

WOMEN TO SERVE

Appeals of Mrs. Pankhurst Effective—Lloyd George Consents

LONDON, July 1.—The appeals of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the suffragette leader, that women be permitted to take a larger and more recognized share in the organization of the war, have now been proved effective. David Lloyd George, the minister of munitions, has consented to receive a deputation of the women who are eager to serve their country in various capacities, including the making of ammunition.

AN EPIDEMIC OF RABIES

City and town officials in eastern Massachusetts put into effect stringent measures yesterday to check the rabies epidemic, which, during the last three months, has resulted in 50 persons being bitten by dogs.

Lowell seems not to have been included in the measure, though Dr. Charles B. Simpson of the state board of health stated today that all dogs ought to be muzzled, as one can never tell where the disease is going to break out. Within the last few months the doctor has treated cases in Tyngsboro, Billerica, Tewksbury, and Lawrence and he says the only prevention is to muzzle the dogs. He says, too, that there are many dogs going about without collars that ought to be taken care of by the authorities.

"The only place in my district where the dogs are being muzzled," said Dr. Simpson, "is Belmont, and this practice, in my estimation, should extend to all cities and towns."

An order restraining all dogs in Cambridge for a period of 30 days and that all similar quarantines will prevail throughout the eastern part of the state within a week or two. Precautionary measures have also been taken in Waltham, Gloucester, Rockport, Sterling and other places.

KILLED IN AUTO WRECK

LEWISTON, Me., July 1.—A special despatch from Farmington to the Journal states that Harold Titcomb, aged 21, died from injuries received early this morning when an automobile in which he was riding overturned.

Mr. Titcomb was employed in a bank at Lewiston, and was at his father's home in Farmington on a vacation. His companions received minor injuries.

SUEZ RECEIPTS DROP

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The report of the Suez Canal company shows that the number of passengers traveling through the canal in 1914, including soldiers, was 391,722.

The total receipts of the canal for 1914 were $24,148,400, a decrease of $227,300 from 1913. Shipping fell off 3,000,000 tons. So far this year the canal traffic is 35 per cent. less than in the same period last year.

HEAVINESS AT OPENING

FOREIGN DEVELOPMENTS INFLUENCED MARKET—CLOSING IN REGULAR

NEW YORK, July 1.—Latest foreign developments contributed toward the heaviness which characterized today's early trading. Sinking of the steamship Armenian involving further loss of American lives, renewed news of renewed tension with Germany, losses of a point or more were recorded in the initial dealings by Canadian Pacific, American Smelting and numerous specialties, while Reading, Union Pacific and copper stocks sustained fractional declines. There were extensive offerings of U. S. Steel at a moderate decline. U. S. Rubber, on which dividend action is to be taken today, opened unchanged, then reacted a small fraction and as suddenly rose 2 1/2 points. Dealings in Rubber, Steel, American Can and Miami Copper, the latter at an advance of 2 1/2 points; the increased dividend, comprised 50 per cent of the first hour's small business. Announcement that the Rubber meeting would not be held until late in the day was followed by a temporary setback in that stock. A ten-point advance in General Chemical to 220 was the feature among the more inactive specialties. War stocks, motors and unclassified issues were mostly flat. Pressure against Reading relaxed on rumors of impending committee commission's decision affecting the coal road. Bonds were heavy.

Standard shares made some improvement in the lead of Steel in the afternoon, but trading fell away to the point of inactivity. Rubber reacted again to within a fraction of yesterday's low quotation.

Prices move more unevenly in the final hour with several declines in low priced railways and specialties. The closing was irregular.

THE HEAVY RAIN FALL

Nearly Five Inches of Rain in Two Days—Heaviest on Record for July

The present rain storm is the biggest that has visited this section of the country in years. It was stated this forenoon at the office of the Locks & Canals in Broadway that the precipitation up to 8 o'clock last evening was 4.86 inches, a record seldom equaled here in such a short time.

The precipitation for the first six months of this year was less than the same period in the last fifteen years, the total rainfall being but 10.98 inches, as compared with 18.08 last year in the same period. The rainfall for the month of June was only 1.33 inches and the present fall bids fair to almost reach the total fall for the first six months of the year.

The present storm was ushered in before the month of July was two hours old, and it drenched this section in a few hours as it has seldom been drenched before. The storm continued with somewhat abated fury, except for slight intervals, and the end is not yet.

Great damage has been done in other cities, including Greater Boston, but no particular damage has been reported here other than the flooding of cellars. The Back Bay and market uptown section of Boston and the city and suburbs have suffered the greatest damage. Hundreds of cellars in the "made land" of the Back Bay were flooded as early as yesterday morning.

Municipal Drainage Crippled

Damage equivalent to thousands of dollars was the toll taken in Boston and suburbs where the municipal drainage systems proved utterly incapable of meeting the emergency. Cellars of residences and business establishments piled high with goods were flooded, embankments were washed away, manhole covers weighing 225 pounds were lifted from their frames, streets leaked and railroad tracks were buried in perfect lakes, so that locomotives plowed up sheets of water, making spectacular progress to and from their terminals.

At an early hour special details of police were sent out on orders from police headquarters to investigate the damage caused by the storm. All places in the low-lying parts of the city were visited and the losses were checked up by the patrolmen as data for possible future suits against the city resulting from overflowing sewers.

Among the heaviest losses was the Rand Avery Supply Co. at 111 Franklin street, where tons of water poured into the basements and destroyed large quantities of reserve stock. Other places reported nearly equal damage.

Minor washouts were reported in various places along the routes of the B. & M., the New Haven and the D. & A. At both terminals trains came in during the rush hours from 15 minutes to an hour or more late. In many instances, the delays being occasioned by flooded tracks in the outlying districts.

The condition of the tracks aroused considerable apprehension among the railroad men, and orders were issued to slow down trains all over the lines. No serious accidents were reported, however.

A number of telegraph wires along the coast were torn down by the storm and the telegraph service was considerably impaired during the morning.

HAIRSTONES RUIN CROPS

HASTINGS, Neb., July 2.—Parts of Adams, Fillmore and Thayer counties were devastated by a storm of wind and hail sweeping in a zig-zag course over a stretch of more than 60 miles. The total fall for the first six months of the year was less than the same period in the last fifteen years, the total rainfall being but 10.98 inches, as compared with 18.08 last year in the same period. The rainfall for the month of June was only 1.33 inches and the present fall bids fair to almost reach the total fall for the first six months of the year.

Dirt and Rocks Slide Down on Train Near Monroe Bridge—Passengers in Baggage Car

NORTH ADAMS, July 2.—The morning train on the Hoosac Tunnel & Wilmington railroad narrowly escaped being ditched yesterday when a mass of rocks and dirt was dislodged from the top of an embankment and crashed down on the train as it was nearing Monroe Bridge, Mass.

The engineer quickly stopped the train. The bowlers, some of them eight feet in circumference, struck the train and piled against the locomotive and baggage car. By removing the tops of the baggage car it was possible for the train to proceed, leaving the passenger coach behind.

There were about 50 passengers and they all piled into the baggage car to reach Wilmington station.

174 CENTRAL STREET

ST. RAILWAY CO.'S OFFER ON THE BRIDGE QUESTION

The bridge matter is taking on a new aspect and one that gives more assurance of getting a bridge that will stand the floods, the froshets, the Junction cars, the steam rollers and the weather. The plans will have to pass muster or be dropped.

The new feature is that the Bay State Street Railway Co. agrees that it will give $5000 toward the new Pawtucket bridge, but it insists that the plans shall be approved by engineers of its selection, and those engineers are the J. R. Worcester Co. of Boston.

J. R. Worcester Co. are the engineers who have been mentioned with others by Col. Carmichael as the experts whom he would like to have pass upon the matter before any definite step is taken, but the J. R. Worcester Co. are also the firm to whom Engineer Denman firmly declines to submit his plans. And there you are.

Mayor Murphy, Col. Carmichael and City Solicitor Hennessy went to Boston yesterday and held a conference with Mr. P. F. Sullivan, president of the Bay State St. Ry. Co., and Mr. Sullivan said that the company will contribute $5000 toward the cost of the new bridge on condition that the structure will be made strong enough to take care of all future street railway traffic over it, that the plans be approved by an engineer selected by the company and that the engineer be allowed to pass judgment on the mixture of cement and other materials used in its construction.

It now remains to be seen if Mr. Denman will stand for the "once over" by the engineer or engineers to whom he has hitherto refused to submit his plans.

FOR THE CHARITY BOARD WEAR CORK-LINED SUIT

GOV. WALSH APPOINTS DR. MERRICK OF DORCHESTER TO SUCCEED D. F. TILLEY

BOSTON, July 2.—Gov. Walsh yesterday afternoon announced a number of important nominations which he will submit to the council at its meeting next week for confirmation. Before that time the governor is likely to make public his selections for appointment to other offices now vacant or where the terms of the present incumbents have expired. With those made Tuesday and yesterday Gov. Walsh will have named 47 persons for various state offices.

One of the most interesting appointments yesterday was that of Dr. Robert M. Merrick of Dorchester to the state board of charity, in place of David F. Tilley, whose term expired this year. Mr. Tilley, it was understood, was a candidate for reappointment. There is still another member of the state board of charity to be named soon.

Yesterday's list included the reappointment of Hon. Alonzo R. Weed of Newton as chairman of the board of gas and electric light commissioners. There were other reappointments, including those of Agnes O'R. Taft of Brookline as a member of the commission for the blind; James M. Morrison of Boston to the Boston finance commission; Thomas C. O'Brien of Boston, a member of the board of pardon and parole; Carl Freytag, a trustee of the Massachusetts training schools, and Dr. Worthington W. Miner of Ware, medical examiner of Hampshire county.

New Appointments included those of J. Russell Madsen of Worcester, clerk of the General Insurance Guaranty fund, to succeed Hamilton Mayo of Leominster, whose term had expired; T. James Gallagher of Watertown, clerk of the Waltham court, to succeed Dudley Roberts, whose term had expired; Simeon B. Hotchkiss of Gloucester, clerk of the district court of Eastern Essex, to succeed Carlton J. Parsons, whose term had expired; and Abner L. Bralley, a son of Justice Bralley of the supreme judicial court, to be special justice of the district court of Dukes county. Mr. Bralley will succeed Judge Everett A. Davis, whom the governor nominated as judge of probate for Dukes county on Tuesday.

FOR MURDEROUS ASSAULT

JAMES KILAKOS IN COURT FOR ALLEGED ATTEMPT TO MURDER BROTHER-IN-LAW

James Kilakos, charged with assault with intent to murder his brother-in-law, James Dracoulakos, was arraigned on continuance before Judge Wright in police court this forenoon. At the request of his counsel, Daniel J. Donahue, the case was continued until July 8 for trial, the bail being reduced from $10,000 to $3000.

Dr. Clark, superintendent of the Lowell hospital, was called to the witness stand and he informed the court that Dracoulakos is out of all danger and will positively recover. Dracoulakos was present in court. On his left cheek is a long wound alleged to have been received from the defendant's knife. The bullet is still in his back, it is said.

It will be recalled that the assault occurred on the night of June 12 in the rear of the Textile school after a quarrel between defendant and complainant. Dracoulakos was found lying on the grass late at night while Kilakos was arrested in that vicinity the next morning.

Joseph Richards, who appealed from a sentence to the women's reformatory at Sherborn last week, appeared in court today and withdrew her appeal. On the promise that she would go to New York with a married sister, the sentence was suspended for one year. Two second offenders for drunkenness paid $6 fines, while Daniel J. McCarthy, complained of for scolding young girls on the street, was ordered to pay a fine of $5. One other drunken offender was sent to jail for 30 days.

SUMMER FOODS AS CAUSE OF DYSPEPSIA

Effect on Digestive Organs Responsible For Many Ills

Summer should be the season of most perfect health but impure water and milk, unripe fruit and a tendency to over-indulge in acid foods and iced drinks results in a contrary condition in many people.

The effect of the average summer diet is to constipate, cause normally regular bowels to become irregular. This condition can best be corrected by the use of a mild laxative that has combined with it the elements of a digestive tonic. The combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is gentle, yet positive in its action and brings relief in an easy, natural manner, without griping or other discomfort.

A dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin on retiring each night will regulate

BURNED TO DEATH

Roxbury Woman of 70

BOSTON, July 2.—Mrs. Maria Mullen, 70 years old, a widow, living alone in the attic of the two and a half-story building at 7 Texas street, Roxbury, was burned to death last evening, shortly after 9 o'clock, when her nightclothes became ignited as she sought to extinguish a fire on her bureau. When medical assistance was called, Mrs. Mullen was declared to be dead. Her body was removed to the city morgue.

Mrs. Mullen returned to her room shortly before 9 o'clock. She prepared for bed and, having lighted and turned low the wick in her bedroom lamp, she carelessly threw the burning match to the top of the bureau. The match set fire to the bureau linen.

Mrs. Mullen leaped from her bed and sought to extinguish the flame. The flames communicated to her nightclothes. The woman screamed as her clothes were burned from her. Those about the dwelling on other floors hastened to her assistance and with pails of water extinguished the fire about the room and on Mrs. Mullen's clothes.

Dr. Thomas O'Connor, attached to the Roxbury Crossing police station, answered a summons and soon after Medical Examiner Leary visited the house. Dr. Leary pronounced the woman dead. It was said that she had inhaled the flames. She was severely burned about the body.

OF CENSORSHIP

NEW YORK, July 2.—Dr. Cranston Brenton of this city and Hartford, Conn., today assumed the duties of chairman of the National board of censorship of motion pictures. His election to that office was ratified by the board yesterday. Dr. Brenton succeeds Frederick C. Howe, who recently resigned. He formerly was professor of English language and literature at Trinity college, Hartford, and last October became war relief director of the American Red Cross.

THE TOWN OF BILLERICA

MARRIAGE OF MR. HOUGHTON OF
NO. ANDOVER AND MISS HELEN M.
WILKINS AT BRIDE'S HOME

Mr. Robert Bigelow Houghton of North Andover, formerly principal of the Dillard school of Billerica, and Miss Helen Marion Wilkins, daughter of Mrs. Mary A. Wilkins of Billerica, were united in marriage last evening at the bride's home. Rev. Herbert E. Benton of this city, a cousin of the bride, officiated and was assisted by Rev. J. Harold Dale of Billerica. The bride was handsomely gowned in white tulle trimmed with chantilly lace, with a veil trimmed with lilies of the valley. She carried bride's roses. Miss Grace Frye, the bridesmaid, wore a dress of blue silk and carried sweet peas. Mr. Richard Houghton, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the vestry of the Congregational church. The ushers were J. Harry Wilkins, Fred Nickless, Wendell Eldridge and Everett S. Bull. Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Harold Dale and Miss Edna Maude Robinson. Mr. and Mrs. Houghton left late in the evening on a wedding trip after which they will reside in Billerica.

FIVE MILE RACE

There will be a meeting of the Republican city committee and outgoing committee at republican headquarters tonight, to which all members have been notified to be present. Secretary George Emsley of the sports committee reports he has received several entries for the five mile race and expects that there will be quite a few more before the entry list is closed. The race is open to amateurs only and will start on scratch.

THE RICHARDSON HOTEL

The wrestling tournament will be of an exciting character and one of the main features of the afternoon sports. Several new men have been secured and several exciting bouts will be furnished the spectators. The chief marshal of the parade, Charles Wotton of ward three, is bustling to make the parade a success. He is inviting all republicans who have automobiles to be at the Richardson hotel on Saturday, July 10 at 1:30 p. m., so they can take part in the parade and escort the distinguished speakers who are to be present. It is still possible that Senator Henry Cabot Lodge may be here that day. See advertisement on Sporting page.

General Mission Board of Episcopal Church Announces Contributions to Emergency Fund Since April

NEW YORK, July 2.—The general mission board of the Episcopal church announced today that it has received $250,000 in contributions to its emergency fund since April. This is almost enough to meet a deficit of $250,000 which has existed for several years. The board hopes to collect $150,000 to be set aside as a loan fund to cover any future deficit. Only 1700 of the 3400 Episcopal churches in the country share in this special fund plan.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A well attended meeting of Elgin lodge, 166, N. E. O. P., was held last evening in Veritas hall, on Branch street with Deputy Grand Warden Estelle I. Evans and Grand Guide Mayhew of Cambridge on official visits. The officers gave considerable information regarding the new rates. On behalf of the lodge, the deputy grand warden presented prizes to George Camp and Mrs. Brooks for perfect attendance at the meetings during the past six months. Following the meeting a novelty sale was conducted and refreshments were served.

James A. Garfield Relief Corps, 33, met last evening in regular session. Supper was served at 6 o'clock by Mrs. Ada Myrick assisted by Mrs. Belle Luce, Miss Gladys Storm and Miss Helen Smith. The meeting was called to order at 1:30 by the president, Dr. Emma Slaughter. Routine business was transacted. Nineteen members of Burbank Relief Corps, 84, were present from Woburn and one visitor was present from B. F. Butler

Corps, 75. A picnic will be held at the home of Mrs. Haas, July 28. The next meeting of the corps will be held on August 12. Under the good of the order remarks were made by Mrs. Green of Woburn and Mrs. Bower of Corps 75. There was also a song by Mrs. Ada Myrick. The meeting closed with salute to the flag.
Interest begins Saturday, July 10, at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

THE TRADE BALANCE

The preachers of optimism have their innings and the pessimists are wholly discredited. On proof which is absolutely conclusive it is certain that, in a broadly national sense, America is enjoying unusual prosperity. Here and there may be still some slight disorganization or stagnation, but, taking the country as a whole, we are on a sound basis and on the swelling wave of prosperity.

It has been officially stated at Washington that the balance of trade in favor of this country since last December is $1,050,000,000. In seven months this balance has grown over 60 per cent. larger than any trade balance for any year in our history. In other words, we have exported goods to the value of more than a billion dollars in excess of our imports, and instead of owing any nation money, all nations owe, or will soon owe, us money. We are fast becoming a creditor nation, the greatest creditor nation, the only creditor nation. Peace, bath its victories, surely, and they are victories that will bring prosperity and happiness to our millions while the rest of the world groans under the burden of taxation and blood money extorted by the present senseless struggle.

In many other ways our coming prosperity is forecasted. It is seen in the desire of all the Americas to come together in a bond of trade and commercial expansion; it is seen in the growing desire for a merchant marine; it is seen in our financial expansion into the world capitals and the fact that New York is supplanting London and Paris as the financial centre of the world; it is shown in the newly-born cooperation between our government and private business for the extension of American trade influence in all foreign markets. It is shown in the starting of new American industries and the new sense of national dependence which is taking the place of dependence on foreign manufacturers or sellers of raw materials. America is applying the war lessons as well as pocketing the war profits.

The close of the war will probably find us clear of debt without owing any money to Europe. May it find Europe owing us a debt of gratitude for our real neutrality, and our national influence in restoring peace to the world!

The Sun has called attention to the fact that the war despatches, which come almost wholly from London or from the English officials in the war zones, do not give sufficient credit to France for the gallant part she is playing in the fight against the Teutonic allies. From the first, the English side of the story has been played up as the most important, and every important success against German arms was attributed to English bravery or the superiority of English equipment. France has received only a meagre and wholly unsatisfactory notice, but those who investigate the war at close range, as well as prominent German propagandists have repeatedly declared that England is not just to France in the war news which is sent to the American newspapers. England has nothing to gain from this, and France should be given the credit that is her due. England has indeed played a brilliant part and suffered serious losses, especially in the early engagements, but in the long grind of trench deadlocks, it is France that has done the lion's share.

William D. Taylor, a prominent citizen of Dorchester, who has been abroad for the past four months getting contracts for war orders, has spoken of this in graphic interviews to the press. He declared that while England has given a large army, France has given her all, and that England is holding back while France is suffering most grievously. In France, he says, the class of 1917, composed of boys 18 years old, is about to be called, while in England the response to recruiting appeals has been so lukewarm as to draw forth the most impassioned appeals and even threats of conscription from government officials. In a bulletin which Mr. Taylor claims to have seen in the English war office, Belgium was said to be holding 17 miles of trenches, England 31, and France 543. These figures speak eloquently of the wonderful part played in the war by the French, and they make one wonder why all or nearly all of the gallant happenings are in the front of the 31 miles held by England, while so little happens in the front of 543 miles held by the French.

At this distance, it looks as though France realizes how vital the war is to her interests, to a far greater extent than does England. In France the danger is at the door, but to the average Englishman it is something remote and impersonal, and he regards it as certain that his country will be victorious in the end. Better that he be not so sure if a little unrest would show him what he might do to safeguard his natural interests. The ultimatum of Lloyd George to the English workers and the appeals of Asquith for national thrift show that there is something decidedly lacking in the attitude of the English masses towards the war. The continuous praise of England and the recital of her brave deeds, as seen in the daily war despatches do not harmonize entirely with realities, but the unrecorded French sacrifices are surely the outcome of the magnificent spirit which has animated France in the struggle against her mighty foe.

SOME AMERICAN TRIALS

It is not soothing to our sense of national pride to have American trials referred to as undesirable in a famous English murder trial, but we cannot deny that the reproach is merited. The incident in question happened during the trial of a man charged with the murder of three women who were his wives, by drowning them in a bath tub. An attorney representing the prisoner in referring to the evidence of two doctors said "such medical evidence opens the door to the worst form of Americanism in the administration of British justice." In another part of his address, the reproach was still more pointed. "Suppose the prisoner had not been a pauper as he is," said the attorney, "but possessed of unlimited means, like many recent American prisoners. He could have procured experts to say that the cause of death was other than the one given by the experts for the crown."

It is not necessary for us to refresh our memories by recalling some famous trials of the past ten years. Just now the Thaw jury trial in New York affords sufficient illustration of the evil mentioned in London. Both Thaw and the state have a corps of medical experts, one group of which is sure that Thaw is insane, and ready to prove it by references to famous authorities and on scientific testimony that the average man cannot understand; the other group is equally certain that Thaw is sane and harmless. Such spectacles do not conduce to respect for American trials or confidence in the medical profession. The number of experts pro and con is generally regulated by the size of the prisoner's bank roll.

This form of what the English attorney called "Americanism" should be done away with, and the sooner the better. If the state should employ the only expert to testify, or even a group of experts, composed of men of undoubted integrity and ability, it would not be necessary for the ends of justice that the respective prisoners should go out to hire illustrious experts who, for a good financial consideration would testify to anything. The English charge is very direct and actually deserved, although it hurts to acknowledge the fact.

A DANGEROUS EXAMPLE

As a protest against capital punishment, Thomas Mott Osborne, the famous warden of Sing Sing, left the prison Wednesday night in order to avoid being present at the electrocution of a prisoner. He made no secret of his intention, declaring that it was the only way he could protest against the law which made the execution necessary. Like many other things done by Mr. Osborne, the incident has been given considerable press notice.

By absents himself from an electrocution, the warden of Sing Sing proves that he has a very sympathetic nature, but it does not prove that he has a clear conception of duty. His protest was against the law of New York state, and it was to uphold the law he took his present position. If at the time he assumed control he could not conscientiously subscribe to the doctrine of capital punishment, it is doubtful if he was justified in becoming warden. The man who would take pleasure in seeing an electrocution is a monster, but it is not for the warden of a state prison to put his own feelings above the law of the state. By absents himself from the unpleasant occasion, Mr. Osborne may have called attention to the cruelty of capital punishment, but he also called attention to the danger of putting a sentimentalist in charge of a prison.

What would be the result of Mr. Osborne's policy, carried to extreme? The soldier might refuse to obey his officer, the judge might refrain from sending anybody to prison, the policeman might lose sight of the public interest, and the governor might make the abstention of a prison warden from executions unnecessary by granting a pardon or commutation of sentence to all prisoners. It is not for any public official to consult his private feelings when the law of the state is so directly in question.

THE ARMENIAN

The loss of the Armenian is the most important submarine incident since the sinking of the Lusitania, but it looks as though it will precipitate no complications of a serious nature. If, as Ambassador Fays has reported, the vessel was "engaged on admiralty business," it was a fair prize of war, and though there will be some question as to whether the crew was sufficiently warned, the Germans seem to have been within their rights in sinking her on the plea of military necessity. It is a matter for regret in this country that so many of the crew were American citizens, but it is as though Americans had deliberately sought service on an English warship. Had the Armenian been a merchant vessel, the effect of her sinking would have been serious, now that the Lusitania matter is pending settlement, but it does not promise any further trouble. In all probability German submarine activity will grow as exports from this country increase, but whether the rules of international law will be observed any better only time can tell.

ANOTHER MURDER

For the sake of the reputation of Lowell, it is to be hoped that the murderer of John Demos will soon be on trial for his deed, and that eventually he will pay the penalty. It was a murder of unusual brutality, and without any palliating features. Many aspects of the case resemble those of the Gingsras murder, the result of which, unfortunately, has not had a deterrent effect. Once again all our citizens—and particularly our citizens of foreign birth—are shown in an awful way, the folly of carrying around large sums of money. Gingsras was apparently murdered for the bank roll he used to carry, and it is said that

Demos had $800 in a belt which is missing. The knowledge of so much ready money must be a great temptation to the weak and the vicious, and the dangers of having such amounts concealed in the house or on the person are obvious. If all our workers put their savings in the regular savings banks we should have fewer murders of the Gingsras and Demos type.

DANGER OF PRECEDENT

The importance of the Frye case as viewed by our state department is reflected in the tedious negotiations and protracted discussions that have followed its loss and is due to something deeper than the superficial facts in the case. It will be recalled that Germany expressed regret for the sinking of this vessel and offered to submit the case to a prize court, but the United States government has insisted that it should be settled by diplomacy, according to treaties with Prussia in 1793 and 1828. Even though the judgment of a prize court should be favorable, America, by submitting to it, would have established a dangerous precedent, virtually admitting that a cash settlement would offset a submarine attack on American ships. By holding out for the Gingsras murder, the result of which, unfortunately, has not had a deterrent effect. Once again all our citizens—and particularly our citizens of foreign birth—are shown in an awful way, the folly of carrying around large sums of money. Gingsras was apparently murdered for the bank roll he used to carry, and it is said that

SEEN AND HEARD

Abie Martin says "there wuz plenty o' pink blossoms this spring fer those who cared t' git married." If you are susceptible to poison ivy, here is a very simple remedy suggested by a physician. It is the application of gasoline. This is said to kill the poison, and is at least worth trying by those unfortunates who seem unable to get anything else to help them when they get near the pernicious vine.

EYE FOR BUSINESS

One of the wealthy men of Cleveland, whose education is not as comprehensive as his business instinct, recently visited Washington, and, incidentally, some of the historic towns of interest thereabout. "Here," said a guide to him one day, "right here in this room, sir, George Washington received his first commission." Whereupon the Clevelander brightened up. "Do you happen to know," he asked, "what per cent. commission it was?"—Harper's Magazine.

OUR LABOR LAWS

"I can't say that I am particularly impressed with the law that makes it necessary for my boy to loaf during the time he is out of school," remarked a father this week. "It isn't that I need the money my son will give me, but I believe it would be better for him if he could go to work doing something. He is a husky lad, though only 12 years old, and ought to be turning his hand to something useful for his own good. When I was his age, I started in to work, and it never hurt me a particle. I earned a large part of my high school education driving a milk team in the wee small hours of the morning, while going to school days, and while I didn't take all the honors in sight, I think I was all the better fit, physically, for my work. My

There Is Nothing Like a Trip to Yellowstone National Park

I know of no other spot in all the world that is in any way similar to Yellowstone. It offers to the vacation seeker, weary of the sameness in ocean or land travel or the monotony of the seashore or mountains, a distinctive outing unrivaled.

Imagine the fascination of a six day stage tour of this Great National Park stopping daily at picturesque and well kept hotels. Think of geysers, throwing out boiling water to great heights, immense waterfalls, deep chasms with marvelously colored sides.

Then to make the trip doubly enjoyable, my road—the Burlington Route (C. B. & Q. R. R.) provides a special conductor every week who acts as guide and points out everything of interest and who looks after the comfort of our patrons right from the start at Chicago.

Let me send you a copy of our booklet showing maps, pictures and descriptions of Yellowstone Park, and the beautiful Mississippi Valley, that you pass through en route. Let me help you plan your trip and take care of the details—I will gladly do it. Write, call or telephone.

candid opinion of the labor laws is that they were made more with the idea of benefiting man than for the benefit of boys, whatever may be the arguments and sentimental opinions put forward for the boys."

MARY GARRIGAN BARRY

Mrs. Mary Garrigan Barry is the daughter of Michael Garrigan, a former resident of this city and a relative of Rt. Rev. Bishop Garrigan. She is a lady of about 33 years of age and is married to Mr. J. A. Barry, of 564 Washington street, Boston. She is a gifted poetess, as the following sonnet will indicate:

JUNE

Here comes the Queen all full of lure and fire,
A siren bent on Nature's glad fruition;
With eyes that heavy are with green desire,
And heart maternal, goes she on her mission.
When Mistress June sweeps down the budding lanes,
The tender leaflets burst out broad and strong;
The pressed roses kissed by warm, soft rains,
Are crimson glories. The birds are rich in song.
The fragrant perfume of the honey-suckle
Is friendly rival to wistaria's charms.
All clad in verdant green from crown to buckle,
She scatters miracles from her smilax palms.
The Queen arrives, the year is at its noon,
A radiant beauty, but no Saint, is June!

THE MOUNTAIN LAUREL

Mountain laurel, a favorite of many, is found in abundance in Andover. The following from the Boston Herald is of interest:

"The most beautiful plant of the flora of North America is the mountain laurel, named by the great Linnaeus himself in honor of his favorite pupil, Peter Keim, who discovered it while traveling in America almost two centuries ago. For a few weeks every spring the laurel makes countless hill-sides and forest glades from New Hampshire to Louisiana indescribably lovely, with its clusters of pink and white blossoms. This is the one to see the New England laurel and to delight in its beauty. When one may take advantage of the opportunity he should see the enormous masses of laurel in northern and central Massachusetts, and if he cannot do this he should make the shorter pilgrimage to Jamaica Plain, where he will find it in the Arboretum, nestling at the base of the Tremont Hill. The finest show of the year at the Arboretum is that which the laurel presents. Right now, indeed, the Arboretum is pronounced by its director to be at its very best. Many other beautiful things are now in all their glory there and the great plantations of laurel are in full bloom."

THE LONGEST DAY

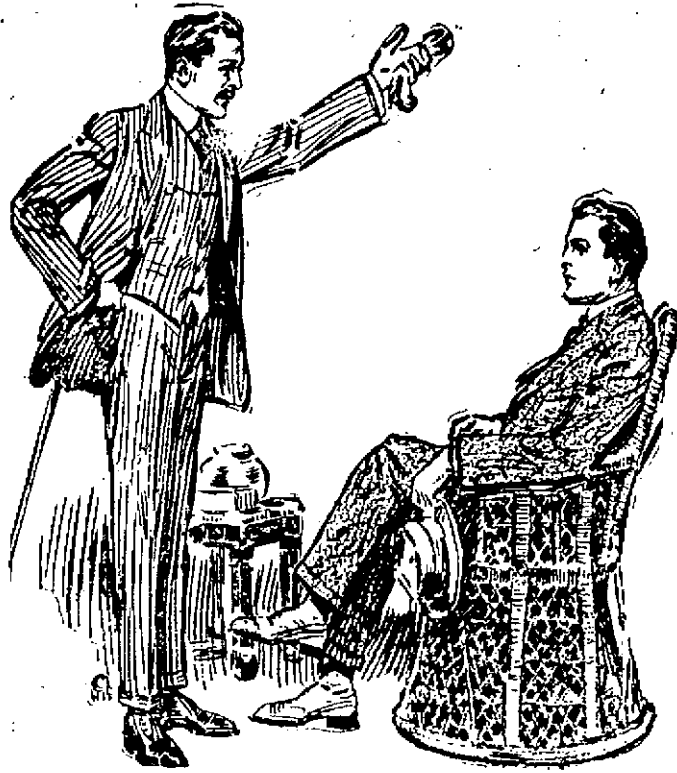

When Mrs. Miggs rose yesterday while yet the morn was pale
She got her husband's breakfast and she packed his dinner pail
She saw him off to work and then, according to her rule,
She dressed and fed her children six and nacked them off to school;
She flitted the tubs, put clothes to soak,
and then, no time to waste,
She washed the dishes, swept the floor and all with her own hands;
She soaped, she rubbed, she boiled, she rinsed,
while scraps of song were sung;
She used her fists for wringers and she wrung and wrung;
She drew her line from pole to pole at fences north and south
And chatted with her neighbors with a clatter in her throat;
She hung the clothes upon the line and grumbled as she joked:
"Them clothes they won't be on't dried but they'll be dried and smoked!"
And then the kids came home from school all anxious to be fed.
She threw a meal together—tea and sugar and then she hurried to the store and got the things she'd need To build a loaf of size enough a hundred crabs to feed;
She set the table, cooked the grub,
and saw them eat their fill,
And then to wash the dishes set to work with iron will.

"Say, mom!" said little Mamie Miggs.
In all the longest day That's so," said Mamie's mamma, and grinned a little bit.
"Well, mebbe so an' mebbe not. I hadn't noticed it."

MILLS WILL SHUT DOWN

BARNABY MILLS OF FALL RIVER CLOSE TOMORROW FOR INDEFINITE PERIOD

FALL RIVER, July 2.—The directors of the Barnaby mills, manufacturing ginghams, have decided to suspend operations indefinitely. It was announced today. The mills will be shut down tomorrow. About 1000 employees will be affected.

According to the directors the plant has been curtailing production recently and there has been a market for the accumulated finished goods on hand. The over-head expenses have increased and it was considered advisable to close rather than to operate under existing conditions.

PRIEST ASKS PROTECTION

Fr. Dellaporta of Springfield attacked because of his advice to Italian Reservists to stay here.

SPRINGFIELD, July 2.—Rev. Anthony Dellaporta, pastor of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel church on William street, has asked for police protection as he fears violence as a result of his advice to Italian reservists to remain in this country.

The pastor says his motive was to discourage men with families from leaving them in this country without visible means of support in many instances.

Fr. Dellaporta told the police that Wednesday he received a call to visit a Water street woman. As he approached the house a strange Italian jumped out and attacked him, but the pastor was able to defend himself. A second Italian then appeared and stabbed and bruised the priest before friends rushed to his aid.

Fred C. Church carried the insurance on the dwelling of Mrs. Parker, 37 Belmont avenue, struck by lightning yesterday.

BOARD OF TRADE

Arranged for the Annual Outing at Canobie Lake Park

The annual outing of the board of trade will be held on Thursday afternoon, July 29, at Canobie Lake park. Three special electric cars have been scheduled for the occasion and the party will leave Merrimack square at 12:15 o'clock.

President Robert F. Marden stated this morning a prominent out-of-town speaker will be secured for the occasion and a man well posted in municipal affairs will give an interesting informal talk on municipalities. Dinner will be served at the pavilion and the latter part of the afternoon will be devoted to outdoor sports.

Secretary John H. Murphy will get busy on posting up route signs for the benefit of automobilists tomorrow. These signs, about 24 in number, are made of wood, nicely ornamented, and they will serve in directing tourists through the best roads of Lowell. The signs will be hung on the poles of the Day State Street Railway Co. and those of the Lowell Electric Light Corp.

The signs will show the best route out of Lowell to the various surrounding cities, while other signs of the steel type, pointing to Lowell will be placed in the suburbs. The money for the signs, $100, was appropriated from the fund of the Lowell Automobile league, while the work of putting up the signs is being done by the board of trade.

EXPEDITION TO ARCTIC

DR. HOVEY TO JOIN RELIEF EXPEDITION IN QUEST OF MACMILLAN AND PARTY

NEW YORK, July 2.—Dr. Edmund O. Hovey, chairman of the Crocker Land exploration committee, was today on his way to North Sydney, N. S. to join the relief expedition to the Arctic in quest of Donald D. MacMillan and the members of his party who went north to find Crocker Land.

Dr. Hovey intended to stop at Eagle Island, South Harpswell, Me., for a conference with Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary and will then proceed to Sydney to go on board the schooner George B. Cluett. With the members of the relief expedition on board, the Cluett is to sail from that port later than July 10 for Etah, Greenland. The Cluett will carry the relief expedition to the Arctic regions and will bring back to New York such members of the party as desire to return. Collections gathered in Greenland for the American Museum of Natural History will be brought south by the relief vessel.

JUDGE MULLIGAN DEAD

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 2.—Judge James Hillary Mulligan, former United States consul general at Samoa and author of the famous poem, "In Kentucky," died at his home here last night after a short illness. He was 71 years old. Judge Mulligan's wife died ten days ago.

TRY TO KEEP OUT OF WAR

SPAIN EXPERIENCING DIFFICULTY IN MAINTAINING NEUTRALITY

MADRID, via Paris, July 2, 6:40 a. m.—Spain is experiencing difficulty in maintaining neutrality and in a further effort to preserve it an official order has been given not to discuss the question in public.

The departure of the left, or opposition, informed Premier Dato that they purposed a speech-making campaign directed against the cabinet, because of the suppression of public meetings. The premier replied that he would authorize meetings on condition that neutrality be not mentioned, as discussion of that question would serve only to give public expression of sympathy for one side or the other in the war.

PRES. WILSON IN STUDY

SPENT FORENOON WORKING ON STATE DEPARTMENT MATTERS AND OTHER BUSINESS

CORNISH, N. H., July 2.—President Wilson spent the most of the forenoon in his study at Harlakenden house working on state department matters and other official business sent here from Washington.

The president read carefully reports from the state department on the Armenian incident, studied communications concerning Mexico and examined a report from Secretary Lansing on data laid before the state department by a committee of importers protesting against alleged British interference with trade between the United States and other neutral countries. This information will be considered carefully in the preparation of the final draft of the note soon to be sent to Great Britain.

Later Mr. Wilson and Dr. Cary Grayson braved the rain and walked through the woods surrounding the president's summer estate. An automobile trip was to be taken in the afternoon if the condition of the roads would permit. It was said at Harlakenden that the president expects to remain here another week unless business intervenes.

officials have ordered that a strict watch be kept.

Just how Gen. Funston is to take care of Huerta was not made clear today, but it is assumed that American troops not only will be instructed to watch the border carefully, but if necessary place a guard around Huerta's home and otherwise keep him under surveillance.

Request for Extradition. It has not been definitely determined what action will be taken on the request for extradition made by the Villa governor of Chihuahua. Secretary Lansing pointed out today that discretionary power was vested with the governor of Texas and that under the Mexican American treaty of 1899, the governors of contiguous border states in the United States and Mexico can arrange directly with the federal government for the extradition of fugitives from justice. He explained that the treaty providing also for the granting of requisitions asked by the "military authorities" when the civil authority was suspended and he believed that would cover the present case where no civil government has been recognized in northern Mexico.

Under the same treaty, if the federal government did not press its charges against Huerta for violation of neutrality statutes, Huerta would be re-arrested and held for forty days pending the arrival of evidence. Precedents established by the department of justice do not provide for bail in such cases. The impression was obtained in high official circles that this course was likely to be followed. The charges made by the Villa authorities were not sustained the department of labor would deport him to Spain.

RELIEF EXPEDITION NOW

WITHIN CARRANZA LINES

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The American Red Cross relief expedition for Mexico City has safely passed Yachuca within the Carranza lines and has gone on toward Mexico City. Whether it has continued on through the Zapata defenses and into the capital does not appear in today's reports from Consul Silliman.

A special train of twelve railroads of corn which left Vera Cruz yesterday for Yachuca, destined to Mexico City, was accompanied by armed guards furnished by Carranza. The latter expedition is thought here to be the one Carranza expects to take into the capital if his troops enter. The state department's announcement today said:

State Dept. Announcement. "The train was provided with an armed escort and was accompanied by W. P. Gavin, an American citizen. Mr. Silliman states that the secretary of war and the railroad officials at Vera Cruz gave special attention to the loading and transportation of this shipment, giving a preference over their own needs."

Consul Silliman also advises that Consul-General Shanklin and C. J. O'Connor, representatives of the American Red Cross went into Mexico City on June 30 from Yachuca. Working with their light freight but leaving heavier articles behind."

There was no direct word today from Mexico City. The text of reports telling of chaos and rioting that menaced foreigners will not be made public until after President Wilson has had an opportunity to thoroughly review them. All the important information coming to the state department regarding Mexico is being forwarded promptly to the president at Cornish.

It was said at the state department, that while plans for sending supplies into Mexico City through neutral agencies were under consideration, they had not assumed "very definite form." Efforts to induce Carranza to permit sending supplies to the capital from Vera Cruz are to be made, it is declared.

Taking Hospital Supplies

A telegram reaching the state department today and forwarded to the Red Cross here, said: "I am informed that Consul-General Shanklin, Joseph W. Rowe, his secretary, C. J. O'Connor of the Red Cross, and C. D. Wood, secretary, left Gen. Gonzales' headquarters this (Thursday) afternoon for Mexico City."

Hospitals in Mexico City are virtually without surgical supplies and the Red Cross delegates, in advance of the supplies of food which are being held up until there is some assurance of transportation into the capital.

IMPORTANT VICTORY

FOR THE CARRANZA FORCES

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 2.—Carranza forces in capturing San Felipe, south of San Luis Potosi achieved an important victory, with disastrous results to the Villa forces. According to a cablegram from Vera Cruz published here today by T. R. Beltran, Carranza consul. The message says that the large number of prisoners taken included Col. Ignacio Ochoa and Fernando Diaz Lombardo, nephew of Miguel Diaz Lombardo, foreign minister in the cabinet of Gen. Villa.

Gen. Oregon, according to the message, is at Encarnacion, near Aguas Calientes where he is recovering from his recent illness caused by the loss of his arm.

GEN. VILLA ASKS FOR

EXTRADITION OF HUERTA

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Formal request for the extradition of General Victoriano Huerta on various criminal charges has been presented to Governor Ferguson of Texas by the Villa governor of Chihuahua state.

This latest complication in the status of the former Mexican dictator, now facing prosecution at El Paso for alleged violation of American neutrality laws was brought to the attention of the federal government yesterday by Governor Ferguson, who forwarded the request to Secretary Lansing for consideration.

So long as Huerta is wanted by the department of justice, charges preferred by federal agents will take precedence, and until they are disposed of, it is not expected that the extradition question will be decided.

Both the Villa and Carranza factions charge that Huerta was implicated in the murder of President Madero and Vice President Suarez.

DECISION ON EXTRADITION OF

HUERTA UP TO STATE DEPT.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Decision on the question of the extradition of Gen. Victoriano Huerta on various criminal charges rested today with the state department. Formal request for the extradition of Huerta was before officials of the department today, having been submitted by Gov. Ferguson of Texas, at the request of the Villa governor of Chihuahua state.

Gen. Huerta is charged by the Villa and Carranza factions with implications in the murder of President Madero and Vice President Suarez, following the overthrow of the Madero administration and Huerta's assumption to power.

No decision on the extradition matter is looked for pending the disposition of charges preferred by agents of the federal government against Huerta of alleged violation of American neutrality.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

THE TRADE BALANCE

The preachers of optimism have their innings and the pessimists are wholly discredited. On proof which is absolutely conclusive it is certain that, in a broadly national sense, America is enjoying unusual prosperity. Here and there may be still some slight disorganization or stagnation, but, taking the country as a whole, we are on a sound basis and on the swelling wave of prosperity.

It has been officially stated at Washington that the balance of trade in favor of this country since last December is $1,050,000,000. In seven months this balance has grown over 60 per cent. larger than any trade balance for any year in our history. In other words, we have exported goods to the value of more than a billion dollars in excess of our imports, and instead of owing any nation money, all nations owe, or will soon owe, us money. We are fast becoming a creditor nation, the greatest creditor nation, the only creditor nation. Peace bath its victories, surely, and they are victories that will bring prosperity and happiness to our millions while the rest of the world groans under the burden of taxation and blood money extorted by the present senseless struggle.

In many other ways our coming prosperity is forecasted. It is seen in the desire of all the Americas to come together in a bond of trade and commercial expansion; it is seen in the growing desire for a merchant marine; it is seen in our financial expansion into the world capitals and the fact that New York is supplanting London and Paris as the financial centre of the world; it is shown in the newly-born cooperation between our government and private business for the extension of American trade influence in all foreign markets. It is shown in the starting of new American industries and the new sense of national dependence which is taking the place of dependence on foreign manufacturers or sellers of raw materials. America is applying the war lessons as well as pocketing the war profits.

The close of the war will probably find us clear of debt without owing any money to Europe. May it find Europe owing us a debt of gratitude for our real neutrality, and our national influence in restoring peace to the world!

The Sun has called attention to the fact that the war despatches, which come almost wholly from London or from the English officials in the war zones, do not give sufficient credit to France for the gallant part she is playing in the fight against the Teutonic allies. From the first, the English side of the story has been played up as the most important, and every important success against German arms was attributed to English bravery or the superiority of English equipment. France has received only a meagre and wholly unsatisfactory notice, but those who investigate the war at close range, as well as prominent German propagandists have repeatedly declared that England is not just to France in the war news which is sent to the American newspapers. England has nothing to gain from this, and France should be given the credit that is her due. England has indeed played a brilliant part and suffered serious losses, especially in the early engagements, but in the long grind of trench deadlocks, it is France that has done the lion's share.

William D. Taylor, a prominent citizen of Dorchester, who has been abroad for the past four months getting contracts for war orders, has spoken of this in graphic interviews to the press. He declared that while England has given a large army, France has given her all, and that England is holding back while France is suffering most grievously. In France, he says, the class of 1917, composed of boys 18 years old, is about to be called, while in England the response to recruiting appeals has been so lukewarm as to draw forth the most impassioned appeals and even threats of conscription from government officials. In a bulletin which Mr. Taylor claims to have seen in the English war office, Belgium was said to be holding 17 miles of trenches, England 31, and France 543. These figures speak eloquently of the wonderful part played in the war by the French, and they make one wonder why all or nearly all of the gallant happenings are in the front of the 31 miles held by England, while so little happens in the front of 543 miles held by the French.

At this distance, it looks as though France realizes how vital the war is to her interests, to a far greater extent than does England. In France the danger is at the door, but to the average Englishman it is something remote and impersonal, and he regards it as certain that his country will be victorious in the end. Better that he be not so sure if a little unrest would show him what he might do to safeguard his natural interests. The ultimatum of Lloyd George to the English workers and the appeals of Asquith for national thrift show that there is something decidedly lacking in the attitude of the English masses towards the war. The continuous praise of England and the recital of her brave deeds, as seen in the daily war despatches do not harmonize entirely with realities, but the unrecorded French sacrifices are surely the outcome of the magnificent spirit which has animated France in the struggle against her mighty foe.

SOME AMERICAN TRIALS

It is not soothing to our sense of national pride to have American trials referred to as undesirable in a famous English murder trial, but we cannot deny that the reproach is merited. The incident in question happened during the trial of a man charged with the murder of three women who were his wives, by drowning them in a bath tub. An attorney representing the prisoner in referring to the evidence of two doctors said "such medical evidence opens the door to the worst form of Americanism in the administration of British justice." In another part of his address, the reproach was still more pointed. "Suppose the prisoner had not been a pauper as he is," said the attorney, "but possessed of unlimited means, like many recent American prisoners. He could have procured experts to say that the cause of death was other than the one given by the experts for the crown."

It is not necessary for us to refresh our memories by recalling some famous trials of the past ten years. Just now the Thaw jury trial in New York affords sufficient illustration of the evil mentioned in London. Both Thaw and the state have a corps of medical experts, one group of which is sure that Thaw is insane, and ready to prove it by references to famous authorities and on scientific testimony that the average man cannot understand; the other group is equally certain that Thaw is sane and harmless. Such spectacles do not conduce to respect for American trials or confidence in the medical profession. The number of experts pro and con is generally regulated by the size of the prisoner's bank roll.

This form of what the English attorney called "Americanism" should be done away with, and the sooner the better. If the state should employ the only expert to testify, or even a group of experts, composed of men of undoubted integrity and ability, it would not be necessary for the ends of justice that the respective prisoners should go out to hire illustrious experts who, for a good financial consideration would testify to anything. The English charge is very direct and actually deserved, although it hurts to acknowledge the fact.

A DANGEROUS EXAMPLE

As a protest against capital punishment, Thomas Mott Osborne, the famous warden of Sing Sing, left the prison Wednesday night in order to avoid being present at the electrocution of a prisoner. He made no secret of his intention, declaring that it was the only way he could protest against the law which made the execution necessary. Like many other things done by Mr. Osborne, the incident has been given considerable press notice. By absents himself from an electrocution, the warden of Sing Sing proves that he has a very sympathetic nature, but it does not prove that he has a clear conception of duty. His protest was against the law of New York state, and it was to uphold the law he took his present position. If at the time he assumed control he could not conscientiously subscribe to the doctrine of capital punishment, it is doubtful if he was justified in becoming warden. The man who would take pleasure in seeing an electrocution is a monster, but it is not for the warden of a state prison to put his own feelings above the law of the state. By absents himself from the unpleasant occasion, Mr. Osborne may have called attention to the cruelty of capital punishment, but he also called attention to the danger of putting a sentimentalist in charge of a prison.

What would be the result of Mr. Osborne's policy, carried to extreme? The soldier might refuse to obey his officer, the judge might refrain from sending anybody to prison, the policeman might lose sight of the public interest, and the governor might make the abstinence of a prison warden from executions unnecessary by granting a pardon or commutation of sentence to all prisoners. It is not for any public official to consult his private feelings when the law of the state is so directly in question.

THE ARMENIAN

The loss of the Armenian is the most important submarine incident since the sinking of the Lusitania, but it looks as though it will precipitate no complications of a serious nature. If, as Ambassador Pace has reported, the vessel was "engaged on admiralty business," it was a fair prize of war, and, though there will be some question as to whether the crew was sufficiently warned, the Germans seem to have been within their rights in sinking her on the plea of military necessity. It is a matter for regret in this country that so many of the crew were American citizens, but it is as though Americans had deliberately sought service on an English warship. Had the Armenian been a merchant vessel, the effect of her sinking would have been serious, now that the Lusitania matter is pending settlement, but it does not promise any further trouble. In all probability German submarine activity will grow as exports from this country increase, but whether the rules of international law will be observed any better only time can tell.

ANOTHER MURDER

For the sake of the reputation of Lowell, it is to be hoped that the murderer of John Demos will soon be on trial for his deed, and that eventually he will pay the penalty. It was a murder of unusual brutality, and without any palliating features. Many aspects of the case resemble those of the Gingsras murder, the result of which, unfortunately, has not had a deterrent effect. Once again all our citizens—and particularly our citizens of foreign birth—are shown in an awful way, the folly of carrying around large sums of money. Gingsras was apparently murdered for the bank roll he used to carry, and it is said that

Demos had $800 in a belt which is missing. The knowledge of so much ready money must be a great temptation to the weak and the vicious, and the dangers of having such amounts concealed in the house or on the person are obvious. If all our workers put their savings in the regular savings banks we should have fewer murders of the Gingsras and Demos type.

DANGER OF PRECEDENT

The importance of the Frye case as viewed by our state department is reflected in the tedious negotiations and protracted discussions that have followed its loss and is due to something deeper than the superficial facts in the case. It will be recalled that Germany expressed regret for the sinking of this vessel and offered to submit the case to a prize court, but the United States government has insisted that it should be settled by diplomacy, according to treaties with Prussia in 1799 and 1828. Even though the judgment of a prize court should be favorable to America, by submitting to it, would have established a dangerous precedent, virtually admitting that a cash settlement would offset a submarine attack on American ships. By holding out for American treaty rights, which are in accordance with our rights under the usage of international law, this government refuses to sacrifice any American principle. Hence the reason for such detailed and protracted negotiations on both sides. The settlement of the Frye case will be an important fact in history.

SEEN AND HEARD

Abe Martin says "there wuz plenty of pink blossoms this spring for those who cared 't kilt married." If you are susceptible to poison ivy, here is a very simple remedy suggested by a physician. It is the application of gasoline. This is said to kill the poison, and is at least worth trying by those unfortunates who seem unable to get anything else to help them when they get near the pernicious vine.

EYE FOR BUSINESS

One of the wealthy men of Cleveland, whose education is not as comprehensive as his business instinct, recently visited Washington, and, incidentally, some of the historic towns of interest thereabout. "Here," said a guide to him one day, "right here in this room, sir, George Washington received his first commission."

Whereupon the Clevelander brightened up. "Do you happen to know," he asked, "what per cent. commission it was?"—Harper's Magazine.

OUR LABOR LAWS

"I can't say that I am particularly impressed with the law that makes it necessary for my boy to loaf during the time he is out of school," remarked a father this week. "It isn't that I need the money my son will give me, but I believe it would be better for him if he could go to work doing something. He is a husky lad, though only 12 years old, and ought to be turning his hand to something useful for his own good. When I was his age, I started in to work, and it never hurt me a particle. I earned a large part of my high school education driving a milk team in the great city of Lowell, while going to school days, and while I didn't take all the honors in sight, I think I was all the better for it, physically, for my work. My

There Is Nothing Like a Trip to Yellowstone National Park

I know of no other spot in all the world that is in any way similar to Yellowstone. It offers to the vacation seeker, weary of the sameness in ocean or land travel or the monotony of the seashore or mountains, a distinctive outing unrivaled.

Imagine the fascination of a six day stage tour of this Great National Park stopping daily at picturesque and well kept hotels. Think of geysers, throwing out boiling water to great heights, immense waterfalls, deep chasms with marvelously colored slides.

Then to make the trip doubly enjoyable, my road—the Burlington Route (C. & N. Y. R. R.) provides a special conductor every week who acts as guide and points out everything of interest and who looks after the comfort of our patrons right from the start at Chicago.

Let me send you a copy of our booklet showing maps, pictures and descriptions of Yellowstone Park, and the beautiful Mississippi Valley that you pass through en route. Let me help you plan your trip and take care of the details—I will gladly do it. Write me at telephone 244, Chicago, or Alex. Stocks, New England Pass. Agt. C. & N. Y. R. candid opinion of the labor laws is that they were made more with the idea of benefiting man than for the benefit of boys, whatever may be the arguments and sentimental opinions put forward for the boys."

MARY GARRIGAN BARRY

Mrs. Mary Garrigan Barry is the daughter of Michael Garrigan, a former resident of this city and a relative of Rt. Rev. Bishop Garrigan. She is a lady of about 33 years of age and is married to Mr. J. A. Barry, of 564 Washington street, Boston. She is a gifted poetess, as the following sonnet will indicate:

JUNE

Here comes the Queen all full of lure and fire,
A siren bent on Nature's glad fruition;
With eyes that heavy are with green desire,
And heart maternal, goes she on her mission.
When Mistress June sweeps down the budding lanes,
The tender leaflets burst out broad and strong;
The Summer roses kissed by warm, soft rains,
Are crimson glories. The birds are in their song.
The fragrant perfume of the honey-suckle
Is friendly rival to wistaria's charms.
All clad in verdant green from crown to buckle,
She scatters miracles from her small palms.
The Queen arrives, the year is at its noon;
A radiant beauty, but no Saint, is June!

THE MOUNTAIN LAUREL

Mountain laurel, a favorite of many, is found in abundance in Andover. The following from the Boston Herald is of interest:

"The most beautiful plant of the flora of North America is the mountain laurel, named by the great Linnaeus himself in honor of his favorite pupil, Peter Keim, who discovered it while traveling in America almost two centuries ago. For a few weeks every spring the laurel makes countless hill-sides and forest glades from New Hampshire to Louisiana indescribably lovely, with its clusters of pink and white blossoms. This is the time to see the New England laurel and to delight in its beauty. When one may take advantage of the opportunity to see the enormous masses of laurel in northern and central Massachusetts, and if he cannot do this he should make the short pilgrimage to Jamaica Plain, where he will find it in the Arboretum, nestling at the base of Henslow Hill. The finest show of the year at the Arboretum is that which the laurel presents. Right now, indeed, the Arboretum is pronounced by its director to be at its very best. Many other beautiful things are now in all their glory there, and the great plantations of laurel are in full bloom."

THE LONGEST DAY

When Mrs. Miggs rose yesterday whilst yet the morn was pale
She got her husband's breakfast and she packed his dinner pail
She saw him off to work and then, according to her rule,
She dressed and fed her children six and packed them off to school.
She filled the tubs, put clothes to soak, and then, no time to waste,
She washed the dishes, swept the floor and mended all she could.
She soaped, she rubbed, she boiled, she rinsed, while scraps of song were sung;
She used her fists for wringers and she wrung and wrung.
She drew her line from pole to pole at fences north and south
And chased a nail the neighbor with a chiselpin in her mouth.
She hung the clothes upon the line and knumbled as she jeked.
"Them clothes won't be dried and smoked," And then the kids came home from school all anxious to be fed.
She threw a meal together—tea and sugar, lard and bread.
Throughout the sultry afternoon she stood close to the stove
And fiddled times she ironed and sang.
"In prison, fiddle I love."
And then she hurried to the store and got the things she'd need
To build a meal of size enough a hun-
She set the table, cooked the grub, and saw them eat their fill.
And then to wash the dishes set to work with iron will.

"Say, mom," said little Mamie Miggs.
"I heard the teacher say
In all the year the longest first of June's the longest day."
"That's so," said Mamie's mamma, and crumpled a little bit.
"Well, well, so it is, Mamie, but I hadn't noticed it."

BARNABY MILLS OF FALL RIVER CLOSE TOMORROW FOR INDEFINITE PERIOD

FALL RIVER, July 2.—The directors of the Barnaby mills, manufacturing ginghams, have decided to suspend operations indefinitely. It was announced today. The mills will be shut down tomorrow. About 1000 employees will be affected.

According to the directors the plant has been curtailing production recently and there has been no market for the accumulated finished goods on hand. The over-head expenses have increased and it was considered advisable to close rather than to operate under existing conditions.

PRIEST ASKS PROTECTION

FR. DELLAPORTA of Springfield attacked because of his advice to Italian Reservists to stay here.

SPRINGFIELD, July 2.—Rev. Anthony Dellaporta, pastor of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel church on William street, has asked for police protection as he fears violence as a result of his advice to Italian reservists to remain in this country.

The pastor says his motive was to discourage men with families from leaving their in this country without visible means of support in many instances.

Fr. Dellaporta told the police that Wednesday he received a call to visit a Water street woman. As he approached the house a strange Italian jumped out and attacked him, but the pastor was able to defend himself. A second Italian then appeared and stabbed and bruised the priest before friends rushed to his aid.

Fred C. Church carried the insurance on the dwelling of Mrs. Parker, 37 Belmont avenue, struck by lightning yesterday.

BOARD OF TRADE

Arranged for the Annual Outing at Canobie Lake Park

The annual outing of the board of trade will be held on Thursday afternoon, July 29, at Canobie Lake park. Three special electric cars have been scheduled for the occasion and the party will leave Merrimack square at 12:15 o'clock.

President Robert F. Marden stated this morning a prominent out-of-town speaker will be secured for the occasion and a man well posted in municipal affairs will give an interesting informal talk on municipalities. Dinner will be served at the pavilion and the latter part of the afternoon will be devoted to outdoor sports.

Secretary John H. Murphy will get busy on posting up route signs for the benefit of automobilists tomorrow. These signs, about 24 in number, are made of wood, nicely ornamented, and they will serve in directing tourists through the best roads of Lowell. The signs will be hung on the poles of the Bay State Street Railway Co. and those of the Lowell Electric Light Corp.

The signs will show the best route out of Lowell to the various surrounding cities, while other signs of the steel type, pointing to Lowell will be placed in the suburbs. The money for the signs, $100, was appropriated from the fund of the Lowell Automobile league, while the work of putting up the signs is being done by the board of trade.

EXPEDITION TO ARCTIC

DR. HOOVER TO JOIN RELIEF EXPEDITION IN QUEST OF MACMILLAN AND PARTY

NEW YORK, July 2.—Dr. Edmund O. Hoover, chairman of the Crocker Land exploration committee, was today on his way to North Sydney, N. S., to join the relief expedition to the Arctic in quest of Donald D. MacMillan and the members of his party who went north to find Crocker Land.

Dr. Hoover intended to stop at Eagle Island, South Harspwell, Me., for a conference with Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary and will then proceed to Sydney to go on board the schooner George B. Cluett. With the members of the relief expedition on board, the Cluett is to sail from that port not later than July 10 for Etah, Greenland. The Cluett will carry supplies for MacMillan's use if he desires to remain for another year in the Arctic regions and will bring back to New York such members of the party as desire to return.

Collections gathered in Greenland for the American Museum of Natural History also will be brought south by the relief vessel.

SPAIN EXPERIENCING DIFFICULTY IN MAINTAINING NEUTRALITY

MADRID, via Paris, July 2, 6:40 a. m.—Spain is experiencing difficulty in maintaining neutrality and in a further effort to preserve it an official order has been given not to discuss the question in public.

The members of the left, or opposition, informed Premier Dato that they purposed a speech-making campaign directed against the cabinet, because of the suppression of public meetings. The premier replied that he would authorize meetings on condition that neutrality be not mentioned, as discussion of that question would serve only to give public expression of sympathy for one side or the other in the war.

PRES. WILSON IN STUDY

SPELT FORENOON WORKING ON STATE DEPARTMENT MATTERS AND OTHER BUSINESS

CORNISH, N. H., July 2.—President Wilson spent the most of this forenoon in his study at Harlakenden house working on state department matters and other business sent here from Washington.

The president read carefully reports from the state department on the Armenian incident, studied communications concerning Mexico and examined a report from Secretary Lansing on the date laid before the state department by a committee of importers protesting against alleged British interference with trade between the United States and other neutral countries. This information will be considered carefully in the preparation of the final draft of the note soon to be sent to Great Britain.

Later Mr. Wilson and Dr. Cary Grayson braved the rain and walked through the woods surrounding the president's summer estate. An automobile trip was to be taken in the afternoon if the condition of the roads would permit. The president's summer house today that the president expects to remain here another week unless business intervenes.

The Lowell men who form a part of the cadets are as follows: Sergt. Arthur Moran, Company C, Corp. Hugh W. Company C, Corp. and Lieut. Thomas W. Doyle, Company G.

The cadets, who will number about 120, will leave Boston by special train and will return in a week. This is an annual affair and is commonly called the miniature West Point.

officials have ordered that a strict watch be kept.

Just how Gen. Funston is to take care of Huerta was not made clear today, but it is assumed that American troops not only will be instructed to watch the border carefully, but if necessary place a guard around Huerta's home and otherwise keep him under surveillance.

Request for Extradition

It has not been definitely determined what action will be taken on the request for extradition made by the Villa governor of Chihuahua. Secretary Lansing pointed out today that discretionary power was vested with the governor of Texas and that under the Mexican American treaty of 1920, the governors of contiguous border states in the United States and Mexico can arrange directly for the requisition of fugitives from justice. He explained that the treaty providing also for the granting of requisitions asked by the "military authorities" when the civil authority was suspended and he believed that would cover the present case where no civil government has been recognized in northern Mexico.

Under the same treaty, if the federal government did not press its charges against Huerta for violation of neutrality statutes, Huerta would be arrested and held for forty days pending the arrival of evidence. Precedents established by the department of justice do not provide for bail in such cases. The impression is that this course was wisely followed and that the charges made by the Villa authorities were not sustained the department of labor would deport him to Spain.

RELIEF EXPEDITION NOW WITHIN CARRANZA LINES

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The American Red Cross relief expedition for Mexico City has safely passed Pachuca within the Carranza lines and has gone on toward Mexico City. Whether it has continued on through the Zapata defenses and into the capital does not appear in today's reports from Consul Silliman.

A special train of twelve carloads of corn which left Vera Cruz yesterday for Pachuca, destined to Mexico City was accompanied by armed guards furnished by Carranza. The latter expedition is thought here to be the one Carranza expects to take into the capital if his troops enter. The state department's announcement today said:

State Dept. Announcement

"The train was provided with an armed escort and was accompanied by W. P. Gavin, an American citizen. Mr. Silliman states that the secretary of war and the railroad officials at Vera Cruz gave special attention to the loading and transportation of this shipment, giving a preference over their own needs."

Consul Silliman also advises that Consul-General Shanklin and C. J. O'Connor, representatives of the American Red Cross, are in Mexico City on June 30 from Pachuca, taking with them light freight but leaving heavier articles behind."

There was no direct word today from Mexico City. The text of reports telling of chaos and rioting that menaced foreigners, will not be made public until after President Wilson has had an opportunity to thoroughly review them. All the important information coming to the state department regarding Mexico is being forwarded promptly to the president at Cornish.

warded promptly to the president at Cornish.

It was said at the state department that while plans for sending supplies into Mexico City through neutral agencies were under consideration, they had not assumed "very definite form." Efforts to induce Carranza to permit sending supplies to the capital from Vera Cruz are to be made, it is declared.

Taking Hospital Supplies

A telegram reaching the state department today and forwarded to the Red Cross here, said:

"Just informed that Consul-General Shanklin, Joseph W. Rowe, his secretary, C. J. O'Connor of the Red Cross, and C. B. Wood, secretary, left Gen. Gonzalez headquarters this (Thursday) afternoon for Mexico City."

It was also stated that the Red Cross delegation is taking in bandages, chloroform and drugs, in advance of the supplies of food which are being held up until there is some assurance of transportation into the capital.

IMPORTANT VICTORY FOR THE CARRANZA FORCES

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 2.—Carranza forces in capturing San Felipe, south of San Luis Potosi, achieved an important victory, with disastrous results to the Villa troops according to a cablegram from Vera Cruz published here today by T. R. Beltran, Carranza consul. The message says that the large number of prisoners taken included Col. Ignacio Ochoa and Fernando Diaz Lombardo, nephew of Miguel Diaz Lombardo, foreign minister in the cabinet of Gen. Villa.

Gen. Obregon, according to the message, is at Encarnacion, near Aguas Calientes where he is recovering from his recent illness caused by the loss of his arm.

Consul Beltran's message also confirmed the reported capture of San Pablo and Tama near Mexico City by the army of Gen. Gonzalez.

GEN. VILLA ASKS FOR EXTRADITION OF HUERTA

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Formal request for the extradition of General Victoriano Huerta on various criminal charges has been presented to Governor Ferguson of Texas by the Villa governor of Chihuahua state.

This latest complication in the status of the former Mexican dictator, now facing prosecution at El Paso for alleged violation of American neutrality laws was brought to the attention of the federal government yesterday by Governor Ferguson, who forwarded the Villa governor's request to the state department. Secretary Lansing referred the matter to Solicitor Johnson for consideration.

So long as Huerta is wanted by the department of justice, charges preferred by federal agents will take precedence, and until they are disposed of, it is not expected that the extradition question will be decided.

Both the Villa and Carranza Facilitate Charge that Huerta Was Implicated in the Murder of President Madero and Vice President Suarez

DECISION ON EXTRADITION OF HUERTA UP TO STATE DEPT.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Decision on the question of the extradition of Gen. Victoriano Huerta on various charges received today with the state department. Formal request for the extradition of Huerta was before officials of the department today, having been submitted by Gov. Ferguson of Texas, at the request of the Villa governor of Chihuahua state.

Gen. Huerta is charged by the Villa and Carranza factions with implications in the murder of President Madero and Vice President Suarez, following the overthrow of the Madero administration and Huerta's assumption to power.

No decision on the extradition matter is looked for pending the disposition of charges preferred by agents of the federal government against Huerta for alleged violation of American neutrality.

CHASED BY SUBMARINE

Leyland Liner Iberian Narrowly Escaped Destruction, Send Out
S. O. S. Calls

BOSTON, July 2.—A story of escape from a German submarine was told by members of the crew of the Leyland liner Iberian, in today from Manchester and Liverpool. Capt. Jago would not deny or affirm their story. According to the sailors the liner was only a few miles from the bar lightship at the mouth of the River Mersey when the conning tower of the German was seen a few miles away. Almost immediately the submarine submerged and Capt. Jago instead of continuing on his course swung the steamer off so that she was running in the same direction as the submarine. Meanwhile, a wireless warning was sent broadcast by the operator on the Iberian and it was picked up by half a dozen big liners that were heading for Liverpool.

After the Iberian had run for some distance, Capt. Jago headed her again to the westward. Just at that time the Warren liner Sachem, Capt. Lowe, which sailed from here June 9 for Liverpool, was sighted, and Capt. Jago gave her captain minute particulars regarding the German.

Within 10 minutes a wireless distress call was picked up from the Sachem. The S. O. S. signal was repeated several times and it was followed by a message that the submarine was chasing her. Later word from her said that the wireless warning sent out by the Iberian's operator was picked up by three torpedo boat destroyers in the British navy and they had come to the scene at top speed. The submarine reappearing sighted the destroyers and withdrew.

MILITARY CAMPS O. M. I. CADETS

Several Companies Will Pitch Tents Near
Lowell Tomorrow

Despite the bad condition of the ground, the members of the Eighth and Sixth regiments, M. V. M., will camp for a couple of days, the former at the end of the car line in Andover street and the other at Tewksbury in the rear of the state infirmary. On account of the bad weather which has prevailed in Lowell and vicinity for the past two days, and which shows no signs of clearing, it was believed the regiments would change their program and the camping would be done away with, but an official at the state infirmary informed a reporter of The Sun this morning that it would be impossible to cancel the camping arrangements, for all arrangements have been made. The ration for the men and horses have been purchased and special electric and special trains have been ordered.

The members of the Eighth regiment are now doing their annual field day. They went to camp a week ago at Lynnfield and are coming toward Lowell. The regiment consists of about 800 men, including the machine gun company, and brings along the only armored car in the state. The men left Lynnfield early this morning and struck Georgetown at noon. They will camp there over night and tomorrow they will come to Andover. After spending the night in the latter place, they will like to Lowell, arriving here some time Sunday afternoon. They will set camp at the end of the street car line on Andover street.

The Sixth regiment will open camp tomorrow afternoon in the rear of the state infirmary in Tewksbury. The local companies, C, G and K, will leave the armory by special electric cars tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. Out-of-town companies will come by special trains and all will be in command of Col. Warren E. Sweetser. Capt. Walter E. Jeyes of Company G, who is just recuperating from a serious illness, has been detailed to act as provost marshal. He is not able to do any field duty. He will direct his work from the armory. The annual encampment of the Sixth regiment will take place on Aug. 8 at West Barre station. Company G at camp Saturday and Sunday will be in charge of Lieut. Schuyler R. Waller, who will also command in the parade. Major Colby T. Kittredge, chief marshal of the parade, and Harry Pitts, marshal of the fifth division, have arranged to give the officers of the Sixth and Eighth regiments an automobile ride Sunday forenoon. About 100 officers will be taken care of and 20 automobiles will be pressed into service. The party will be taken through the various districts of Lowell and then they will be given a ride through both camps of the state militia.

Every member of the O. M. I. Cadets who is to take part in the monster parade next Monday or who will be present at the military mass next Sunday at 9 a. m., is to be at the school hall this evening at 7:30 to receive final instructions from the officers and the spiritual director, Rev. Deas A. Sullivan, O. M. I. The heads of the various companies of cadets to take part are as follows: Major, William Conroy; adjutant, Joseph Taft; quartermaster, Edward Goldrick; Co. A, Acting Captain Owen Sarsfield Conway; Co. B, Capt. Joseph Boyd; Co. C, Walter Lesperance; Co. D, Edward Lecum; light artillery, Sgt. Arthur McCall; heavy artillery, Sgt. Arthur McCall; Drill Master Tom Carlin; Captain troop cavalry, John O'Connell.

MANSFIELD IN COURT

SALEM, July 2.—Harry K. Mansfield, formerly proprietor of a tavern at Middleton, and Charles A. Conrad, who was employed by him as a waiter, pleaded not guilty in district court today to a charge of conspiracy to violate the election laws by means of false registration. Each furnished bonds of $100 for a hearing on July 7. Henry A. Allen, another waiter, summoned as a co-defendant, did not appear in court.

It is alleged that the defendants imported men to Middleton for the purpose of influencing the license vote at a recent town election.

LARGE HOUSES IN LONDON BUILD FRAME OF STEEL NETTING OVER ROOFS FOR PROTECTION

LONDON, July 2.—Through a case in court where a prominent engineering firm was charged with violating the building laws it became known yesterday that many large financial houses of the city are taking elaborate precautions to protect their buildings against air raids.

The firm on trial had failed to obtain official permission to alter the roof of its building over which a framework of steel and steel netting, weighing 7½ tons, had been erected. A building inspector in his testimony said that many similar cases had been reported. The court imposed a nominal fine amounting to about $1.25.

MATRIMONIAL

Donald B. Smith and Miss Anne F. McDougall were married yesterday at the First Baptist church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. A. C. Ambridge, pastor. The bride wore white crepe with imported lace and pearl trimmings and carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Mary A. McDougall, who wore blue crepe de chine with shadow lace and silver trimmings, and carried sweet peas. The best man was Harold Everett. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold bracelet. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, which had been handsomely decorated with red, white and blue bunting, while the interior of the home was tastefully arranged with potted plants and cut flowers. The happy couple left on an extended trip to Boston, Quincy and other places. They will be at home to their friends at 97 Moore street after August 1.

TAYLOR-TUCKER

Ansl Taylor and Miss Lena Tucker were married Wednesday evening, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride in West Chelmsford by Rev. L. L. Greene, pastor of the United Church of Chelmsford. The couple were unmarried. The happy couple will make their home at the Marlin Bros. farm in West Chelmsford, which they have leased for three years.

ROARKE-MAGUIRE

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Once upon a time, long ago, the city of Lowell gave a Fourth of July celebration, the principal feature of which was to be a balloon ascension. As the employees of the aeronaut were preparing for the ascent, something happened and the balloon burst and there was no ascension. Again, once upon a time, the city of Lowell had a Fourth of July celebration, the principal feature of which was to be the fireworks. A mammoth crowd assembled to witness the fun, but there were no fireworks, and the mob went home sorely disappointed and wondering greatly. The next morning the papers announced in good, plain English that the reason there were no fireworks was because the man who had come from Boston to set them off became drunk before the appointed time and was unable to officiate.

A glance at the Sun of quarter of a century ago furnishes an argument in favor of a municipal celebration as a means of keeping Lowell people and their money at home and of attracting people and their money from out-of-town.

Twenty-five years ago the city officially did not provide a celebration but the city of Haverhill had a glorious time. In those days Haverhill was much less easy of access than today, but the old Sun informs us that hundreds of Lowell people, headed by Mayor Palmer, went to Haverhill to see the fun.

Only last week a Lawrence paper announced that Mayor Kane of that city had made known his intention of visiting Lowell on July 6th, and expressed the opinion that a large number of Lawrence people would follow the mayor's example.

But while the city provided no entertainment out of the public funds at that time, Lowell had two big shows that drew large crowds to the Fair grounds and to Lakeview.

The Night Before

In days gone by the observance of "Night Before" was much ahead of the latter day observance, that is, for real, rough, riotous fun. The safe and sane idea hadn't reached Lowell in those days and many stunts were pulled off for the enjoyment of the multitude, which is repeated today, would land the perpetrators behind the bars. For instance, Merriam square, in the old days was worth a 10-mile trip for the fun and excitement it afforded. On one occasion the crowd was treated to an explosion of a bunch of giant crackers under a hoghead, the fragments of the latter clearing the roofs of the buildings in the square while many windows in the Sun, Howe, Runels and old Wellman buildings were demolished. Then in the merry days gone by, when Joe Dickford, the poet, was janitor of The Sun building, there was something doing in the vicinity of Merriam square from the time that darkness made identities doubtful, until the rising of the morning sun. The first class marksman with the slingshot, who had huge torpedoes for ammunition, sallied forth under the cover of darkness taking a crack at any good target available, particularly police officers, people in neighboring windows, and anyone who came near the common law victims were the fat ladies who appeared in front of the side shows, the barkers of the shows, etc. Those were the happy days!

On the "night before" quarter of a century ago there was the usual riotous time throughout the city, at the time the city boasted of several popular downtown social organizations and, according to the old Sun, they all held open house and entertained great gatherings on the eve of the glorious holiday.

The Crescent club held a musical and literary entertainment at its rooms in Wyman's Exchange and light refreshments were served. Les Miserables held open house in their quarters in Barriett's hall and with the Crescent club across the street in burning red fire and sky rockets.

The Young Men's Catholic association also celebrated at its rooms in Barriett's hall, and between the two organizations the old building rang with merriment.

The Neptunes and other social clubs observed the night with social amenities in their respective halls.

Celebration at Lakeview

While the city put up no money for a celebration the management of Lakeview arranged for a big program and advertised it extensively, while a concern known as the Nickelodeon Amusement company of Boston ran a show at the Fair Grounds. According to The Sun, over 10,000 people were present at Lakeview, while a crowd numbering between 7000 and 10,000 took in the events at the Fair Grounds.

Concerning the former the old Sun had the following:

"The morning dawned rather gloomy and gave indications of rain. At 8 o'clock a light drizzling rain began to fall and continued for a couple of hours. Nevertheless, preparations were not suspended or delayed on the events at the Fair Grounds and at Lakeview. From 9 o'clock on, the street railroad company had all they could do and a little more to accommodate parties going to either place. The passengers to Lakeview became more and more numerous until 2:30 o'clock, when the propelling force was overtaxed and one of the new cars became stuck. The passengers were transferred to another car and after a delay of half an hour the trip was continued. Supt. Noyes, Mr. Crowley and a number of electrical experts set things right as speedily as possible, but soon after, another car refused to go. Another delay ensued and in attempting to tow this car a motor was burned out. There were other slight mishaps and delays but nothing could discourage the people from going. They thronged into the cars so quickly that there was scarcely breathing space and some were lightly jammed. At the pavilion it was impossible to accommodate the vast throng and the attendants at the soda counter and in the cafes were unable to serve half of their patrons. On arriving at Lakeview most of the crowd went over to Mountain Rock to see the ball game, the Concorders defeating the Burkes by a score of 16 to 5 and after the game there was a grand rush for the boats. The officers had all they could do to prevent the boats from being overcrowded, but the two vessels with hard work succeeded in a few hours in transporting all who wanted to leave the grove."

How times have changed! Now one can go to Lakeview within half an hour for a nickel and without a hitch. The first year of the electric to Lakeview was a memorable one. The system was entirely new to those operating it, while also it lacked many facilities that have since come into vogue. Its popularity was instantaneous and its promoters had the most sanguine hopes of its future. It was not unusual for the boats to be delayed for hours on the road, but, strange to relate, they always took the delays good-naturedly. Today, Mountain Rock is a barren and abandoned place where long ago it was a mecca of pleasure seekers, with its zoo and other attractions. The people of Tyngsboro, in which Mountain Rock is located, put the place out of commission by refusing the resort a license to square accounts with the street railway company for not allowing a five-cent fare to that town, on the other side of the river. It was a charming

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, but reliable and inexpensive, home treatment for people suffering with eczema, ringworm, rashes and similar itching, burning skin troubles. At any reliable drugstore get a jar of Resinol Ointment and a cake of Resinol Soap. These will not cost a bit more than seventy-five cents. With the Resinol Soap and warm water, bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the Resinol Ointment, and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again.

spot in its early days, with its grand old pines and shady nooks and its pleasures have been greatly missed.

The Boat Races

One of the principal attractions of the Lakeview show of quarter of a century ago was the program of boat racing, for that sport was then in the heyday of its popularity. The professional shell race took place in the forenoon, and William J. G. Myers, formerly of The Sun, but now connected with the Associated Press, officiated as timekeeper, while Charles H. Knapp, the well known bank official and one of Lowell's crack rowers of days gone by, was referee. The following entered a crew positions: John Tweed, Joseph Lambert, Henry J. McDonald, Webster Wilcox, Hugh F. Mellen, J. A. Whitteer, Charles Lambert and Daniel Gallagher. The course was about three miles, or twice the length of the lake. There were six starters but the contest lay between Tweed and Mellen, who kept close together most of the way, and at one point interlocked oars. Tweed was the first to break away and held the lead to the finish. Mellen claimed a foul on the first turn but it was not allowed by Referee Knapp. Time, 17 minutes, 30 seconds. Prizes, $50 and $25.

The entries for the four oared lake-stroke were: The Mystics, South Ends, Franklins and Anchors. The first prize, $25, was won by the Franklins, and the second, $15, by the South Ends after a sharp contest.

The single scull race was won by John Congrove, with Edward Donnelly second and Charles Hartwell third. At 1:05 the sailing canoe race was off. The starters were Dr. J. Arthur Gage, in the "Owl," Paul Butler, in the "Fly," Ralph F. Brazer, in the "Elida," and David S. Goddard, in the "Blanche." It was a pretty race and was won by Mr. Butler, with Dr. Gage second and Mr. Brazer third.

An Unexpected Pyrotechnic Display

Says the old Sun: "About 3000 people remained to witness the fireworks but, owing to an accident, they were disappointed. The exhibition was to have been given by Wells of Boston from a float in the center of the lake, but after a few pieces had been set off, a spark got into the chest and ignited all together. In an instant the rockets, wheels, Roman candles, bombs and ornamental pieces were whirling in all directions, presenting a strange and beautiful but awe-inspiring spectacle. The exhibitor, by Wells of Boston, was obliged to leave himself and his boat in the lake to save himself and his boat. The exhibitor, by Wells of Boston, was obliged to leave himself and his boat in the lake to save himself and his boat."

Honeymoon in a Balloon

A marriage followed by a honeymoon trip amid the clouds in a balloon was an added attraction at the Fair Grounds show. The old Sun reported the events at this place as follows: "The amusement at the Fair Grounds afforded pleasure to between 7000 and 10,000 people, and the entire program as advertised was carried out. The burlesque ball game was much enjoyed and the equestrian feats by Nellie and Charles Little were quite exciting. There was a jockey race which was won by a young son of Mr. Puffer. The chief object of attraction was the balloon ascension which took place at 4:30 o'clock. The marriage of Christopher J. Stowell and Miss Lottie J. Anderson took place on a platform near the balloon, and was performed by Pastor W. W. Downes of Boston. The bride was Miss Effie Dean of Boston and the best man, Mr. C. A. Smith of Lowell. The only persons who went up in the balloon were Aeronaft Allen, his assistant and the bride couple. Mr. Stowell brought with him two carrier pigeons which he released on the voyage. The balloon landed in West Newbury at 6:30 o'clock and the party had time to drive to Haverhill to catch the train for Lowell. There was no hitch or accident of any kind and Mr. and Mrs. Stowell expressed themselves as well pleased with the trip."

THE OLD TIMER.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 2.—The culmination of a series of musical festivals held here during the week, in connection with the biennial meeting of the National Federation of Musical clubs was reached last night with the first performance of an American grand opera, "Fairyland."

The opera, which won a $10,000 prize offered by several wealthy citizens of Los Angeles, is the work of Horatio Parker, professor of music at Yale university, and Brian Hooker, of New York.

CONFERENCE AT VIENNA

INDUSTRIAL LEADERS OF GERMANY AND AUSTRIA DISCUSS ECONOMIC UNION

ZURICH, via London, July 2, 2:39 a. m.—At the conference at Vienna of the industrial leaders of Germany and Austria to discuss means for bringing about a closer economic union between the two countries, Dr. Reiser, president of the Hansa league, pointed out that the allies of the quadruple entente had entered into political treaties but had concluded a number of economic arrangements. One of the most important of these, he asserted, provides that none of them may conclude a commercial treaty with Germany or Austria without the consent of the others.

LONDON, July 2, 2:29 a. m.—Commenting on the Austro-German economic conference, the Post in a column editorial article urges the allies to take adequate steps to meet after the war "the menace of German economic penetration." The Post suggests a system of preferential tariffs against Germany.

ABDUCTION IS CHARGED

16-YEAR-OLD GIRL, MISSING THREE WEEKS, BROUGHT HOME IN COMPANY WITH A MAN

BOSTON, July 2.—Anne Hohmann, 16 years old, who disappeared from her home, 47 East Lenox street, three weeks ago, was returned to her relatives last night by agents of the Boston Society for the Care of Girls. They brought her from New York, in company with Harris Emery, 35, who was arrested, charged with abduction, when the train reached the South station.

Emery, a married man, lodged at the Hohmann home since his actress wife deserted him about a year ago, according to Mrs. Anne Hohmann, 35, who became infatuated with her 16-year-old daughter.

He had gone to New York about a month ago. The girl received letters urging her to come there and work. On June 12 she left her home, but since she has written to her mother asking her to follow, a sister, who was working and felt in a position to support her mother if she came to New York.

Mrs. Hohmann became ill as she was about to go to her daughter and agents for the Boston Society for the Care of Girls were given by Wells of Boston from a float in the center of the lake, but after a few pieces had been set off, a spark got into the chest and ignited all together. In an instant the rockets, wheels, Roman candles, bombs and ornamental pieces were whirling in all directions, presenting a strange and beautiful but awe-inspiring spectacle. STATE SATISFIED THAT
EVELYN WILL APPEAR

NEW YORK, July 2.—Justice Hendon and the jury at Harry K. Thaw's sanity trial had heard most of the state's documentary evidence when court reconvened today. Counsel for the state brought their witnesses in the expectation of calling the first of them this afternoon. Policemen who arrested Thaw immediately after he shot Stanford White were among those waiting to testify.

Satisfied that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw will be here early next week in response to a subpoena calling her as a witness, the state's attorneys had abandoned their preparations to obtain an attachment to compel her presence in court.

Policemen Called

After the introduction of further documentary evidence, the state called as its first witness, James M. Barrett, a policeman assigned to the Tenderloin police station on the night Harry Thaw was taken there after the killing of Stanford White. He gave testimony intended by the state to prove that Thaw while in his cell was under a delusion that he heard the voices of little girls screaming.

"Thaw asked me two or three times," said the witness, "where are those little girls screaming? I told him there were no little girls. Some women had been arrested and one was shouting and carrying on. I told him they were women, and he said, 'Oh, no, they're not. They're little girls. I hear them screaming.' He asked me who was beating and abusing them."

Thaw, when brought into the station, said the witness, had his head thrown back and his eyes were staring.

"Very Irrational"

Thomas F. Lynch, on duty at the police station the following day, said that Thaw had talked to him also about little girls.

Thaw's conduct when he was forcibly deported from Canada, was described by Frank McFadden, a Canadian immigration officer at who had charge of Thaw while in jail at Sherbrooke, Que., as "very irrational."

Henri Giroux, one of the immigration inspectors who took Thaw from the jail, corroborated McFadden, adding that Thaw appeared "dangerously mad."

At the conclusion of Giroux's cross-examination, the reading of documentary evidence was resumed.

Letters written by Thaw to Anthony Comstock inclosing money to assist him in protecting the morals of young girls, and Thaw's will, leaving funds for the prosecution of persons guilty of destroying the morals of young girls, were read into the record at the afternoon session as tending to prove that Thaw had a delusion on this subject.

FRENCH REPULSE
GERMAN ATTACKS

Attempt to Break Through to Verdun
Checked — Teutons Continue Advance on Warsaw—Germans Sink Five More British Vessels

The Germans are hammering away at the French lines in the Argonne region in the apparent hope of breaking through and reaching Verdun. They gained some ground there on June 30, and the latest French statement shows a further attempt to advance through violent attacks; the official statement asserts that the Germans were driven back.

The repulse of German attacks in the forest of Le Preire to the north-west of Nancy and on the French positions along the road from Ablain Angres where the grenadiers delivered the assault, also is reported.

Teutons Advance in East

London observers of military movements do not accept the belief that the Germans as yet are withdrawing their troops from the eastern front with the object of sending them to the western front. In the British capital, it is believed that the Teutonic allies desire first the capture of Warsaw. In this field the Austro-Germans continue their sweeping advances.

Five British Ships Sunk

Five more British vessels, three of them steamers of good size, have fallen victims to German submarine warfare. Evidence of the prosecution of this warfare on a large scale has recently come to hand with frequency. Loss of life, however, has been exceptional, being confined mostly to the case of the Armenian. The stories of the officers of the crew of this craft indicate that the casualties among them were inflicted while the steamer was in flight after having been signalled to stop.

Teutons Push On

In the fighting in the east there is no indication, even in the Russian official statements, that there is any halt in the sweep of the Teutonic armies northward and eastward from Lemberg. Further south, however, the troops of Grand Duke Nicholas have made what looks like a determined stand along the line of the Gnila Lipa river. Austro-German accounts tell of victories even in that sector of the curving eastern front, but the Russians deny the reverses there were serious.

To Abandon Galicia

German observers believe the Russians are preparing to abandon Galicia and attribute the desperate fighting north of Iltitz to a desire to give time for the preparation of strong defensive positions beyond the border. Reports

STATE OFFICERS BUSY
PROBING THE MURDER

The state officers are now working in conjunction with the local police upon the murder of John Demos, in Elm st., on Wednesday night, and this afternoon a complete search was made of the house and premises for the weapon or any other article that might cast light on the tragedy. The great question is where the money of the murdered man has gone.

Like the money taken from Glingras, it may never be located. It would seem that the weapon might be found and identified if the murder were committed by one of the parties interviewed by the police.

Counsel Retained by Relatives

James F. Owens has been retained as counsel for Comatos. Mr. Owens, a Greek interpreter and Evangelos Papastergiou, a Market street grocer, in whose hands the case was first placed by relatives of the suspected man made a trip to the Lowell jail and conversed with Comatos for about five minutes this morning.

Officer Peter Tsifanos, who has played a prominent part in the case since the body of Demos was found Wednesday night is still working on several promising clues.

District Attorney Corcoran Here

District Attorney Corcoran was at the police station this afternoon and it was stated that his visit had to do with the Demos murder. He was accompanied by Assistant District Attorney Robert J. Crowley.

State Inspector Here

Thomas Rustis, a member of the state police, came to Lowell yesterday afternoon as a representative of the district attorney's office. After a

Lawyer Says Bridgie Webber
Told Him Becker Had Nothing
to do With Rosenthal Murder

NEW YORK, July 2.—Bridgie Webber, one of the three self-confessed accomplices in the plot which resulted in the killing of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, has said, according to his attorney, H. T. Marshall, that Charles Becker "had absolutely nothing to do with the murder."

"Becker," said Mr. Marshall, "had absolutely nothing to do with the murder of Rosenthal. Bridgie Webber, when he employed me as his counsel, at the first trial, admitted this to me and said that he and the others were perjuring themselves in order to save their skins. When Webber told me that, I told him to get another lawyer. 'From that time on my mouth was sealed. I could not speak because of professional obligations. But had I not been convinced of Becker's innocence, I would not have aligned myself with the lawyers in his defense at the second trial. I never would have entered the case had I not known, from what Webber told me, that Becker was deliberately 'framed up' by Webber, Harry Vallon, Jack Rose and Sam Schepps."

HER CONDITION SERIOUS

The many friends of Mrs. Bynon, mother of W. S. Bynon, the well known Bridge street grocer, will be grieved to learn that she is confined to her home, 152 Sixth street, suffering from a fracture of the right leg, sustained Monday evening, when she was run over by a wagon in Bridge street.

"SECRET IN BECKER CASE"

NEW YORK, July 2.—Sam Schepps, the so-called gentleman burglar, upon whom the state relied upon the first trial of Charles Becker to corroborate the testimony of Jack Rose, Harry Vallon and Bridgie Webber, the three informers, was quoted today as saying that he held "the secret in the Becker case" and would tell Gov. Whitman should the governor ask him to do so.

Becker, former police lieutenant, faces death in the electric chair the week of July 26, for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, unless the federal courts intervene.

"I hold the secret of the Becker case and I will tell the governor if he asks me for it," Schepps was quoted as saying. "Whitman can get it for the asking."

The story is so clear anyone will believe it; but as for proof—say, do you want that I should go so far as to bring Becker back to Broadway and make his place in the electric chair? I bring myself enough in this case, and there is nothing doing any more."

The "secret" to which Schepps was quoted as having referred to is believed to be what was said at a recent meeting between Mrs. Charles Becker and Jack Rose in Schepps' jewelry store. After this meeting Mrs. Becker

KEEP HUERTA FROM CROSSING THE BORDER

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Gen. Victoriano Huerta, former dictator and president of Mexico whose defiance of President Wilson led to the seizure of Vera Cruz by American marines and bluejackets will not be permitted to enter Mexico from the United States at a time when his presence would be a further menace to the plans of this government to restore peace, if the federal government can prevent it.

Determination to keep Huerta from crossing the southern border of the United States, thus complicating the present Mexican situation with a new revolution, reached the point today when four different ways of detaining the former Mexican chieftain were under consideration by various departments of the United States government.

Secretary Lansing in referring to the receipt of a formal request for the extradition of Huerta from the military authorities of the state of Chihuahua, intimated that the federal government could, if it chose, withdraw its present charges of violating American neutrality laws and surrender Huerta to the Villa commander at Juarez.

Secretary Wilson of the department of labor has under consideration a plan for deporting Huerta to Spain, under the immigration laws covering the return of undesirable aliens.

May Use Military Force

Gen. Funston of the department of Texas, has orders to use the military forces at his disposal to prevent Huerta from crossing the line while at liberty on bail.

The department of justice is gathering evidence for the prosecution of Huerta under federal status. Until the hearing on July 12, Gen. Huerta will be kept from re-entering Mexico by the joint efforts of agents of the department of justice and the troops of the American border patrol. Fearing that Huerta might forfeit his bond of $15,000 and cross at some secluded point on the Mexican border and join some of the bands believed to be awaiting him on Mexican territory. NEW INDUSTRY COMING

The buildings of the Patterson Rubber Co. have been purchased by Ralph E. Phillips, manager of the Steam Gauge & Valve Co. of Boston. The purchase was made by Mr. Phillips on his own account, his intention being to form a corporation to conduct the manufacture of brass, screws and machines of different kinds. The property was sold by F. H. Appleton of Boston, the present owner and former treasurer of the Patterson Rubber Co.

The board of trade has assisted in bringing about the sale and will still further aid Mr. Phillips in getting his business thoroughly organized.

NEARLY MILLION DOLLARS LEFT TO ESTABLISH ART INSTITUTION AT MANCHESTER, N. H.

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 2.—By the will of Mrs. Hannah M. Currier, widow of former Gov. Moody Currier made public today, nearly one million dollars have been left to establish an art institution in this city to be known as the Currier Gallery of Art.

The estate is valued at nearly $1,000,000 and outside of a few thousand dollars to relatives and $100,000 outright to her companion, Nellie W. Snow, will be devoted to the art institution.

Mrs. Currier's bequest carries out the wishes of her husband, who desired his beautiful estate be turned into a public art gallery on his death. Under the terms of the will, Mrs. Currier's three nephews, Parke Snow, Charles J. Snow and William Slade, will each receive $100,000. Three nieces, Maria W. Garey, Helen F. Slade and Mary E. Turner also receive $100,000 each.

To her niece Nellie W. Snow, who resided with Mrs. Currier, since childhood, the sum of $100,000 is given outright and $250,000 annually during her lifetime. Besides with a few exceptions she is to have all the contents of the house and stables of the Currier estate. These are all the private bequests made in Mrs. Currier's will, so it is clear that eventually there will be well up towards $1,000,000 for the contemplated art gallery.

While the Currier gallery of art must "consist of and occupy" the Currier homestead according to the terms of the will, it is by no means restricted to the present building, as it now stands for Mrs. Currier explicitly states that the trustees may rebuild, alter, and improve the buildings and erect others on the lot from time to time as they may deem necessary for the convenience, comfort and needs of the art gallery.

The executors of the will are Arthur M. Heard, president of the Amoskeag National Bank and former United States Senator Henry E. Burnham.

REFUSES TO RECOGNIZE FOREIGN CLAIMS ON AMERICANS BORN OF NATURALIZED PARENTS

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Children born on American soil, whose parents have become naturalized American citizens, cannot be classed as possessing dual nationality and are not considered liable to military service under a foreign flag, the state department made clear in a statement issued yesterday.

"While the United States always has recognized," the department says, "the existence of dual nationality in the case of children born in the United States of alien parents or children born in a foreign country of American parents, it does not concede that dual nationality exists in case of a foreign-born parent who has acquired naturalization as a United States citizen."

While the state department extends whatever protection it can to persons of dual nationality who enter the other country by which they are claimed, it does not assure them immunity from military service.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KELLER'S THEATRE

No better staged society photoplay has ever been presented locally than "Her Own Way," which was shown twice yesterday at the B. F. Keller theatre, and which will be given twice daily the remainder of the week. The accessories used in the production run all the way from a magnificent modern stone palace in New York to swans and peacocks in the Italian garden. The wealth of rich settings simply adds to what lengths the Metro company will go in its desire to present a piece properly. Florence Reed, one of the best known of native actresses, appears in the very trying role of "Georgiana Carley," whose fortune was squandered by a reckless brother and who was left for dead in the marriage, but her lover returning just as the ceremony was taking place, she left the altar and went to him. This scene is highly dramatic and it will win an audience to hold its breath. Four other and shorter pictures are also shown, including a rattling good George Ade fable. Tonight the battle of Gettysburg will be shown in motion pictures and all veterans of the Civil war are invited to be the guests of Manager Pickett. The performance will start promptly at 7 o'clock.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Two five act brand new Paramount features constitute the chief attraction at the Merrimack Square theatre today and tomorrow. One of these, "Chimmie Fadden," a heart reaching Irish-American comedy drama, holds a place of honor among the best photoplays. It is playing in New York city's largest theatre and drawing huge crowds at a $1 admission price. It is a remarkable fact that Lowell people may see this picture at 5c and 10c prices. Victor Moore, the internationally famous character-actor, appearing in a little role, furnishes the greater part of both fun and pathos, and there is a delightful intermingling of both. "Chimmie Fadden" as a butler presents one of the funniest scenes ever shown on the screen. The manner in which he acts the part of the green servant is calculated to dispel the worse case of blues. On the other hand, his dramatic ability is brought out in his acting of the part of the elder brother, who shielding his brother and mother from shame, is ready to sacrifice himself. This wonderful human photoplay.

Then, of course, you will not deprive yourself of the opportunity of seeing Blanche Sweet, the American actress, in the leading part in "The Captive," a photoplay of the far east. The pretty favorite is really at her best in this picture. Here are some wonderfully vivid scenes of battle which furnish no little amusement. In addition to these two big five part Paramount new productions, you will also see a Billy Rector comedy, a fine western picture, and the latest Pathe news film.

CANOE LAKE PARK

Tonight, tomorrow and Sunday will afford the music lovers of this city their last opportunity to enjoy the splendid concerts of the Boston Opera Singers at the Canoe Lake theatre, which have drawn so many to this popular recreation park the past week. The present new program which started Thursday will be continued until Sunday when another entire new selection of numbers will be presented closing the engagement in a blaze of operatic splendor.

Next week the theatre will be devoted to a period of photoplay and for the special feature the management will offer what is conceded to be the greatest motion picture ever presented upon the screen, the Vitagraph production of Hall Caine's superb love story "The Christian" in 12 parts and 500 scenes. An all-star cast of Vitagraph Players is headed by Miss Edith Storey and Earle Williams.

"The Christian" as a novel was a great success. Later, it was dramatized and it brought fame and wealth to Miss Viola Allen. Its present form is its best, inasmuch as the tedious dialogue of the novel and drama have been eliminated and the many scenes which were omitted in the stage version, are utilized in the picturized version.

Sunday afternoon between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock the theatre will be open with free admission to all and the Lowell Brass band will offer another brilliant band concert while the open-air theatre is swept by the cooling lake breezes.

BIG LAWN FETE

Plans Completed for Sacred Heart "At Home" Tomorrow

The good old weather man seems to have done his part in emptying the clouds of their rain that the Sacred Heart parishioners and their friends may have a good day for their "at home" on the parish grounds tomorrow. Never have such elaborate preparations been made for the annual lawn fete, and never have conditions been more auspicious for a good time than at the present moment. The gates will open at 1 o'clock. The razzle-dazzle, the great aerial machine, will take on at once its freight of happy little tots and light-hearted grown-ups, and until midnight will work continuously. The midway, with its unique attractions of hoop-la, wheels of fortune, fakirs, its novel Chinese laundry, the watchman of Heidelberg, mamma's darlings, its refreshment booths, the miniature circus in its canvas tent, exhibiting among other marvelous wonders, the smallest horse and the largest dwarf in the world; bears, actually human in their intelligence, a wild cat, a fox in a wild state, a three-legged dog,

and a den of easily recognized animals, are but a few of the attractions. At 2.30, with the crack of a pistol, 30 or more sturdy runners, competing for the championship of Lowell, will start from Belle Grove. They will come directly to the grounds on Moore street, accompanied by autos containing physicians and judges. Immediately on their arrival five prizes will be awarded. The arrival of the runners will be the signal for beginning the other numbers on the program of sports. These include events for men, women and children. At 7 o'clock a chorus of 50 trained voices under the direction of Mr. James Cusack will give a concert of old and new songs. Many are looking to this feature as the treat of the evening. Among those who will render solos are some who have frequently delighted Lowell audiences. Following upon the finale, a detonating bomb will give the signal for the grand electrical illumination of hundreds of colored lights. The current will be turned on by the pastor, Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., and will be followed by a band concert from 8 to 10.30 by the Lowell Cadet band. The grounds will remain open until midnight, and efficient committees will attend to the guests in such a manner as to make the parish "at home" one long to be remembered in the parish and in the city.

IT WILL HAVE JESS WILLARD AS A FEATURE OF WILD WEST SHOW ON JULY 16

Whether Jess Willard, the cowboy champion of the world, is coming to Lowell Friday, July 16, with the 101 Ranch Wild West show, or the Wild West show is coming with Willard, is an open question, but either is a big enough attraction to excite attention, not only among the athletic fans, but also among those who thoroughly enjoy a strenuous, up-to-date border exhibition. Willard has now been with Miller Bros. & Aclington's big aggregation champion in Havana and sent him to the mat. Notwithstanding the expense of the Willard engagement, there will, it is announced, be the lively and strenuous Wild West exhibition for which the 101 Ranch show is noted. The congress of Indians, cowboys, cowgirls, Mexicans, Cosacs and other roughriders is said to be exceptionally large this year, and more than the average number of stunts are promised. There will be a picturesque street parade to inaugurate Wild West day.

MISUSE OF U. S. FLAG

ANOTHER NOTE MAY BE SENT TO GREAT BRITAIN — SEARCHING INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Searching investigation is being conducted by the United States into several cases in which it has been officially reported that British ships flew the American flag apparently to avoid attacks by German submarines. Reports have been received not only from Ambassador Gerard, in Berlin, but through American consular sources in Great Britain with affidavits and other evidence tending to show alleged misuse of the Stars and Stripes. The issue is regarded as of such importance to the safety of ships entitled to fly the American flag that a note may soon be sent by the United States to Great Britain renewing the representations previously made concerning any general use of the American emblem by British vessels. Some of the affidavits thus far received state that, in certain cases, the British admiralty's agents have consulted with the masters of vessels and in instructing them to take certain courses, advised the use of the American flag.

The United States will not act until it has received complete information, but in view of the emphasis which is laid in Berlin upon the dangers of such a practice, Ambassador Gerard's information on specific cases as obtained from the German government is being carefully investigated. Some of the affidavits thus far received state that, in certain cases, the British admiralty's agents have consulted with the masters of vessels and in instructing them to take certain courses, advised the use of the American flag. Thorough inquiry already has been instituted based upon official reports. Ambassador Gerard in Berlin and American consular representatives in Great Britain have submitted affidavits and other evidence tending to show misuse of the American emblem. Some of the affidavits state that in certain cases the British admiralty's agents have advised masters of vessels to use the American flag. Officials are seriously considering new representations, but pending the receipt of fuller information the course of the United States will not be determined.

several weeks, and reports indicate that he is creating a furor wherever he appears. Willard, it is announced, will positively appear at both performances in this city. He will not be a lay figure, by any means. His first appearance will be as a cowboy and he will appear in several important numbers. Later, he will appear in ring costume, and with one of his company of spurs will illustrate how he met the former

PUT TO DEATH SMITH TO BE EXECUTED

David Dunn, 20 Years Old, Executed for Murder of H. T. Edwards

AUBURN, N. Y., July 2.—David Dunn, 20 years old, died in the electric chair early today for the murder of Wells Fargo Agent Harry T. Edwards in Corning February, 1914. Dunn spent his final hours in prayer. His crime was unusually brutal and his arrest came as the result of knocking down a telephone receiver. He had gained access to the express office and after shooting Edwards in an effort to get money, he knocked down the receiver. The telephone operator at central in her effort to learn why the receiver was down, made a prompt discovery of the murder and Dunn was apprehended in bed in his home, not far from the scene.

LONDON, July 2.—A verdict of guilty was brought in by the jury yesterday in the case of George Joseph Smith who was charged with the murder of three of his wives. The prisoner was sentenced to death. It took the jury just 23 minutes to find a verdict of guilty. When the opportunity was given, Smith said, "I can only say I am not guilty." He stared blankly at the judge as he assumed the black cap, but he bore the order of the judge's brief address and subsequent pronouncement of sentence grimly. Before he was removed to the cells he thanked Counsel Hall for what he had done, adding, "I still have great confidence in you, and I shall bear up." He then walked firmly to the cells. After passing sentence on Smith, the judge remarked that perhaps the jury would be interested to know, as showing that their verdict was right, that there was evidence which had not been presented in court to the effect that the prisoner had gone through the ceremony of marriage with two other women, both of whom he had robbed of considerable sums of money.

Armenian First Animal Transport to Fall a Victim to German Submarines

NORFOLK, Va., July 2.—Of the score of more ships which have cleared from Hampton Roads for French and English destinations with cargoes of horses and mules for the armies of the allies, the Armenian is the first to fall a victim to the German submarines. She carried 1422 mules, and her cargo was valued at $284,400. The Armenian cleared on June 15 with a crew, exclusive of officers, consisting of 13 white men and 87 negroes, all shipped in this port as seamen or attendants for the live stock. There is no denial that the mules were for the British army, although the shipments were indirectly made through agents. It is understood that English army experts passed on the animals and employed men, through shipping agents, to care for them while crossing the Atlantic. Several of the missing men are from Norfolk, Portsmouth and vicinity. This was the Armenian's second trip with animals for the allied armies. In young figures, about 200,000 horses and mules have been shipped from the roads. A second company has been organized here for the shipment of horses to the allies.

SINKING JUSTIFIED
Officials Declare Captain of Armenian Had No Right to Attempt to Escape After Order to Stop
WASHINGTON, July 2.—Tension over destruction of the British steamer Armenian with the loss of a number of American lives was considerably relaxed today following the receipt of unofficial advice telling of the apparent refusal of the ship's commander to heed the warning of the German submarine to stop. This phase of the matter overshadowed in the official view all other questions involved in the destruction of the Armenian.
If official reports should bear out news despatches concerning attempts of the Armenian to escape, it was said no new cause of complaint likely would be added to issues pending between the United States and Germany. Officials hold that if the Armenian sought to evade capture the sinking of the ship was justified under international law even though non-combatants were on board. Precedents are cited in support of this contention.
Detailed information of the destruction of the Armenian still was awaited today. Until such data is available the position of the United States will not be announced.

STIR IN PARIS
Sinking of Armenian May Inspire a Real Ultimatum From Washington, Says Paper
PARIS, July 2, 5:45 a. m.—The sinking of the steamship Armenian has caused a stir in Paris, stress being laid upon the deaths of Americans on board the vessel. Coming as soon as the Lusitania case, which is not yet settled, the press wonders what will be the outcome of the latest incident connected with Germany's submarine warfare.
The Matin says the Armenian's destruction certainly will greatly increase the indignation of Americans and perhaps inspire a real ultimatum from Washington.

PROBING THE DEMOS MURDER
Continued
lengthy conference with Superintendent Welch he set out to work on the case.
Comatos' Statements Contradicted
Four men of foreign nationality, employed at the Trull farm with Comatos on Wednesday were brought into the police station last night and examined by Superintendent Welch. Comatos was also present at the examination, having been brought up into the superintendent's office from one of the downstairs cells.
When asked if they had seen anybody on the farm have a nosebleed on Wednesday, everyone of them answered in the negative. Comatos stated several times since his arrest that he had a nosebleed on the farm Wednesday afternoon, and he also said that one of the farmhands asked him what the trouble was. The farmhand mentioned by Comatos was asked by Supt. Welch if this was true, and the answer was no.

Comatos also said in previous examinations that when he went to dinner on Wednesday noon he took off a black shirt and during the afternoon worked in his undershirt. The blood found on his undershirt he said was caused by his wiping his hands across it after the nosebleed.
Questioned as to the truth of this statement, each of the four farmhands testified that Comatos wore the black outer shirt at work during the whole day.

Comatos also said in examinations that he never knew that Demos carried a large sum of money on his person but last night he changed his statement and said that he was informed of the fact by Glakas after his return from a visit to the Lowell General hospital a few weeks ago. Vargapoulos, the Market street grocer also told him, he said, and he stated that every resident of Market street knew of the money and held carried by the murdered man. None of the four farmhands were detained, and shortly after the examination, Comatos was taken to the Lowell jail where he will remain until the date set for his hearing, Saturday, July 10.
Comatos Held
John Comatos, looking pale and drawn after spending several hours in a cell at the police station, was brought into court late yesterday afternoon and arraigned for the murder of John Demos, whose badly mutilated body was found in a bedroom at 2 Elm place, off Elm street, about 9:30 o'clock Wednesday night. Comatos is a tall, dark, having been employed on Trull farm off and on for over five years. He was very respectful to his employers and was well liked by them, and the news of his arrest came as a big surprise to them.
When brought into the courtroom, Comatos first looked around in a bewildered manner until Lieut. Maher motioned to him to be seated on a long bench in front of the prisoners' table. He then was called to answer the complaint for murder, and through the interpreter, Nicholas Spyropoulos, Comatos pleaded not guilty, although he didn't seem to understand fully the seriousness of the complaint he was charged with. At the request of Supt. Welch a continuance to July 10 was ordered and the prisoner was committed to the Lowell jail until that time without bail. At the conclusion of the proceedings, Comatos inquired of the interpreter if he could go free, and he was told that he could not. It was plain to be seen that he did not understand much about court proceedings. He was then taken away by Lieut. Maher.

Comatos is a small wiry man, with piercing eyes and curling mustache. As he sat on the bench in police court waiting to be arraigned, he looked straight at Nicholas Spyropoulos, the interpreter, until he was called to answer the charge of murder. He then walked to the witness stand where he was informed that he was charged with the murder of his roommate, John Demos, by stabbing him several times in various parts of the body.

Warrant Issued
Before the warrant was issued Judge Enright, Superintendent Welch and Assistant Clerk Trull visited the scene of the murder in Elm place, and the circumstances of the crime, so far as known by the police, were gone over. On their return the warrant was made out, and a few minutes later Comatos was brought into court.

The Autopsy
Medical Examiner Meigs and City Physician Tighe performed an autopsy on the body of the murdered man at the coroner's office yesterday afternoon. After a thorough examination, Medical Examiner Meigs reported that there were 12 stab wounds in the chest and two knife wounds on the chin. There were internal injuries to the liver, lungs, stomach and heart, and there were also two black and blue marks on the chest. These were probably made by the murderer kneeling on his victim. The wound over the heart was undoubtedly what caused death instantly, and the police believe that the murderer got on his knees on top of his victim's chest and plunged the knife into the body at will. Up on Judge Enright, Superintendent Welch and Assistant Clerk Trull visited the scene yesterday afternoon, the police were unable to find anyone who heard signs of a struggle in the upstairs tenement. Yesterday, however, Judge Enright, in conversation with a young girl who resides downstairs, learned that she heard a sound such as was made by a man falling, but did not think any more of it, as the men frequently wrestled or fooled in the apartment above.

BITTEN BY DOGS

Twelve More Victims—
Total 60—Quarantines in Many Cities

BOSTON, July 2.—Cases of a dozen more persons bitten by dogs were reported at the state board of health yesterday, most of them in eastern Massachusetts, where the rabies epidemic has reached such alarming proportions that dog quarantines have been ordered in a half dozen cities and towns.

This makes a total of 60 persons reported bitten by dogs in the month of June. About 20 of these were bitten by dogs known to have been suffering from rabies. Thirteen persons bitten by rabid dogs are now taking the 21-day Pasteur treatment, and two others who were exposed to a rabid dog in Cambridge have signified their intention of taking this treatment.

Buildings Was Rabid
The dogs who did the biting in the 12 new cases just reported to the state board of health have been placed under observation in quarantine. In one of the cases the dog already has been pronounced rabid. The others have not as yet developed positive symptoms.

After examination of the dogs heads at the Harvard Medical school, it was announced yesterday that the building which ran riot in Whitinsville and a dog which bit several persons in Worcester recently were both suffering from rabies.

Of the 12 new dog bite cases, one was in Chelsea, one in Revere, one in Dorchester, one in Newburyport, one in Cambridge, three in Worcester, one in Boston, one in Peabody, and two in Lowell. In the latter city, the two persons were bitten by different dogs. One dog is under observation, and the person bitten by the other is under treatment in the Lowell hospital.

Don't Issue Warning
Dr. Edwin W. Finn, chairman of the Pediatric board of health, said last night that although no cases of rabies among the dogs in that town have been reported as yet, strict orders have been issued to every Denham physician to report without delay all cases of dog bites they are called to treat.

He stated that a warning has been received from the state bureau of animal industry, and that every possible precaution is being taken to prevent an outbreak of rabies in the town.

Of the 63 places in Massachusetts in which rabies has made its appearance since Dec. 1 last, Worcester leads with 11 cases. Avon, Auburn, Braintree, Raytheon, Brockton, Brookline, Belmont, Clinton, Chelsea, Dover, Framingham, Fitchburg, Groveland, Hail, Holliston, Hopkinton, Leominster, Maynard, Malden, Milford, Marshfield, Needham, Needham Heights, Princeton, Somerville, Swampscott, Southbridge, Stoughton, Sterling, Tewksbury, Tyngsboro, Wrentham, Westfield, Wakefield have reported one case each.

Attleboro, Barre, Canton, Chelmsford, Cambridge, Dudley, Gloucester, Lowell, Lawrence, Medford, Marlboro, Norton, Northboro, West Newbury and Wellesley have reported two each. Boston, Holden, Mattapoisett, Melrose and No. Andover, Weymouth, four each. Newton, five; Quincy, six, and Waltham, seven.

FIGHT FILM BARRED

ATTEMPT TO BRING PICTURES OF JOHNSON-WILLARD FIGHT INTO U. S. BLOCKED

PORTLAND, Me., July 2.—The attempt to bring into the United States through the port of Portland, a film of the Johnson-Willard world's heavy-weight championship fight at Havana was blocked in the United States district court today.

Judge Clarence Hale after a long hearing refused to grant a petition by the Kaesthene Exhibition Co. of New York, for a preliminary injunction to restrain the collector of the port or his agents from interfering with the entry of the negative, which reached here by express from Toronto last Saturday.

ISSUED BY GOV. TENER

GOV. BRUMBAUGH WITHDRAWS REQUISITION WARRANT FOR MAN WANTED FOR MURDER

PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—Gov. Brumbaugh, it was learned today, has withdrawn a requisition warrant issued by Gov. Tener in 1913, for Fred Brown, a negro wanted in South Carolina on a charge of murder.

Council for Brown has made extraordinary efforts to keep him out of South Carolina. After his arrest several years ago his counsel pleaded that if Brown was returned to that state he would be in danger of lynching. In support of this plea, he quoted public utterances of Cole Blaise, then governor of South Carolina. The requisition was finally issued by Gov. Tener and Brown's counsel carried the case through all the United States courts to the supreme tribunal, which sustained the lower courts in refusing to interfere.

In asking for the withdrawal of the requisition by Gov. Brumbaugh, counsel cited incidents in connection with the Frank case in Georgia and a recent lynching in South Carolina. A hearing in the case will be given by Gov. Brumbaugh next week.

ESPIONAGE IS CHARGED

CZECH PARLIAMENTARY LEADER AND HEAD OF BOHEMIAN GYMNASIUM ARRESTED

LONDON, July 2, 4.02 a. m.—The Czech parliamentary leader, Dr. Kramar and Dr. Schreiner, head of the Bohemian gymnastic organization, were arrested at Prague on May 22, charged with espionage and maintaining friendly relations with the Italian consul, according to the Times. The only compromising documents found in their possession are said to have been copies of a Czech review published in Paris.

The Times asserts the two men are imprisoned in Vienna, although reports of their liberation have been spread officially in the hope of influencing the Czech population in favor of the war loan.

The refusal of the Czech party to disavow its arrested leaders is reported to have been in architect Frederick, commander-in-chief of the Austrian army, addressing to Emperor Francis Joseph a report denouncing all Czechs as traitors. The Times' article contains the statement that several Czech regiments have deserted to the Russians and Serbians.

BANK TREASURER ENDS LIFE
ANNAPOLIS, Md., July 2.—J. Marshall Caughey, treasurer of the Annapolis Banking and Trust company, committed suicide last night. At the same hour the directors of the trust company were in session at the bank waiting for Caughey to appear to explain certain matters regarding his accounts.

LOS ANGELES CLUB WINNER

CHICAGO, July 2.—Incomplete reports received today of the annual competition for the Crafts W. Higgins trophy, emblematic of the team championship of the Women's Western Golf association, played at yesterday indicate that the Los Angeles County club team was the winner with six six. The Los Angeles club won the event last year and also in 1911.

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Daughter's Health.

Plover, Iowa.—"From a small child my 13 year old daughter had female weakness. I spoke to three doctors about it and they did not help her any. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had been of great benefit to me, so I decided to have her give it a trial. She has taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound according to directions on the bottle and she is cured of this trouble. She was all run down when she started taking the Compound and her periods did not come right. She was so poorly and weak that I often had to help her dress herself, but now she is regular and is growing strong and healthy."—Mrs. MARTIN HELVIG, Plover, Iowa.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

If you are ill do not drag along and continue to suffer day in and day out but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a woman's remedy for woman's ills.

This famous remedy, the medicinal properties of which is derived from native roots and herbs, has for nearly forty years proved to be a most valuable specific for woman's ills. Why don't you try it?

FIGHT TO A FINISH

SUGGESTION TO EXTEND SYMPATHY TO GERMAN TRADE UNIONS CALLED BOSH AT LONDON

LONDON, July 2, 2.20 p. m.—The trade unionists of Great Britain today dismissed with contempt the suggestion that a vote of sympathy be given to their German fellow unionists in trade at the annual conference of the federation, now in session at Derby.

"Drop such sentimental bosh" was the prompt demand made by Ben Tillet, the fighting head of a number of leading unions. "This is a scrap," he added, "and must be fought out in that spirit. Whoever heard of two prize fighters stopping in the middle of a fight to kiss each other."

One of the other delegates declared "British workmen whose sons are at the front are so bitter on account of German outrages that they would hardly be content with anything less than the wiping out of the German people."

Some trades union delegates who were in Germany in June, 1914, said they had found the German workers in full sympathy with their government; that they had openly boasted that "when the great war came Germany was going to crush France and then England."

Loud cries of "next business" buried the proposal to pass a vote of sympathy with the German trade unionists.

WEAR CORK-LINED SUIT

WASHINGTON, July 2.—W. W. Brice, who resigned recently as an assistant solicitor of the department of state to become London representative of American exporters, will sail for Liverpool next week. He has carefully fortified himself against drowning as a result of possible submarine attack.

Mr. Brice has obtained from the inventor a rubber suit lined with cork, which he insists will keep the wearer afloat for many hours. The suit was made to order and is supposed to fit his body from the soles of his feet to his neck. Several pounds of lead are inclosed in the feet of the suit so he will be enabled to keep his head above water.

Mr. Brice will sleep in the suit during his trip across the Atlantic.

CHECK ROOM GRATUITIES

Two Chicago Hotels Restrained From Turning Out Lessees' Employees Who Collect Tips

CHICAGO, July 2.—A temporary injunction issued in the circuit court yesterday by Judge Smith, restrained two downtown hotels from turning out the employees of Jacques Roussio and Sam Wolf, who pay $5500 and $6000 for the privilege of maintaining the hotel wash and check rooms, and collect gratuities bestowed on their employees by hotel patrons. Roussio and Wolf told the court they derived "reasonable profit from their business."

The issuance of the injunction forestalls action by the hotels under the state law which became effective yesterday prohibiting the leasing of wash and check rooms to men who take tips from the public and pay wages to the employees.

INSTRUCTION IN RUSSIAN

NEW YORK, July 2.—Columbia university announces that such a demand for practical instruction in Russian has arisen as a result of the European war that the university is organizing work of this kind for the summer session beginning July 6.

The courses will include both history and language, special stress being laid on Russia's economic growth and the openings for trade between that country and the United States.

ANNUAL CRUISE POSTPONED

MARBLEHEAD, July 2.—Owing to the stormy and thick weather off Cape Ann the scheduled run of the Eastern Yacht club to Portland today was postponed, and the squadron proceeded at will to Gloucester.

The rain which had been falling steadily since early yesterday eased during the forenoon. As the captains were anxious to leave this harbor and make some eastern port even though it should be only a short distance, Commodore H. M. Sears ordered the fleet to proceed at will to an anchorage behind Dog bar breakwater. It is expected that the fleet will run either to Portland or Boothbay tomorrow.

RAIN INTERFERES WITH PLAY

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 2.—The clay courts tennis championships were again interrupted by rain this morning and there were no games played.

In case the rain ceases this afternoon the final of the men's singles between Williams and Church will be played, and the men's doubles run out down to the semi-finals.

The women's singles will go over until tomorrow. Indications are that the mixed doubles will be declared off, as the tournament must finish tomorrow.

HOMEOPATHS AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 2.—Dr. Henry C. Alrich of Minneapolis was elected president of the American Institute of Homeopathy at yesterday's session of the annual convention. The next annual meeting will be held in Baltimore.

Dr. George Royal, chairman of the committee on medical education, announced that work had been begun on a new hospital to cost $250,000 on the campus of the Ohio State University in connection with the school of homeopathic medicine.

Dr. J. Richey Horner of Cleveland, in speaking on the "modern treatment of the insane," declared that many additional cases of insanity would be cured if physicians were to give them the same careful diagnosis and attention that is given the victims of other diseases.

FOUR FISHERMEN DROWN
Three Others Narrowly Escape When Their Power Boat Upsets Off Ocean City, Md.

OCEAN CITY, Md., July 2.—Four fishermen were drowned and three others had narrow escapes when their power boat capsized in the surf here yesterday. The men were fishing from a power boat, which became unmanageable when the engine suddenly stopped. The craft rolled broadside to the sea and was overturned by a huge wave.

Upriver Paper Discusses the New England League Situation in
That City

"Manchester is a dignified and self-respecting city, mindful of the rights of others and of her own, expecting to give a square deal and to be dealt fairly with in return. She is not, however, the sort of community to meekly submit to wrong or unfairness, or to being handed anything in the shape of a gold brick.

From the facts that have thus developed, it would appear that persons interested in the taking of the New England league ball team from the town without having given its people a chance to approve or disapprove such a proceeding have picked out the wrong city for their aim-dam operation. As nearly as can be learned, negotiations to transfer the Manchester franchise to some little town down in Massachusetts were well under way before the people of this city had had any opportunity to express their preference in the matter, or to subscribe the amount necessary to retain the team. Just what motive was behind all the gum-shoe work is not altogether in evidence as yet, but when the plan was finally made public through the columns of the Union and Leader, it became very evident that the city could not submit, without a tangible protest, to any such high-handed proceeding.

Men who not only realize the excellence of the Manchester team and the undoubted benefit that is to be derived from having the city represented in the New England league, but men who also appreciate how unfavorable an impression its unopposed transfer would create, have taken the matter up in earnest. The result is that now the indications are that the team will stay right here and that the pretty little village down in the Bay State will have to flourish its handful of money in some other direction.

Such men as Mayor Harry W. Spaulding, Edwin A. Dunbar, Carroll S. King, William C. Carroll and others, who do not make failures of their undertakings, have interested themselves in the matter of the retention of the team, with the result that nearly half the money necessary to insure its finishing the season wearing the Manchester uniform has been subscribed, with the canvass hardly begun.

The business men of this city, in so far as they have had a chance to express themselves, at all, have been unanimously in favor of retaining the team, and the contributions for stock, necessary to maintain it, have been made with the utmost willingness. With the stock owned locally, and the administration of affairs in the hands of Manchester men, there is little doubt that so great an added interest will be given the game here as to insure the finish of the season at a profit rather than loss.

In any case, the reputation of the city in the matter of public spirit will have been sustained, besides the recreation and amusement that will have been afforded; and either one of these considerations is worth all that it will cost to keep the team here."—Manchester Union-Leader.

In the first paragraph reference is made to a gold brick. That's very funny. Manchester being handed a gold brick, in a baseball sense, is extremely funny.

If there was any goldbricking done it was by the people of Manchester who were loud in their protestations for baseball. Their lack of interest in last season's club was easily comprehensible for Lake's aggression was not a pennant aspirant. But they said, these people of Manchester, that the fans would surely turn out and support a regular honest-to-goodness ball team.

Well, Keady and Kiernan gave them that sort of club. Manchester has a good team. It is composed of good ball players in the main—players who are never beaten until the third man is retired in the last inning.

In Tom Keady and Jack Kiernan Manchester has a pair of magnates who are gentlemen in every respect. Manchester boasts a large sprinkling of Dartmouth men and Keady is one of the best known of that college's alumni. Kiernan has been identified with baseball for years, both as a player and manager.

Therefore Manchester could not have any complaint to make either on club or on owners. Yet this editorial states that with Manchester people at the head of Manchester baseball everything should go along smoothly. It looks as though the Manchester people won't pay to see anything unless the receipts go into Manchester pockets. Wonder what the thrifty business men of Manchester do on circus day?

If the attendance defends local ownership, it is to be hoped that hereafter now that Manchester folks have woken up, the future games will draw large crowds. When a city fails to patronize ball games the only inference is that it has no interest in the game.

THE EMERY BALL

What it is and how it Was Used Before

Take a nice, new ball, fresh from the factory. Roughen a spot on the surface no bigger than a dime, if you wish, and place it in the hand of a pitcher with only ordinary speed, and still more ordinary curves. Instantly your pitcher becomes more formidable than Walter Johnson or Christy Mathewson, and he has an article of goods which the greatest batsman in the world can't fathom. He becomes an "emery ball" pitcher.

The latest addition to the baseball category of freak terms is still Greek to most fans. It is only lately found in the expression has crept into newspaper columns, although the thing which it describes has been known to the wisest of baseball for the last three or four years. Russell Ford is said to be the discoverer of the new fowler. In a confidential mood he passed the word on to two or three other pitchers, and in the same manner it reached "Skeeter" Fanning, who introduced it into Coast League society.

But the sad thing to be noted in connection with the "emery ball" is that its use is frowned on in the American association there is a rule that any pitcher detected using the device on a two or three other pitchers will be fined $100 and suspension for 30 days. As far as is known, this is the only league to take official notice of the "emery ball," and comes pretty much all implies have been instructed to maintain a close watch against its use.

The new twister gets its name from the fact that the roughened surface was first produced by massaging a small spot with a piece of sandpaper, with finger and thumb, and comes pretty much all implies have been instructed to maintain a close watch against its use.

Now, here is what it does. When thrown a foot or two of the plate it breaks suddenly and goes up or down according to the way it was thrown, almost perpendicularly. The jump is generally for eight or ten inches, when it breaks suddenly again and shoots right across the plate. No batsman in the world can gauge it. It may go up or down, or the pitcher may make it fall on either side of the plate. The catcher is aware of what's coming, he's as helpless as the batsman.

The element of danger to the batsman is the reason why the "emery ball" is looked upon with disfavor. It breaks so fast that he has no chance of stepping out of the way should he happen to get in the road. If the ball happened to be high and thrown to break it toward the plate, there'd be no escape for the batsman. He would get as nice a beating as if someone stood over his head and pounded away with a club.

Toward the latter part of last season Fanning, pitching in Oakland on Sunday, made a hold of a ball that collided with the stand. "Skeeter" used his finger nail to complete the corrugation, and no one but himself and Walter Schmidt "knew" what was going on. The result was two hits for the opposition, and Fanning allowed them simply to divert suspicion from himself. He told "Rube" Gaudin on it in the Imperial league this winter, and in four trips to the bat Gardner didn't touch the ball once.

THE GROOVE BALL

The Pitchers' Bugbear—
Also Their Alibi When
Sluggers Connect

"On gosh! What a 'booh' he was to give that guy over in the groove. How often have you heard that expression at a baseball game?"

Almost every time "Rube" Cravath, the champion home-run flourish of the major leagues, lands one into the bleachers or over the rightfield fence, some one in the crowd is sure to say "Skeeter" Fanning is "grooving" the ball. They tried to say it about J. Franklin Baker before the American

Lowell Boy Will Train
Here for His Next
BoutPercy Aubrey of England Faces Him in
New York, July 14

Joe Brooks, the local lad who boxes under the name de guerre of Gardner Brooks, took a run over from New York yesterday and will spend the fourth of his home.

Joe, or Gardner as he is more popularly known, took the elevator and came up to see us soon after his arrival. He's just the same modest little fellow who departed for the big burg a few months ago to make his fortune in the open square. His successes in Goddard's arenas haven't worked any noticeable change upon him and he wears the same size chapeau as of yore.

Today young Brooks stands among the top-notchers in the bantam weight division and is resolutely shunned by many of the boxers of his weight, who are well thought of in fact many of them have learned to their sorrow that the Lowell product of the padded mitten game is a bad actor when he is in the squared arena with an opponent.

Jerry Felton, manager of Brooks, has vainly tried to get a match with Kid Williams but there has been nothing doing thus far. Williams doesn't care to tangle anything quite as tough apparently as he is too busy doing a "Freddie Welsh" through the third league "Home-Run King" retired to Bantam in a corner league.

From the time the Trappe, N. H., farmer broke into major league baseball from the Reading Tri-State league team and his heavy eye was bludgeoned by what he picked up as a member of the Athletics, every player on the minor seven clubs in the American league has been looking for a chance to meet the New York Giant in the "National" league, who met Baker in two world's series, tried to find out Baker's weakness. Some pitchers have been looking for a chance to meet one of them fanned the slugger, he decided that he had discovered what Baker couldn't hit. But Baker continued to hit home runs just the same.

May Have Weakness
It is the same with Cravath of the Phillies, Vic Sater of the Chicago Cubs, Larry Doyle of the New York Giants, Sherwood Magee of the Boston Braves and a few more of the "leather-kickers." Probably all of these heavy hitters have heavy eyes, and are looking for a chance to meet the New York Giant in the "National" league, who met Baker in two world's series, tried to find out Baker's weakness. Some pitchers have been looking for a chance to meet one of them fanned the slugger, he decided that he had discovered what Baker couldn't hit. But Baker continued to hit home runs just the same.

One of the line points of baseball these days. It is a part of what is called "inside baseball," and it is a most important factor in the system that is usually followed by a winning team. Connie Mack, George Stallings, Clark Griffith and the other managers who have adopted the "inside" strategy as part of their daily drill and schooling, make this one of the most important lessons taught to the players, and they expect the youngsters to may spend the greater part of the season on the bench.

Pitcher's Control is Factor
Of course, the pitcher cannot always get the ball just where he wants it, even when he knows where it should go to prevent the batters from hitting it. It is in this, where control counts. During the world's series of 1911, between the Athletics and New York Giants, Baker hit one of his history-making "home runs" off Rube Marquard and the eccentric southpaw was criticised for giving Baker "one in the groove." A thirty Mathewson, who was supposed to be writing a series of special articles was credited with having taken Marquard to task for giving Baker one he could hit over the fence, "he kept on the inside" was Mathewson's advice to Rube. In the next game, with Mathewson pitching, Baker hit another home run, and after the Athletics had won that game Mathewson was asked what kind of a ball he pitched to J. Franklin. He said: "I tried to put one across his shoulders and on the inside corner of the plate, but I must have slipped. It right through the groove" to him.

The same old alibi has been given hundreds of times and will be given again so long as the sluggers continue to slug the ball and the pitchers continue to try for the batters' "weakness."

There were heavy hitters in the olden days and it is likely that some of the old timers had a "weakness."

GARDNER BROOKS

rates of the bantams. Gardner looks as healthy as Hood's farm and as hard as nails. He is matched to meet Percy Aubrey of England in New York July 14 and will train for the bout in Lowell.

but the players and managers did not think so much of the "inside game." In those days there was little effort made to learn if a player who was known to be a slugger had a thing as a having "weakness" concealed about his system. If the great Ed Delahanty of the Phillies had a weakness no one ever found it, for "Big Ed" was still slugging the best pitchers up until the time he jumped from the Phillies to the American league, where he was playing when he died.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Washers of Bowden street are ready for any 2 year old team in the city. We "washed" the Corbett street nine and the Crickets. Here we are: Charles Cummins, 2nd base; Frank Massey, capt.; Clinton Barton, 1st; Smith Powers, p.; Ed. Donnelly, 2d base; Arthur Braeger, 3d; O'Neill, c.; James Flagg, 1st; Tim Sullivan, 1st; John F. Powers, mascot. Send all letters to Capt. F. Massey, 69 Bowden street.

Roddy's Pets would like a game with any 12 or 13 year old team in the city for Saturday, July 3. The lineup is as follows:
J. Roddy, captain and pitcher; A. Kellner, catcher; J. Corra, 1st base; C. Messer, 2nd base; C. Corra, 3d; P. Tatham, 4th base; L. Malloff, 1st field; A. Malloff, c. field; W. Graig, 1st field.
Captain Roddy would like to hear from Manager O'Shea of the O. M. I. cadets in regard to a game for Saturday.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

Benny Kauff had a day off and for the first time had a chance to see Detroit's team play ball. Ty Cobb beat out an infield run, went from first to third on an infield out and slid a cyclonic twister around the catcher, Kauff arose and walked to the press box.

"Say," he remarked, "where's that guy who called me the Ty Cobb of the Federal league?"
"In the one," spoke up the reporter.
"I just wanted to thank you," said Kauff. "I don't know how hard you were working me until I saw that fellow Cobb in action."

One of the most peculiar plays recorded in base ball came up in a Federal league game at Baltimore on June 19. In the first inning the Chifeds had the bases full and one out. The batter up struck out but the ball got away from Catcher Owens and the batter chased to first base. The man on third imagined he was forced, saw a chance to reach home, so departed for the bench. Owens threw to third base, though just how he expected to tag the runner who was on the bench was not clear. Then some one waked the runner up and he chased from the bench to the plate, with the fielders after him. He reached the plate first and umpire Johnson allowed the run. Baltimore has protested the ruling and it is up to President Gilmore to decide the tangle.

The Chicago Americans, a notoriously bad club in bygone seasons, began their campaign as if they were going to be soft plucking when operating in the land of the enemy. Right off the reel they dropped two out of four in St. Louis and were whaled four in a row in Detroit. But since that disaster Manager Rowland's men have traveled just as softly on the tour ending Saturday.

urday in Cleveland, the Chicagoans engaged in 20 combats. They hooked on to 14, which is traversing at the noisy clip of 700.

While the National league is enforcing strict player liability rules, to the disgust of several leading managers, a loophole has been discovered which is permitting the clubs to sign new players for next year without further delay. The rule makes it illegal to carry more than the limit number of players on the payrolls, but there is nothing to prevent the signing of promising youngsters at this stage of the proceedings, providing they are not used in championship games.

Circuit changes are talked of for the Colonial as well as for the New England league. President Copen of the Little Outing League states that the chances of a transfer of the Taunton team are "very fair," which is almost as curling a way of putting it as the Boston and Worcester's fancy alone. "Fans" are forbidden to ride in the front vestibule and will not be allowed to ride in the rear vestibule.—Boston Journal.

Slowly but surely the red man is passing. Jim Therpe who couldn't make good with a class AA team is sure to drop from sight when his contract expires next fall. And it's a question how much longer Bender and Chief Meyers will be able to hold out.

Now and then around the circuit we hear that Portland looks like a Class A club, while Lynn has the appearance of a Class B club. All of which may be true but Lawrence is still at the top and it's a cinch that Pearson's club is not a Class A club. Perhaps opinions as to the relative strength of the various clubs are about on an equal footing with some of the opinions relative to umpires this year.—Lynn News.

MACK MAY DROP MORE HIGH SALARIED MEN; BARRY MAY BE THE NEXT TO GO

PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—On the heels of the news of the disposal of Rob Shawkey by the Philadelphia Athletics to the New York Yankees comes the report that Jack Barry, the clever shortstop, is on the market. Barry has not played in a game since June 19 because of an injury. It also was reported that it is the intention of Connie Mack to get rid of all his high salaried men, with the possible exception of Stuffy McInnis, at first; Amos Strunk, outfielder, and one or two others.

WITH THE PADDED MITTS

Joe Rivera, the Mexican fighter, is scheduled to perform before the boxing club of Boston next Tuesday evening. Rivera's opponent will be Gilbert Gallant of Chelsea and a rugged bout should be in order. Rivera, a few years ago would beat Gallant every day in the week, but Joe has slipped down the chutes and Gallant has an excellent chance of coping a victory.

Walter Butler and Tommy McFarland, two Lowell favorites, will unwind swings at each other in the semi-final to the Rivers-Gallant bout. McFarland put up two tough fights with Larry Burns in this city a few years ago and his gameness and courage made quite a hit. Walter Butler won both of his fights in Lowell by kayos. Jack Mansfield going down with a right to the stomach, while Young Rivet hoisted the distress signal from the canvas after three rounds of battling.

There is talk about starting a boxing club at Rockingham park shortly. If such is the case and if the promoters live up to their promise the fans of New England are in line to witness several high grade boxing matches. George Lawrence, manager of Sam McVea and Colin Bell, is the man who is behind the venture and he recently stated, if he opened the club, Charley White and other high class performers would appear there.

The coming bout between Charley White and Milburn (Young) Saylor, looks like one big affair from where we sit. Saylor has fought practically every lightweight of note in the world and has always made a good showing, sometimes he lost, but in the majority of his bouts he was the victor at the end of the decision. White has only allowed two men to stay the limit in his last ten bouts, Leach Cross and Charley Thomas, but he stopped Thomas shortly after. The boy will box 12 rounds at the Atlas A. A. on July 14 and a record house is looked for.

Walter Mohr and Eddie Murphy are down on the cards for a bout next Wednesday at Thornton, R. I. These boys are not strangers by any means, having clashed on two occasions at Cambridge. After Mohr giving Murphy a terrible lacing in the first battle only to have the referee call it a draw. In the second encounter he held his own, but lost the decision. Mohr is the favorite, but Murphy will make him travel at top speed.

Bay-Wood knocked out Grover Hayes, the veteran lightweight at Turners Falls last night in the tenth round. Wood had the better of up till this session and when he put Hayes through the ropes in the tenth, the Chicago boy could not respond. Joe Carroll and Joe Boudreau fought ten rounds to a draw in the semi windup.

Bay Wood was one of the most popular boxers that ever graced a Lowell ring and every time he was booked to appear, standing room was at a premium. He never lost a battle in this city. Wood defeated, in his first appearance here, Eddie Flynn, whom he meets next Monday at Hildesford, Me. Young Jasper, Kid McDonald and Frankie Mack were also humbled by the Fall River boxer. He also held Gilbert Gallant to a draw.

Gunboat Smith was outpointed by Charley Wener at Brooklyn last night in a ten round battle. Wener carried off honors in seven of the ten rounds and had Smith in a bad way. This makes the second time Wener has hung a win over the Gunner and Charley would like nothing better than a crack at the heavyweight champion, Jess Willard.

Jack Hemple won another fight last night, this time stopping Battling Johnson (not the colored heavy), in four rounds. Hemple has won his last nine fights by kayos and everything looks rosy for big things. Hemple helped train Jess Willard for his bout with Johnson at Havana.

SOCCER FOOTBALL

The question of forming an eight club league instead of six was discussed at the meeting of the Lawrence, Lowell District Football league held at the English Social club, in Lawrence, last night, but action was deferred until next meeting in order to give those a chance to be heard from who had received invitations to join the league. The Bunting club delegates feel well satisfied that the league will adopt the eight-club movement, which will bring them into the first city league. The Bunting club will spare no expense in trying to get a winning team and they wish it to be known that they can place several good soccer players on their team. Those who desire a place on the team should write to the manager, care of the Bunting club, who will gladly meet them to talk business. Forms for the players will be ready soon and players should investigate the agreement thoroughly before signing on with any club as there are several restrictions this year which the players will do well to notice. Some concern over the future of soccer was expressed last night by some of the delegates. It is felt by several well known players that the game is liable to take a backward movement unless the schools and colleges take more interest in the sport as very few young men are training for, or learning the game. The teams around this part of the country are made up almost entirely of players who played the game on the other side of the Atlantic and the new recruits in a great majority of cases are young men who have just come over. If the game is to be made popular the schoolboys must be induced to play the game as that is the only place where players can be recruited from. The game cannot be allowed to depend upon old country players all the time if it is to increase in popularity.

HAGEN WINNER

Rochester Golfer Wins
Open State Golf Title
—Brady Second

BOSTON, July 2.—Walter Hagen of Rochester, N. Y., regarded by many as the best golfer in the United States, proved yesterday that no matter under what conditions he had to encounter, his golf was a trifle better than that of those who competed in the Massachusetts open championship on the last 36 holes at the Country club, Brookline.

Winners of the Eight Prizes
Walter C. Hagen, Rochester, N. Y. $150
Michael J. Brady, Wollaston 100
Gilbert Nicholls, Wilmington 70
J. H. Barnes, Whittemash Valley 50
C. H. Hoffman, Woodbury, N. J. 30
Tom Anderson, Montclair, N. J. 20
Patrick J. Doyle, Myopia 10
Louis Foster, Canoe Brook, and Alec Campbell, Baltimore, split 5

Totals $435
Hagen, who was tied with Mike Brady, the Wollaston professional, after 31 holes, started after lunch to annex the state title held by the Wollaston player. Brady and Hagen had totals of 222 each, but after the fourth and last rounds Hagen had gained five shots on his brother pro, which gave him the state title, with 298 as his total.

Brady scored an 81 on his last round, giving him second money, with a total of 303, while Gilbert Nicholls of Wilmington received third prize, one shot behind the former Brighton golfer, Jim Barnes of Whittemash Valley, who tied for fourth with Francis Outmet, four shots behind Nicholls, and C. H. Hoffman of Woodbury, N. J., was fifth two shots behind Barnes. Francis Outmet, national amateur champion, will receive a special prize and Barnes will be awarded fourth money, according to the ruling of the state association.

Tom Anderson of Upper Montclair was sixth, Pat Doyle of Myopia seventh, Louis Teller, the French professional, and Alec Campbell, for many years the professional at the Country club, but now at the Baltimore C. C., dividing eighth money. Boston, runner-up in the recent national open championship, failed to get in the money, as did Orrin Terry, Belmont Spring, who was runner-up to Brady last year. McNamara scored 220 and Terry was one shot worse. Tom Kerrigan failed to do better than an 82 and an 85 for his last two rounds, which gave him a total of 322.

Jesse P. Guilford, Bellevue G. C., winner of many open amateur tournaments in this vicinity this season, had 224, which was the second best score made by the amateurs. Sam Sterne, of the Tatnuck club, Worcester, was the third best amateur.

KAUFF JUMPS THE FEDS

SAYS HE WILL REPORT TO
GIANTS

NEW YORK, July 2.—Benny Kauff, the Ty Cobb of the Federal league who earlier in the season had occasioned a sensation by jumping from the Brooklyn Reds to the Giants, and Tom Seaton, former star twirler of the Phillies, jumped the Brooklyn Reds and say they will not return to the Outlaw fold. Kauff said that he would report to McGraw at Ebbetts field tomorrow and if not accepted by the Giants he would quit baseball for good.

Tom Seaton signed with the Reds at a salary of $5500 a year. His pitching this season drew many uncomplimentary remarks from the fans and recently he was suspended by Manager Lee Magee.

When told yesterday afternoon at Ebbetts field that Benny Kauff intended to report to the Giants today, Manager John McGraw did not appear to be much excited.

"If I do not see what I can do with Kauff," said McGraw, "When I tried to play him before the case was decided against us and there has been no change in the situation since then."

According to Dick Carroll, business manager for the Wards, Kauff's salary was held up because he had drawn advance money while he was with the Indianapolis club. After the Giants were notified that they could not play Kauff the latter returned the Reds and began proceedings in a $5000 suit against the New York club. Kauff's complaint was breach of contract.

DAY WOOD WON

TURNERS FALLS, July 2.—The Turners Falls Athletic association staged its star bout of the season last night. The preliminary was a six round bout between Jerry Leo of Turners Falls and Young Wagner of Lawrence, Wagner's manager threw in the sponge in the sixth. The semi-final was a go of eight rounds between Young Carroll of Lawrence and Joe Boudreau of Malden. The result was a draw.

The main bout was scheduled to go 12 rounds between Bay Wood of Fall River and Grover Hayes of Chicago. Wood knocked out Hayes in the tenth round, and as Hayes failed to respond to the count, Wood was awarded a knockout. Wood had things his own way in every round.

IN TITLE GAZE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 2.—R. N. Williams, 26, Harvard, national amateur champion and George M. Church of Princeton, intercollegiate champion, will compete on the courts of the Pittsburgh Athletic association this afternoon for the national clay court championship in singles. Williams worked his way into the finals yesterday by defeating N. W. Miller of Boston, while Church was winning from W. M. Washburn. The title match will begin at 3 o'clock.

Play in the women's singles will continue this forenoon and matches in the men's doubles this afternoon. Officials also hope to get several rounds in the mixed doubles completed before the day is over.

TARGET PRACTICE RESULTS

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Results of the target practice of the first Pacific destroyer division, announced by the navy department today, show that while the scores were slightly better than those of last year, they were not so good as those made this year by the destroyers of the Atlantic flotilla.

MORE SAILING SHIPS

PANAMA, July 2.—Since the opening of the Panama canal it has been noticed by shipping agents in Panama City that the number of sailing ships to appear on the seas has rapidly increased. All of these have at one time or another passed through the waterway.

Shipping authorities attribute the increase in sailing tonnage to the high freight rates to the European war with the consequent lack of steam bottoms of neutral countries. It is stated that most of these sailing ships are of American register and they are employed in carrying wheat and other grains from United States Pacific ports to England and case oils from the United States ports to the far east.

TOPICS OF TEWKSBURY

Ferris Bros., Successful Western Electricians Renew Old Acquaintances

Mrs. James Fairgrieve of Tewksbury Centre had distinguished visitors at her home during the past week in the persons of William G. Thomas, Robert and James Ferris, former residents of this city, who are now located in the western part of the state, where they have established what is known as the Ferris Brothers' Electrical system.

William G. Ferris is located at Boise City, Idaho; Thomas at Osage, Iowa; Robert at Yankton, South Dakota, and James at Watertown, South Dakota. The four young men were accompanied by their sister, Mrs. William True of Hatfield, Wis. The party also visited their mother, Mrs. Margaret Lincoln of 369 Lincoln street, this city.

The Ferris brothers formerly resided in this city, where they were brought up. Some 15 years ago the eldest boy, William G., went west and secured employment with the General Electric Co. of Chicago, Ill. After learning the electrical business and becoming an expert in this particular line of work, the young man went into business for himself and later formed a company with his three brothers and the famous Ferris Bros. Electrical system, which is noted to be one of the most electrical developments for years, was started.

Large concerns in the western states were interested in the system and in a short time the young men were doing a tremendous business. The system was introduced in different parts of the west and finally it was deemed advisable to open offices in various cities and accordingly William G. went to Boise City, Idaho; Thomas to Osage, Iowa; Robert to Yankton, S. D., and James to Watertown, S. D. Each one of the brothers has charge of his end of the business and they all report success. The system consists of electrical power and lighting and, according to reports, many of the large manufacturing concerns of the west that formerly used water power have given this up and now have recourse to the Ferris Bros.' system.

Water System

William T. Lewis of Main street, Centre village, is installing a water system at his home which will prove to be a great improvement. Wells have been driven and now men are at work installing a 1000-gallon water tank in the basement of the house, which will serve as the reservoir, the water to be pumped from there into the various apartments of the building.

School Teachers

The schools of the town, as previously announced, closed during the past week and most of the teachers, who reside out of town, have returned to their homes, carrying with them the best wishes of their pupils.

Miss Nellie Fleming, principal of the Foster school, is planning a trip to California, during which she will visit the two expositions, which are being held at San Francisco and San Diego. She will be gone a couple of months.

Building Sidewalk

In compliance with a vote of the citizens at the last town meeting, the town is having a sidewalk of cinders laid on the main road from Chandler's corner to North street. Several town employees are busy on the job.

Persons

Melvin Ellis, who recently graduated from the Lowell high school, has gone to Levant, Me. to spend a month with his parents. He will return for a post-graduate course at the same school. His mother, who attended the graduation exercises, has returned to her home.

Franklin Spaulding is erecting a garage in the rear of the home of his father, Benjamin Spaulding in North street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Billings, their daughter, Gretchen, son, Master Roger and Miss Edith Forestall, have gone on an automobile trip to New York.

Harry Lord of Pleasant street has purchased a Ford automobile of the touring type.

Jeremiah K. Chandler is having his automobile overhauled and painted, the work being done at the shop of Aiden Hallen.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garlick, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Sweet, John Randall, Miss Bertha Randall and Miss Avis Dinmore have received invitations to attend the wedding of Miss Lilla Hutten and Carl Olsen at Brockton, July 3.

Mrs. J. L. Burtt of Pleasant street has had as her guest, Mrs. M. S. Hoyt of Exeter, N. H.

Mrs. Homer Darby and son will spend the holidays at the home of Mrs. Darby's mother in Haverhill.

Mrs. William R. Means has purchased a Rio automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Gale and the latter's mother, Mrs. Hawkes, have returned from a pleasant automobile trip to Little Boars Head, N. H.

Lawn Party

The annual lawn party under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society of the Congregational church of the Centre village, was conducted Wednesday evening on the beautiful lawn of Enos Foster in the Centre village. On account of the afternoon rain it was thought the event would have to be postponed, but fortunately the skies cleared up in the latter part of the afternoon and the weather, although not of the best, was favorable for the event and the affair proved very successful. There were about 150 people in attendance and all spent a most enjoyable evening.

The trees about the lawn had been beautifully decorated for the occasion and a big arch of gas lights added greatly to the brilliancy of the party. The entertainment program, which was scheduled to be held in the open, was conducted in Deacon Foster's home and consisted of vocal and instrumental selections by some of the best talent of the town.

Those in charge of the event were as follows:

Candy table: Mrs. Herbert Patten, Mrs. James Miller, Mrs. Clarence Clark, Mrs. P. W. Cameron, Mrs. King and Miss King.

Ice cream: Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. George

Mrs. W. H. Brown Tells How She Was Relieved After Long Suffering

Mrs. W. H. Brown of Danvers, Mass., was a victim of stomach trouble which tortured her for years. She tried many treatments and medicines and got little relief.

Then she took Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and got results right away. In telling of her case she wrote: "For years I have suffered terribly with stomach trouble. I could find no relief. Then, like a blessing from above, I heard of your remedy; sent for it, and after a few treatments am being cured. I am going to tell all my friends of your miraculous remedy."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

We Believe In "Turn-Overs"

BUT NOT IN GOING TO SLEEP

Our swift-selling stock is turned into cash so quickly that we can operate on a small profit.

The Wrong Way!

Most stores sell clothes at high prices ten months in the year. Clothes that they get anywhere and everywhere, without regard to style, fit or fashion. Then, two months in the year they sell the "left-overs" which have accumulated during this season—last season—and many previous seasons. The newspapers are full of ads announcing sales. Sales! Sales! Sales! is like Fire! Fire! Fire! Exciting, but it means nothing to the buying public. Bargain Sales—Clearance Sales—and other sales all mean that you are being offered "left-over" clothes that no one ever wanted. Thus clothiers try their damndest to work off these "Stickers."

The Right Way!

Figure it for yourself and you'll agree that the P&Q way is the correct way. The P&Q tailoring shops at 594 Broadway, N. Y., make a limited number of suits that are just right. We don't overstock. We sell the latest New York style creations as quickly as they are tailored at our low prices, $10-or-$15 ALL THE YEAR ROUND. We don't mark them up so we can't mark them down.

$10 Just Two Prices $15
Two Just Prices

And P&Q Clothes at their low prices of ALWAYS $10-or-$15 contain from 25 to 33 1-3 per cent. more quality than the average clothes being featured in price-cutting announcements.

Men of Lowell!

Thousands of your fellow townsmen have purchased P&Q Clothes and found them more than making good what we had claimed for them, and if you desire real value and great value, smart, all wool fabrics, New York style and a service guarantee, purchase only P&Q garments.

CRITICISED BY COURT

JUDGE BROWN SCORES WATCH AND WARD SOCIETY AGENT IN DRUG USER CASE

BOSTON, July 2.—Michael Carbond, admitted by Sec. J. Frank Chase of the Watch and Ward society to have been one of the society's agents employed in obtaining evidence against drug users, was sentenced to three months in the house of correction by Judge Charles J. Brown of East Boston yesterday. He appealed and was held in $300. Carbond was arrested with Edward Williams in New North Ferry house, having been noticed to be acting queerly. Williams pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three months.

Judge Brown scored Sec. Chase for having a "drug fiend" in the employ of the Watch and Ward society. Mr. Chase said that if his society or anyone else wished to obtain evidence against drug sellers they must employ such men as Carbond.

AGREEMENT EXPECTED

Miners on Strike Around Joplin, Mo. Adopt a New and Lower Scale of Wages

JOPLIN, Mo., July 2.—A new and lower scale of wages was adopted yesterday at a meeting of officials of the American Metal Miners union in Webb city. At a conference held later with mine operators it seemed that the strikers might soon agree with the employers.

The new scale, which is lower in many instances than the one previously agreed upon by the strikers, has $30 as a basis price for ore and would be lowered or increased with fluctuations in the market. The scale provides that no men working underground shall receive less than $4 a day.

The opinion of miners and operators is that the strike will be settled within the next few days and the mines probably will resume operations next Tuesday.

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

"Careful planning and writing out at least three meals in advance and marketing for the same, is absolutely essential in housekeeping efficiency. If a woman expects to keep her youth, beauty and good health and particularly her sunny disposition," said Marjorie.

"I thoroughly believe in a system," she continued, "and so does any well organized business organization, but it can be a fairly flexible one in the hands of the woman who thinks. No wonder women wear out. They either carry the house around on their two shoulders from morning to night or they forget it entirely. There is a happy medium. Take a pad and pencil and go to the refrigerator after breakfast and make a note of just what food is left over. Then decide where any one of these may be used in the next three meals. Maybe the outside stalks of celery are there for a nice cream of celery soup for instance."

"Now plan and write out on a card (which should be kept in a card index back of the menu) each of these menus, and on another slip write the necessary orders for the grocer, at the same time see if any of the staple goods, such as sugar, tea, coffee, rice, etc., must be replenished, and write these down also."

"Now with this done prepare all these meals as far in advance as possible, such as meats, desserts, etc., so that your work can all be pigeonholed as it were. Very little time is needed then in preparation of any one of these three meals at the last moment."

MISS GARDNER TO WED

DAUGHTER OF CONGRESSMAN AUGUSTUS GARDNER TO MARRY GRAFTON WINTHROP MINOT

HAMILTON, July 2.—People along the North Shore were interested last night in the announcement that Miss Constance Gardner, daughter of Congressman and Mrs. Augustus P. Gardner of Sagamore farm, would become the bride of Grafton Winthrop Minot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grafton Minot of Boston and Nahant, in the Episcopal church in Ipswich on July 21. Miss Gardner made her debut two seasons ago. She has been interested in the Vincent club and other organizations. She is a granddaughter of United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, who spends the summers at Nahant, where the Minots have a beautiful summer home.

Mr. Minot graduated from Harvard

two years ago. He studied abroad, and for the past year or so has been an attaché of the American embassy in Berlin. He recently returned to this country. The Gardners have been at Hamilton since congress closed.

ROSTER OF THE PARADE

Officials at Armory Gave Out Final Arrangements—The Five Divisions

All is now in readiness for the big Fourth of July celebration to be held in this city Monday under the auspices of the local companies of the National Guard, final arrangements having been made at a meeting of the marshals of the five divisions, which was held in the quarters of Major Colby T. Kittredge at the state armory last evening. According to present arrangements, the affair will be the biggest of its kind ever conducted in the state of Massachusetts.

Last night's meeting was presided over by Chief Marshal Kittredge and the marshals of the various divisions reported as to what had been done in the time of progress, and after all reports had been heard all were unanimous in saying the affair will be the best Lowell has ever seen, providing the weather man does not butt in.

Major Kittredge wishes it understood that the parade will start promptly at 10 o'clock, unless something unforeseen happens at the last minute. A toll of the fire bells will announce the starting of the parade and the route to be covered will be as follows:

Route of Parade
Formation in Westford street and side streets above the armory. The parade, which is expected to be over four miles in length, will march over Westford street to Chelmsford, to Thorndike, where the automobile and motorcycle division will join; to Middlesex; to Gorham to Davis square, to Central, to Merrimack, to Bridge, countermarch at West Sixth, to Merrimack, as far as Cabot, where dismissal will take place.

The Roster
The roster of the parade so far is as follows. It was stated that a few changes may occur on account of organizations joining in at the last minute.

SEVERAL THOUSAND IDLE

CHICAGO, July 2.—Forty-three of Chicago's largest lumber yards and sixty-five brick-making plants were closed today, throwing several thousand men out of employment.
The establishment will not make deliveries of any building materials until the strike of 16,000 carpenters is settled, according to announcement made. The 11th hour decision of the Allied Building construction and material interests to continue manufacturing operations but not selling placed a more optimistic aspect on the outlook against the carpenters and other building trades workmen. No building material, either brick or wood, will be permitted to reach any building contractor or manufacturer in Chicago, it was declared, however, until peace is restored in the industrial war.

DISPUTE SETTLED

New Haven Agreement With Clerks Now in Effect

NEW HAVEN, July 2.—After negotiations extending over two months, in which a general strike was at one time threatened, the differences between the New York, New Haven & Hartford and its freight clerks were finally settled late yesterday, through the efforts of a federal mediator, C. W. W. Hanger of Washington.

Of the original 15 grievances all except three had been amicably settled before Mr. Hanger's appointment as mediator. The most important question, which involved the right of appeal, was settled yesterday by the substitution of a new rule.

This provides that clerks may appeal their grievances, except in competency cases, to the general superintendent, who shall appoint a committee, of which he may be a member, to hold a hearing and make final disposition of the matter. The rule is similar to the one now in force between the company and its engineers and firemen.

The other cases, technically known as "the Harrington case" and "House No. 9" of Boston, were settled by con-cessation.

The agreement, drafted by Mr. Hanger, was signed by C. L. Eardley, general manager of the railroad, and J. Stearns, general chairman of the clerks' committee.

FINE OR IMPRISONMENT

BRUSSELS, via London, July 2, 10 a. m.—Gen. von Bissing, the German governor-general of Belgium, has issued an order forbidding under penalty of fine or imprisonment, the wearing or exhibiting of Belgian insignia in a provocative manner, and forbidding absolutely the wearing or exhibiting of the insignia of nations warring against Germany and her allies.

ST. RAILWAY CO.'S OFFER ON THE BRIDGE QUESTION

The bridge matter is taking on a new aspect and one that gives more assurance of getting a bridge that will stand the floods, the freshets, the summer rains, the steam rollers and the weather. The plans will have to pass muster or be dropped.

The new feature is that the Bay State Street Railway Co. agrees that it will give $5000 toward the new Pawtucket bridge, but it insists that the plans shall be approved by engineers of its selection, and those engineers are the J. R. Worcester Co. of Boston.

J. R. Worcester Co. are the engineers who have been mentioned with others by Col. Carmichael as the experts whom he would like to have pass upon the matter before any definite step is taken, but the J. R. Worcester Co. are also the firm to whom Engineer Den-

CITY HALL NEWS LATE WAR NEWS

Tuberculosis Dispensary 'Opened-Parade Expenses are $4135

The board of health has opened a tuberculosis dispensary in the basement at city hall. The days for examination will be Tuesdays from 4 o'clock p. m. and Thursdays from 7 o'clock p. m. Dr. Francis A. Finnegan will be on hand during these hours and will be assisted by the board of health nurse, Miss Rutha Muiwey. The establishment of a tuberculosis dispensary is in accordance with chapter 408 of the acts of 1914.

Distribution of City's Money

The city's money is being more evenly distributed in the bank these days than has been the case in former years. The city is now using four banks, the Union, Lowell Trust, Old Lowell, and the Middlesex Trust company. W. W. Duncan, commissioner of finance, stated today that there's about $250,000 of the city's money at the Union bank and the city uses this as its active bank account. At the Lowell trust company the city has a deposit of about $135,000, at the Old Lowell bank $160,000, and at the Middlesex Trust company $25,000.

City Cancels Obligation

Notes against the city amounting to $450,000 came due yesterday and have been paid. The notes represented $250,000 in 1913 taxes and $200,000 on 24 taxes. The notes have been paid and the general treasury is $4000 to the good as that amount was collected in excess of what was required to liquidate the indebtedness. The $1000 is booked as in favor of the general tax account.

The Insurance Money

The insurance money on the Memorial building is coming in every day and the mayor stated today that he expected the last of it would be in next week. This means the insurance on the building and contents and the money will be used for the renovation and reconstruction of Memorial hall.

To Review the Parade

Grand Army veterans will review the parade on Monday from an enclosure in front of the Memorial building. It was stated today that none would be allowed within the lines except those in uniform or wearing the badge of the U. S. A. R.

Many Chauffeurs Examined

A class of twenty would-be chauffeurs took the Massachusetts highway commission examination at city hall this morning. The examination was held in the aldermanic chamber and the examiners were Messrs. Bliss and Bonagall.

Workmen's Compensation Act

An arbitration hearing under the workmen's compensation act will be held at city hall on Wednesday morning, July 14, at 10:30 o'clock. City messenger Monahan received notice of the hearing today and gave out that it would be held in the aldermanic chamber.

Expense Creeping Up

Major Kittredge was a caller at Mayor Murphy's office this forenoon and the mayor reported that the cost of the celebration up to date is $4135. The mayor also stated that at least two moving picture companies would have men here to take pictures of the parade.

SUMMER FOODS AS CAUSE OF DYSPEPSIA

Effect on Digestive Organs Responsible For Many Ills

Summer should be the season of most perfect health but impure water and milk, unripe fruit and a tendency to over-indulge in acid foods and iced drinks results in a contrary condition in many people.

The effect of the average summer diet is to constipate even normally regular bowels, and disturb the digestion. This condition can best be corrected by the use of a mild laxative that has combined with it the elements of a digestive tonic. The combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is gentle, yet positive in its action and brings relief in an easy, natural manner, without griping or other discomfort.

Man firmly declines to submit his plans. And there you are.

Mayor Murphy, Col. Carmichael and City Solicitor Hennessy went to Boston yesterday and held a conference with Mr. P. P. Sullivan, president of the Bay State St. Ry. Co., and Mr. Sullivan said that the company will contribute $5000 toward the cost of the new bridge on condition that the structure will be made strong enough to take care of all future street railway traffic over it, that the plans be approved by an engineer selected by the company and that the engineer be allowed to pass judgment on the mixture of cement and other materials used in its construction.

It now remains to be seen if Mr. Deiman will stand for the "once over" by the engineer or engineers to whom he has hitherto refused to submit his plans.

Austro-Italian Front

The latest statements from the headquarters of the Teutonic allies indicate that there has recently been desperate fighting along the Austro-Italian front. The main effort of the Italians to advance seems to have been northeast of Montecampione in the Isanzo region and the invaders are admitted to have made slight advances. The series of assaults as a whole failed, however, the Austrians claim.

Snatched Inch by Inch

The Italian war office contents itself with claiming ground snatched "inch by inch" from the Austrian defenders, while along the rest of the front the process of consolidating positions and sending up preparations by the Austrians for defense is proceeding satisfactorily.

Greek Bands Advance

Further reports of occupation of Albanian territory have been received. Greek bands having moved toward Berat, occupying villages along the way. This follows closely the recent occupation of Scutari by the Montenegrins and the previous Serbian move into Albania.

AUSTRO-GERMANS ARE MAKING EVERY EFFORT TO CAPTURE WARSAW

LONDON, July 2, 12 noon.—Evidently bent upon a decisive victory against the Russians, the Germans are not yet sending troops to the western front, but, assisted by their Austrian allies, are making every effort to capture Warsaw. Berlin claims further advances by the great Austro-German armies in Galicia, and Field Marshal von Mackensen is pushing steadily ahead between the Vistula and Bug rivers.

Activity in Arras Region

Artillery activity continues unabated in the Arras region of France, but as yet there are no signs of an infantry offensive on that front, although it is scarcely possible that so many thousands of shells are being fired without some such objective. In the Argonne region the Germans on June 30 gained some ground, though at the expense of heavy losses.

In the Dardanelles

A further report regarding the Dardanelles operations claims that the Colonial troops have not been checked in their effort to advance, but that they have been used merely to keep the Turks on their front too busy to send reserves to that portion of the line where the Anglo-French troops made an advance of 1000 yards.

Press Comment on Armenian

The London morning newspapers generally print editorial articles on the sinking of the steamship Armenian by a German submarine, the trend of the discussion being that the relations between the United States and Germany are bound to be further strained by the latest of German submarine exploits. The articles, however, evidently were written before the status of the Leyland liner had been settled.

THE HEAVY RAIN FALL

Nearly Five Inches of Rain in Two Days—Heaviest on Record for July

The present rain storm is the biggest that has visited this section of the country in years. It was stated this forenoon by the office of the Low & Canal in Broadway that the precipitation up to 6 o'clock last evening was 4.66 inches, a record seldom equaled here in such a short time.

The precipitation for the first six months of this year was less than the same period in the last fifteen years, the total rainfall being but 10.65 inches, as compared with 18.08 last year in the same period. The rainfall for the month of June was only 1.33 inches and the present fall bids fair to almost reach the total fall for the first six months of the year.

The present storm was ushered in before the month of July was two hours old, and it drenched this section in a few hours as it has seldom been drenched before. The storm continued with somewhat abated fury, except for slight intervals, and the end is not yet. Great damage has been done in other cities, including Greater Boston, but no particular damage has been reported here other than the flooding of cellars. The Back Bay and market sections of Boston and the city of Somerville seem to have suffered the greatest damage. Hundreds of cellars in the "back bay" and the Back Bay are flooded as early as yesterday morning.

Municipal Drainage Gripped

Damage equivalent to thousands of dollars was the toll taken in Boston and suburbs where municipal drainage systems are not yet capable of meeting the emergency. Cellars of residences and business establishments piled high with goods were flooded, embankments were washed away, manhole covers weighing 225 pounds were lifted from their frames, roofs and railroad tracks were covered in perfect lakes, so that locomotives plowed up sheets of water, making spectacular progress to and from their terminals.

At an early hour special details of police were sent out on orders from police headquarters to investigate the damage caused by the storm. In places in the low-lying parts of the city were visited and the losses were checked up by the patrolmen as data for possible future suits against the city resulting from overflowing sewers. Among the heaviest losers was the Rand Ave. Supply Co., a 117-foot long street, where tons of water poured into the basements and destroyed large quantities of reserve stock. Other places reported nearly equal damage.

Minor washouts were reported in various places along the routes of the B. & M., the New Haven and the B. & A. At both terminals trains came in during the rush hours from 15 minutes to an hour or more late, in many instances, the delays being occasioned by flooded tracks in the outlying districts.

The condition of the tracks aroused considerable apprehension among the railroad men, and orders were issued to slow down trains all over the lines. No serious accidents were reported, however.

HAILSTONES RUIN CROPS

HASTINGS, Neb., July 2.—Parts of Adams, Clay, Fillmore and Thayer counties were devastated by a storm of wind and hail sweeping in a zig-zag course over a stretch of more than 60 miles. In Adams county, hailstones 11 inches around destroyed crops in a strip 20 miles long and from one to three miles wide.

TWO KILLED, 22 INJURED

BIG DECLINE IN RUBBER

—IRREGULARITY MARKET THE

NEW YORK, July 2.—Passing of the dividend on U. S. Rubber common after the close of yesterday's market was followed at today's opening by a decline of almost seven points in that stock. The stock opened with an offering of 25,000 shares at 45 to 46, against yesterday's final quotation of 51 7/8. The rest of the list was irregular, some minor railways and specialties yielding fractions while Canadian ones to two points. American Coal Products was a feature of the inactive issues, advancing nine points to 127 in the first half hour.

Rubber continued its decline to 41 1/2 but recovered to 43 3/8. Sales after the close of yesterday's market amounted to 25,000 shares, and with Can made up half of the operations of that period. Investment stocks and high priced war specialties were not affected by the break in Rubber, making further improvement until Canadian Pacific developed sudden weakness. That stock lost its early gain of 1 3/8 and fell a total of 1 1/2 points to 142, within a fraction of its low record. Later prices regained again on a smaller volume of trading. Future selling was again the feature of the bond list.

BOSTON MARKET

BOSTON, July 2.—A further advance in zinc stocks featured the early Boston market today. The general list was firm with trading moderately active.

WEEKLY BANK CLEARANCES

NEW YORK, July 2.—Weekly bank clearings reported to Bradstreet's aggregate $2,269,502,000, a gain of eleven per cent over last week, but a decrease of 12.4 from last year. Outside of New York the total is $1,367,533,000, an increase of 2 per cent over last week, but a loss of nine per cent from last year.

KANSAS SWEEP BY STORM

KANSAS CITY, July 2.—Wind, rain and hail combined to sweep here yesterday. The dead were children of Lon Baker of the Cal Creek district. The physicians said 32 persons in the Mud Creek country were badly injured.

JAMES KILAKOS IN COURT FOR ALLEGED ATTEMPT TO MURDER BROTHER-IN-LAW

James Kilakos, charged with assault with intent to murder his brother-in-law, James Dracoulakos, was arraigned for continuance before Judge Enright in police court this forenoon. At the request of his counsel, Daniel J. Donahue, the case was continued until July 3 for trial, the bail being reduced from $10,000 to $3000.

HER 79TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Enoch M. Marsh Reaches 79th Milestone in Life's Highway—Pleasant Gathering

All of the old friends, as well as the new ones, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Enoch M. Marsh, in Pelham, N. H., Wednesday, to help Mrs. Marsh celebrate her 79th birthday anniversary. Fully 200 invited guests from Pelham, Salem, Methuen, Lawrence, Lowell, Everett, Nashua, Haverhill and Reading, enjoyed the afternoon on the pleasant lawn and in the spacious rooms. The rooms were filled with flowers brought by the guests and there were many other remembrances of the day. While not an annual occurrence, still so many times have Mr. and Mrs. Marsh bidden their friends to their home at this most lovely time of the year that the looking is looked forward to as a social event. During the entire afternoon music was enjoyed. Master Lawrence Dyson, with his violin; Mr. Froulx, with the mandolin; and Mrs. Cutter at the piano. Paul Greeley and Miss Kelley also gave selections. Refreshments were served on the lawn and the young friends of the granddaughter, Miss Florence Marsh.

As host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Marsh are unequalled and their many friends left, expressing their pleasure of the entertainment and wishing them many more happy years.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. Reuben Griffin and family of Haverhill, also Mr. Charles Griffin of the same city; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Pollard of Lowell; Mr. Cutter and family of Lawrence; Edwin Seales of Methuen; Mrs. Ira F. Harris and Mrs. Proctor of Nashua; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reading, and Mrs. Chester Richardson of Melrose.

FIFTH VICTIM OF FIRE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 2.—Joseph Kuchel, aged 22, died early today from burns received in a fire last Friday at the plant of the Aetna Chemical company where experiments in a new process under development are being made. He is the fifth victim of the fire to die.

BURNED TO DEATH

Roxbury Woman of 70

BOSTON, July 2.—Mrs. Maria Mullen, 70 years old, a widow, living alone in the attic of the two and a half-story building at 7 Texas street, Roxbury, was burned to death last evening, shortly after 9 o'clock, when her nightclothes became ignited as she sought to extinguish a fire on her bureau. When medical assistance was called, Mrs. Mullen was declared to be dead. Her body was removed to the city morgue.

Mrs. Mullen returned to her room shortly before 9 o'clock. She prepared for bed and, having lighted and turned low the wick in her bedroom lamp, she carelessly threw the burning match to the top of the bureau. The match set fire to the bureau linen. Mrs. Mullen leaped from her bed and sought to extinguish the flame. The flame communicated to her nightclothes. The woman screamed as her clothes were burned from her. Those about the dwelling on other floors hastened to her assistance and, with pails of water extinguished the fire about the room and on Mrs. Mullen's clothes.

Dr. Thomas O'Connor, attached to the Roxbury Crossing police station, answered a summons and soon after Medical Examiner Leary visited the house. Dr. Leary pronounced the woman dead. It was said that she had inhaled the flames. She was severely burned about the body.

He formerly was professor of English language and literature at Trinity college, Hartford, and last October became war relief director of the American Red Cross.

THE TOWN OF BILLERICA

MARRIAGE OF MR. HOUGHTON OF
NO. ANDOVER AND MISS HELEN M.
WILKINS, AT BRIDE'S HOME

Mr. Robert Bigelow Houghton of North Andover, formerly principal of the Pollard school of Billerica, and Miss Helen Marion Wilkins, daughter of Mrs. Mary A. Wilkins of Billerica, were united in marriage last evening at the bride's home. Rev. Herbert E. Benton of this city, a cousin of the bride, officiated and was assisted by Rev. J. Harold Dale of Billerica. The bride was handsomely gowned in white tulle with a train and carried a bouquet of white flowers. The bridesmaid wore a dress of blue silk and carried sweet peas. Mr. Richard Houghton, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the vestry of the Congregational church. The ushers were J. Harry Wilkins, Fred Nickless, Wendell Edgell and Everett S. Gull. Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Harold Dale and Miss Edna Maude Robinson. Mr. and Mrs. Houghton left late in the evening on a wedding trip after which they will reside in Billerica.

FIVE MILE RACE

There will be a meeting of the Republican city committee and outgoing committee at republican headquarters tonight to which all members have been notified to be present. Secretary George Emery of the sports committee reports he has received several entries for the five mile race and expects that there will be quite a few more before the entry list is closed. The race is open to amateurs only and all will start from scratch.

The wrestling tournament will be of an exciting character and one of the main features of the afternoon sports. Several men have already been secured and several exciting bouts will be furnished the spectators. The chairman of the parade, Charles Weston of ward three, is hustling to make the parade a success. He is inviting all republicans who have automobiles to be at the Richardson hotel on Saturday, July 10 at 1:30 p. m., so they can take part in the parade and escort the distinguished speakers who are to be present. It is still possible that Senator Henry Cabot Lodge may be here that day. See advertisement on Sporting page.

General Mission Board of Episcopal Church Announces Contributions to Emergency Fund Since April

NEW YORK, July 2.—The general mission board of the Episcopal church announced today that it has received $250,000 in contributions to its emergency fund since April. This is almost enough to meet a deficit of $234,000 which has existed for several years. The board hopes to collect $150,000 to be set aside as a loan fund to cover any future deficit. Only 1700 of the 3400 Episcopal churches in the country share in this special fund plan.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A well attended meeting of Eight lodge, 165, N. E. O. P., was held last evening in Veritas hall, on Branch street with Deputy Grand Warden Estelle J. Evans and Grand Guide Mayhew of Cambridge on official visits. The officers gave considerable information regarding the new rates. On behalf of the lodge, the deputy grand warden presented prizes to George Camp and Mrs. Brooks for perfect attendance at the meetings during the past six months. Following the meeting a social sale was conducted and refreshments were served.

James A. Garfield Relief Corps, 33, met last evening in regular session. Supper was served at 6 o'clock by Mrs. Ada Myrick assisted by Mrs. Belle Luce, Miss Gladys Storm and Miss Helen Smith. The meeting was called to order at 7:30 by the president, Dr. Emma Slaughter. Routine business was transacted. Nineteen members of Burbank Relief Corps, 84, were present from Woburn and one visitor was present from B. F. Butler

Corps, 75. A picnic will be held at the home of Mrs. Ham, July 23. The next meeting of the corps will be held on August 14. Under the good of the order remarks were made by Mrs. Green of Woburn and Mrs. Bowser of Corps 75. There was also a song by Mrs. Ada Myrick. The meeting closed with salute to the flag.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

THE TRADE BALANCE

The preachers of optimism have their innings and the pessimists are wholly discredited. On proof which is absolutely conclusive it is certain that, in a broadly national sense, America is enjoying unusual prosperity. Here and there may be still some slight disorganization or stagnation, but, taking the country as a whole, we are on a sound basis and on the swelling wave of prosperity.

It has been officially stated at Washington that the balance of trade in favor of this country since last December is $1,050,000,000. In seven months this balance has grown over 60 per cent. larger than any trade balance for any year in our history. In other words, we have exported goods to the value of more than a billion dollars in excess of our imports, and instead of owing any nation money, all nations owe, or will soon owe, us money. We are fast becoming a creditor nation, the greatest creditor nation, the only creditor nation. Peace hath its victories, surely, and they are victories that will bring prosperity and happiness to our millions while the rest of the world groans under the burden of taxation and blood money extorted by the present senseless struggle.

In many other ways our coming prosperity is forecasted. It is seen in the desire of all the Americas to come together in a bond of trade and commercial expansion; it is seen in the growing desire for a merchant marine; it is seen in our financial expansion into the world capitals and the fact that New York is supplanting London and Paris as the financial centre of the world; it is shown in the newly-born cooperation between our government and private business for the extension of American trade influence in all foreign markets. It is shown in the starting of new American industries and the new sense of national dependence which is taking the place of dependence on foreign manufacturers or sellers of raw materials. America is applying the war lessons as well as pocketing the war profits.

The close of the war will probably find us clear of debt without owing any money to Europe. May it find Europe owing us a debt of gratitude for our real neutrality, and our national influence in restoring peace to the world!

The Sun has called attention to the fact that the war despatches, which come almost wholly from London or from the English officials in the war zones, do not give sufficient credit to France for the gallant part she is playing in the fight against the Teutonic allies. From the first, the English side of the story has been played up as the most important, and every important success against German arms was attributed to English bravery or the superiority of English equipment. France has received only a meagre and wholly unsatisfactory notice, but those who investigate the war at close range, as well as prominent German propagandists have repeatedly declared that England is not just to France in the war news which is sent to the American newspapers. England has nothing to gain from this, and France should be given the credit that is her due. England has indeed played a brilliant part and suffered serious losses, especially in the early engagements, but in the long grind of trench deadlocks, it is France that has done the lion's share.

William D. Taylor, a prominent citizen of Dorchester, who has been abroad for the past four months getting contracts for war orders, has spoken of this in graphic interviews to the press. He declared that while England has given a large army; France has given her all, and that England is holding back while France is suffering most grievously. In France, he says, the class of 1917, composed of boys 16 years old, is about to be called, while in England the response to recruiting appeals has been so lukewarm as to draw forth the most impassioned appeals and even threats of conscription from government officials. In a bulletin which Mr. Taylor claims to have seen in the English war office, Belgium was said to be holding 17 miles of trenches, England 31, and France 543. These figures speak eloquently of the wonderful part played in the war by the French, and they make one wonder why all or nearly all of the gallant happenings are in the front of the 31 miles held by England, while so little happens in the front of 543 miles held by the French.

At this distance, it looks as though France realizes how vital the war is to her interests, to a far greater extent than does England. In France the danger is at the door, but to the average Englishman it is something remote and impersonal, and he regards it as certain that his country will be victorious in the end. Better that he be not so sure if a little unrest would show him what he might do to safeguard his natural interests. The ultimatum of Lloyd George to the English workers and the appeals of Asquith for national thrift show that there is something decidedly lacking in the attitude of the English masses towards the war. The continuous praise of England and the recital of her brave deeds, as seen in the daily war despatches do not harmonize entirely with realities, but the unrecorded French sacrifices are surely the outcome of the magnificent spirit which has animated France in the struggle against her mighty foe.

SOME AMERICAN TRIALS

It is not soothing to our sense of national pride to have American trials referred to as undesirable in a famous English murder trial, but we cannot deny that the reproach is merited. The incident in question happened during the trial of a man charged with the murder of three women who were his wives, by drowning them in a bath tub. An attorney representing the prisoner in referring to the evidence of two doctors said "such medical evidence opens the door to the worst form of Americanism in the administration of British justice." In another part of his address, the reproach was still more pointed. "Suppose the prisoner had not been a pauper as he is," said the attorney, "but possessed of unlimited means, like many recent American prisoners. He could have procured experts to say that the cause of death was other than the one given by the experts for the crown."

It is not necessary for us to refresh our memories by recalling some famous trials of the past ten years. Just now the Thaw jury trial in New York affords sufficient illustration of the evil mentioned in London. Both Thaw and the state have a corps of medical experts, one group of which is sure that Thaw is insane, and ready to prove it by references to famous authorities and on scientific testimony that the average man cannot understand; the other group is equally certain that Thaw is sane and harmless. Such spectacles do not conduce to respect for American trials or confidence in the medical profession. The number of experts pro and con is generally regulated by the size of the prisoner's bank roll.

This form of what the English attorney called "Americanism" should be done away with, and the sooner the better. If the state should employ the only expert to testify, or even a group of experts, composed of men of undoubted integrity and ability, it would not be necessary for the ends of justice that the respective prisoners should go out to hire illustrious experts who, for a good financial consideration would testify to anything. The English charge is very direct and actually deserved, although it hurts to acknowledge the fact.

A DANGEROUS EXAMPLE

As a protest against capital punishment, Thomas Mott Osborne, the famous warden of Sing Sing, left the prison Wednesday night in order to avoid being present at the electrocution of a prisoner. He made no secret of his intention, declaring that it was the only way he could protest against the law which made the execution necessary. Like many other things done by Mr. Osborne, the incident has been given considerable press notice. By absenting himself from an electrocution, the warden of Sing Sing proves that he has a very sympathetic nature, but it does not prove that he has a clear conception of duty. His protest was against the law of New York state, and it was to uphold the law he took his present position. If at the time he assumed control he could not conscientiously subscribe to the doctrine of capital punishment, it is doubtful if he was justified in becoming warden. The man who would take pleasure in seeing an electrocution is a monster, but it is not for the warden of a state prison to put his own feelings above the law of the state. By absenting himself from the unpleasant occasion, Mr. Osborne may have called attention to the cruelty of capital punishment, but he also called attention to the danger of putting a sentimentalist in charge of a prison.

What would be the result of Mr. Osborne's policy, carried to extreme? The soldier might refuse to obey his officer, the judge might refrain from sending anybody to prison, the policeman might lose sight of the public interest, and the governor might make the abstention of a prison warden from executions unnecessary by granting a pardon or commutation of sentence to all prisoners. It is not for any public official to consult his private feelings when the law of the state is so directly in question.

THE ARMENIAN

The loss of the Armenian is the most important submarine incident since the sinking of the Lusitania, but it looks as though it will precipitate no complications of a serious nature. It, as Ambassador Page has reported, the vessel was "engaged on admiralty business." It was a fair prize of war, and though there will be some question as to whether the crew was sufficiently warned, the Germans seem to have been within their rights in sinking her on the plea of military necessity. It is a matter for regret in this country that so many of the crew were American citizens, but it is as though Americans had deliberately sought service on an English warship. Had the Armenian been a merchant vessel, the effect of her sinking would have been serious, now that the Lusitania matter is pending settlement, but it does not promise any further trouble. In all probability German submarine activity will grow as exports from this country increase, but whether the rules of international law will be observed any better only time can tell.

ANOTHER MURDER

For the sake of the reputation of Lowell, it is to be hoped that the murderer of John Demos will soon be on trial for his deed, and that eventually he will pay the penalty. It was a murder of unusual brutality, and without any palliating features. Many aspects of the case resemble those of the Gingsras murder, the result of which, unfortunately, has not had a deterrent effect. Once again all our citizens—and particularly our citizens of foreign birth—are shown in an awful way, the folly of carrying around large sums of money. Gingsras was apparently murdered for the bank roll he used to carry, and it is said that

Demos had $800 in a belt which is missing. The knowledge of so much ready money must be a great temptation to the weak and the vicious, and the dangers of having such amounts concealed in the house or on the person are obvious. If all our workers put their savings in the regular savings banks we should have fewer murders of the Gingsras and Demos type.

DANGER OF PRECEDENT

The importance of the Frye case as viewed by our state department is reflected in the tedious negotiations and protracted discussions that have followed its loss and is due to something deeper than the superficial facts in the case. It will be recalled that Germany expressed regret for the sinking of this vessel and offered to submit the case to a prize court, but the United States government has insisted that it should be settled by diplomacy, according to treaties with Prussia in 1799 and 1828. Even though the judgment of a prize court should be favorable, America, by submitting to it, would have established a dangerous precedent, virtually admitting that a cash settlement would offset a submarine attack on American ships. By holding out for American treaty rights, which are in accordance with our rights under the usage of international law, this government refuses to sacrifice any American principle. Hence the reason for such detailed and protracted negotiations on both sides. The settlement of the Frye case will be an important fact in history.

SEEN AND HEARD

Abe Martin says "there wuz plenty of pink blossoms this spring for those who cared 't git married." If you are susceptible to poison ivy, here is a very simple remedy suggested by a physician. It is the application of gasoline. This is said to kill the poison, and is at least worth trying by those unfortunate who seem unable to get anything else to help them when they get near the pernicious vine.

EYE FOR BUSINESS

One of the wealthy men of Cleveland, whose education is not as comprehensive as his business instinct, recently visited Washington, and, incidentally, some of the historic towns of interest thereabout.

"Here," said a guide to him one day, "light here in this room, sir, George Washington received his first commission." Whereupon the Clevelander brightened up. "Do you happen to know," he asked, "what per cent commission it was?"—Harper's Magazine.

OUR LABOR LAWS

"I can't say that I am particularly impressed with the law that makes it necessary for my boy to loaf during the time he is out of school," remarked a father this week. "It isn't that I need the money my son will give me, but I believe it would be better for him if he could go to work doing something. He is a husky lad, though only 12 years old, and ought to be turning his hand to something useful for his own good. When I was his age, I started to work, and it never hurt me a particle. I earned a large part of my high school education driving a milk team in the wee small hours of the morning, while going to school days, and while I didn't take all the honors in sight, I think I was all the better for it, physically, for my work. My

There Is Nothing Like a Trip to Yellowstone National Park

I know of no other spot in all the world that is in any way similar to Yellowstone. It offers to the vacation seeker, weary of the sameness in ocean or land travel or the monotony of the seashore or mountains, a distinctive outing unrivaled.

Imagine the fascination of a six day stage tour of this Great National Park, stopping daily at picturesque and well equipped hotels. Think of geysers, throwing out boiling water to great heights, immense waterfalls, deep chasms with marvelously colored sides. Then to make the trip doubly enjoyable, my road—the Burlington Route (C. B. & Q. R. R.) provides a special conductor every week who acts as guide and points out everything of interest and who looks after the comfort of our patrons right from the start at Chicago.

Let me send you a copy of our booklet showing maps, pictures and descriptions of Yellowstone Park, and the beautiful Mississippi Valley that you pass through en route. Let me help you plan your trip and take care of the details—I will gladly do it. Write, call or telephone. Alex. Stocks, New England Pass. Agt., C. B. & Q. R. R., 264 Washington st., Boston. Tel.

MARY GARRIGAN BARRY

Mrs. Mary Garrigan Barry is the daughter of Michael Garrigan, a former resident of this city and a relative of Rt. Rev. Bishop Garrigan. She is a lady of about 33 years of age and is married to Mr. J. A. Barry of 564 Washington street, Boston. She is a gifted poetess, as the following sonnet will indicate:

JUNE

Here comes the Queen all full of lure and fire,
A siren bent on Nature's glad fruition;
With eyes that heavy are with green desire,
And heart maternal, goes she on her mission.
When Mistress June sweeps down the budding lanes,
The tender leaflets burst out broad and strong,
The Summer roses kissed by warm, soft rains,
Are crimson glories. The birds are rife in verdant green from crown to buckle,
The fragrant perfume of the honey-suckle
Is friendly rival to wistaria's charms.
All clad in verdant green from crown to buckle,
She scatters miracles from her small palms.
The Queen arrives, the year is at its noon;
A radiant beauty, but no Saint, is June!

THE MOUNTAIN LAUREL

Mountain laurel, a favorite of many, is found in abundance in Andover. The following from the Boston Herald is of interest:

"The most beautiful plant of the flora of North America is the mountain laurel, named by the great Linnaeus himself in honor of his favorite pupil, Peter Kalm, who discovered it while traveling in America almost two centuries ago. For a few weeks every spring the laurel makes countless hill-sides and forest glades from New Hampshire to Louisiana, indescribably lovely, with its clusters of pink and white blossoms. This is the time to see the New England laurel and to delight in its beauty. When one may take advantage of the opportunity he should see the enormous masses of laurel in northern and central Massachusetts, and in the Arboretum, nestled at the base of Hemlock Hill. The finest show of the year at the Arboretum is that which the laurel presents. Right now, indeed, the Arboretum is pronounced by its director to be at its very best. Many other beautiful things are there, as at their glory there and the great plantations of laurel are in full bloom."

THE LONGEST DAY

When Mrs. Megs rose yesterday while yet the morn was pale
She got her husband's breakfast and she packed his dinner pail.
She saw him off to work and then, according to her rule,
She dressed and fed her children six and packed them off to school.
She filled the tubs, put clothes to soak, and then, no time to waste,
She washed the dishes, swept the floor and all with frenzied haste.

She soaped, she rubbed, she boiled, she rinsed, while scraps of song were sung.
She used her fists for wringers and she wrung and wrung.
She drew her line from pole to pole and fenced her north and south.
And chatted with her neighbors with a clothespin in her mouth.

She hung the clothes upon the line and grumbled at the job she'd done.
"Them clothes they won't be dried but they'll be dried and smoked!"
And then the kids came home from school all anxious to be fed.
She threw a meal together—rice and sugar, jam and bread.

Throughout the sultry afternoon she stood close to the stove
And fried things she had fried and sang.
"In crasy fields I rove,"
And then she hurried to the store and got the things she'd need.

To build a meal of six, enough a hungry crowd to feed.
She set the table, cooked the grub, and saw them eat their fill.
And then to wash the dishes set to work with iron will.

"Say, mom," said little Mamie Megs, "I failed in the teacher say."

In all the year the twenty-first of June's the longest day."

"That's so," said Mamie's mamma, and grinned a little bit.

"Well, maybe so, an' maybe not. I hadn't noticed it."

"I estimate that 200,000 employed by Chicago mills and probably an additional 300,000 in Wisconsin, Ohio and Indiana plants, which furnished supplies to Chicago builders, will be out of employment by next Tuesday," said James Fryer, president of the Builders' Commercial Agency and a member of the press committee of the organization of manufacturers. "I estimate the loss at $3 per man each day, or $1,500,000 in all and the loss will run indefinitely. The question of arbitration must be settled now for all time. Although the tieup is effective today and all but one material manufacturer has agreed to it, it will probably be a week before deliveries cease absolutely."

MILLS WILL SHUT DOWN

BARNABY MILLS OF FALL RIVER

CLOSE TOMORROW FOR INDEFINITE PERIOD

FALL RIVER, July 2.—The directors of the Barnaby mills, manufacturing gingham fabrics, have decided to suspend operations indefinitely, it was announced today. The mills will be shut down tomorrow. About 1000 employees will be affected.
According to the directors the plant has been curtailing production recently and there has been no market for the accumulated finished goods on hand. The over-head expenses have increased and it was considered advisable to close rather than to operate under existing conditions.

PIRIEST ASKS PROTECTION

Fr. Dellaporta of Springfield attacked because of his advice to Italian Reservists to stay here.

SPRINGFIELD, July 2.—Rev. Anthony Dellaporta, pastor of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel church on William street, has asked for police protection as he fears violence as a result of his advice to Italian reservists to remain in this country.

The pastor says his motive was to discourage men with families from leaving them in this country without visible means of support in many instances.

Fr. Dellaporta told the police that Wednesday he received a call to visit a Water street woman. As he approached the house a strange Italian jumped out and attacked him, but the pastor was able to defend himself. A second Italian then appeared and stabbed and bruised the priest before friends rushed to his aid.

Fred C. Church carried the insurance on the dwelling of Mrs. Parker, 57 Belmont avenue, struck by lightning yesterday.

BOARD OF TRADE

Arranged for the Annual Outing at Canobie Lake Park

The annual outing of the board of trade will be held on Thursday afternoon, July 29, at Canobie Lake park. Three special electric cars have been scheduled for the occasion and the party will leave Merrimack square at 12:15 o'clock.

President Robert F. Marden stated this morning a prominent out-of-town man will be secured for the occasion and a man well posted in municipal affairs will give an interesting informal talk on municipalities. Dinner will be served at the pavilion and the latter part of the afternoon will be devoted to outdoor sports.

Secretary John H. Murphy will get busy on posting up road signs for the benefit of automobilists tomorrow. These signs, about 24 in number, are made of wood, nicely ornamented, and they will serve in directing tourists through the best roads of Lowell.

The signs will be hung on the poles of the Bay State Street Railway Co. and those of the Lowell Electric Light Corp.

The signs will show the best route out of Lowell to the various surrounding cities, while other signs of the steel type, pointing to Lowell will be placed along the roads.

EXPEDITION TO ARCTIC

DR. HOVEY TO JOIN RELIEF EXPEDITION IN QUEST OF MACMILLAN AND PARTY

NEW YORK, July 2.—Dr. Edmund O. Hovey, chairman of the Crocker Land exploration committee, was today on his way to North Sydney, N. S., to join the relief expedition to the Arctic in quest of Donald B. MacMillan and the members of his party who went north to find Crocker Land.

Dr. Hovey intended to stop at Eagle Island, South Harpwell, Me., for a conference with Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary and will then proceed to Sydney to go on board the schooner George B. Cluett. With the members of the relief expedition on board, the Cluett is to sail from that port not later than July 10 for Etah, Greenland. The Cluett will carry supplies for MacMillan's use if he desires to rejoin the expedition for the year in the Arctic regions and will bring back to New York such members of the party as desire to return. Collections gathered in Greenland for the American Museum of Natural History also will be brought south by the relief vessel.

SPAIN EXPERIENCING DIFFICULTY IN MAINTAINING NEUTRALITY

MADRID, via Paris, July 2, 6:40 a. m.—Spain is experiencing difficulty in maintaining neutrality and in a further effort to preserve its official order has been given to discuss the question in public.

The deputies of the left, or opposition, informed Premier Dato that they purposed a speech-making campaign directed against the cabinet, because of the suppression of public meetings. The premier replied that he would accept no such conditions, as neutrality was mentioned, and discussion of that question would serve only to give public expression of sympathy for one side or the other in the war.

PRES. WILSON IN STUDY

SPENT FORENOON WORKING ON STATE DEPARTMENT MATTERS AND OTHER BUSINESS

CORNISH, N. H., July 2.—President Wilson spent the most of this forenoon in his study at Cornish, studying working on state department matters and other official business sent here from Washington.

The president read carefully reports from the state department on the Argentine incident, studied communications concerning Mexico and examined a report from Secretary Lansing on data laid before the state department by a committee of importers protesting against alleged British interference with trade between the United States and other neutral countries. This information will be considered carefully in the preparation of the final draft of the note soon to be sent to Great Britain.

Later Mr. Wilson and Dr. Cary Grayson braved the rain and walked through the woods surrounding the president's summer estate. An automobile trip was to be taken in the afternoon if the condition of the roads would permit. It was said at Harlowenden house today that the president expects to remain here another week unless business intervenes.

TRAINING SCHOOL CADETS

The Massachusetts Training School cadets will leave tomorrow evening for West Point, where they will spend eight days doing field work and receiving instructions from regular army officers. The Lowell men who form a part of the Cadets are as follows: Sergt. Arthur M. Company, Mr. Henry H. Weir, Company C, Corp. John L. Sullivan, Company C, and Lieut. Thomas W. Doyle, Company G. The cadets, who will number about 130, will leave Boston by special train and will return in a week. This is an annual drill, commonly called the miniature West Point.

officials have ordered that a strict watch be kept.

Just how Gen. Funston is to take care of Huerta was not made clear today, but it is assumed that American troops not only will be instructed to watch the border carefully, but if necessary place a guard around Huerta's home and otherwise keep him under surveillance.

Request for Extradition
It has not been definitely determined what action will be taken on the request for extradition made by the Villa governor for Chihuahua. Secretary Lansing pointed out today that discretionary power was vested with the governor of Texas and that under the Mexican American treaty of 1893, the governor of contiguous border states in the United States and Mexico can arrange directly for the requisition of fugitives from justice. He explained that the treaty providing also for the granting of requisitions asked by the "military authorities" when the civil authority was suspended and he believed that would cover the present case where no civil government was functioning in northern Mexico.

Under the same treaty, if the federal government did not press its charges against Huerta for violation of neutrality statutes, Huerta would be re-arrested and held for forty days pending the arrival of evidence. Precedents established by the department of justice do not provide for bail in such cases. The impression was obtained in high official circles that this course was likely to be followed and if the charges made by the Villa authorities were not sustained the department of labor would deport him to Spain.

RELIEF EXPEDITION NOW WITHIN CARRANZA LINES

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The American Red Cross relief expedition for Mexico City has safely passed Pachuca within the Carranza lines and has gone on toward Mexico City. Whether it has continued on through the Zapata defenses and into the capital does not appear in today's reports from Consul Silliman.

A special train of twelve railcars of iron, which left Vera Cruz, yesterday for Pachuca, destined to Mexico City was accompanied by armed guards furnished by Carranza. The latter expedition is thought here to be the one Carranza expects to take into the capital if his troops enter. The state department's announcement today said:

State Dept. Announcement
The train was provided with an armed escort and was accompanied by W. P. Gavin, an American citizen. Mr. Silliman stated that the secretary of war and the railroad officials at Vera Cruz gave special attention to the loading and transportation of this shipment, giving a preference over their own needs.

Consul Silliman also advises that Consul-General Shanklin and C. J. O'Connor, representatives of the American Red Cross, went into Mexico City on June 30 from Pachuca, taking with them light freight but leaving heavier articles behind.

There was no direct word today from Mexico City. The text of reports of chaos and rioting that mentioned foreigners, will not be made public until after President Wilson has had an opportunity to thoroughly review them. All the important information coming to the state department regarding Mexico is being forwarded promptly to the president at Cornish.

It was said at the state department that while plans for sending supplies to Mexico City through neutral agencies were under consideration, they had not assumed "very definite form." Efforts to induce Carranza to permit sending supplies to the capital from Vera Cruz are to be made, it is declared.

Taking Hospital Supplies

A telegram reaching the state department today and forwarded to the Red Cross here, said:
"Just informed that Consul-General Shanklin, Joseph W. Rowe, his secretary, C. J. O'Connor of the Red Cross, and C. B. Wood, secretary, left Gen. Gonzalez's headquarters this (Thursday) afternoon for Mexico City."

Hospitals in Mexico City are virtually without surgical supplies and the Red Cross delegation is taking in bandages, chloroform and drugs, in advance of the supplies of food which are being held up until there is some assurance of transportation into the capital.

IMPORTANT VICTORY FOR THE CARRANZA FORCES

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 2.—Carranza forces in capturing San Felipe, south of San Luis Potosi achieved an important victory, with disastrous results to the Villa troops according to a cablegram from Vera Cruz published here today by T. R. Beltran, Carranza consul. The message says that the large number of prisoners taken included Col. Ignacio Ochoa and Fernando Diaz Lombardo, nephew of Miguel Diaz Lombardo, foreign minister in the cabinet of Gen. Villa.

Gen. Obregon, according to the message, is at Encarnacion, near Aguas Calientes where he is recovering from his recent illness caused by the loss of his arm.

GEN. VILLA ASKS FOR EXTRADITION OF HUERTA

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Formal request for the extradition of General Victoriano Huerta on various criminal charges has been presented to Governor Ferguson of Texas by the Villa governor of Chihuahua state.

This latest completion in the status of the former Mexican dictator now facing prosecution at El Paso for alleged violation of American neutrality laws was brought to the attention of the federal government yesterday by Governor Ferguson, who forwarded the Villa governor's request to the state department. Secretary Lansing referred the matter to Solicitor Johnson for consideration.

So long as Huerta is wanted by the department of justice, charges preferred by federal agents will take precedence, and until they are disposed of, it is not expected that the extradition question will be decided.

Both the Villa and Carranza factions charge that Huerta was implicated in the murder of President Madero and Vice President Suarez.

DECISION ON EXTRADITION OF HUERTA UP TO STATE DEPT.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Decision on the question of the extradition of Gen. Victoriano Huerta on various charges rested today with the state department. "Formal request for the extradition of Huerta was before officials of the department today, having been submitted by Gov. Ferguson of Texas, at the request of the Villa governor of Chihuahua state."

Gen. Huerta is charged by the Villa and Carranza factions with implications in the murder of President Madero and Vice President Suarez, following the overthrow of the Madero administration and Huerta's assumption to power.

No decision on the extradition matter is looked for pending the disposition of charges preferred by agents of the federal government against Huerta of alleged violation of American neutrality.

CHASED BY SUBMARINE MILITARY CAMPS O. M. I. CADETS

Leyland Liner Iberian Narrowly Escaped Destruction, Send Out S. O. S. Calls

BOSTON, July 2.—A story of escape from a German submarine was told by members of the crew of the Leyland liner steamship Iberian, in today from Manchester and Liverpool. Capt. Jago would not deny or affirm their story. According to the sailors the liner was only a few miles from the River Mersey when the conning tower of the German was seen a few miles away. Almost immediately the submarine submerged and Capt. Jago instead of continuing on his course swung the steamer off so that she was running in the same direction as the submarine. Meanwhile, a wireless warning was sent broadcast by the operator on the Iberian and it was picked up by half a dozen big liners that were heading for Liverpool.

After the Iberian had run for some distance Capt. Jago headed her again to the westward. Just at that time the Warren liner Sachem, Capt. Lowe, which sailed from here June 3 for Liverpool, was sighted, and Capt. Jago gave her captain minute particulars regarding the German. Within 10 minutes a wireless distress call was picked up from the Sachem. The S. O. S. signal was repeated several times and it was followed by a message that the submarine was chasing her. Later word from her said that the wireless warning sent out by the Iberian's operator was picked up by three torpedo boat destroyers in the British navy and they had come to the scene at top speed. The submarine re-appearing sighted the destroyers and withdrew.

ASST. SEC. ROOSEVELT BETTER WASHINGTON, July 2.—The condition of Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, operated on for appendicitis yesterday, continued favorable today.

Several Companies Will Pitch Tents Near Lowell Tomorrow

Despite the bad condition of the ground, the members of the Eighth and Sixth regiments, M. V. 34, will camp for a couple of days, the former at the end of the car line in Andover street and the other at Tewksbury in the rear of the state infirmary. On account of the bad weather which has prevailed in Lowell and vicinity for the past two days, and which shows no signs of clearing, it was believed the regiments would change their program and the camping would be done away with, but an official at the state infirmary informed a reporter of The Sun this morning that it would be impossible to cancel the camping arrangements, for all arrangements have been made. The members of the Eighth regiment are now doing their annual field duty. They went to camp a week ago at Lynnfield and are coming toward Lowell. The regiment consists of about 300 men, including the machine gun company, and brings along the only more car in the state. The men left Lynnfield early this morning and struck Georgetown at noon. They will camp there over night and tomorrow they will come to Andover. After spending the night in the latter place, they will hike to Lowell, arriving here some time Sunday afternoon. They will set camp at the end of the street car line on Andover street.

The Sixth regiment will open camp tomorrow afternoon in the rear of the state infirmary in Tewksbury. The local companies, C, G and K, will leave the armory by special electric cars tomorrow afternoon at 4.15 o'clock. Out-of-town companies will come by special trains and all will be in command of Col. Warren E. Sweetser. Capt. Walter R. Jeyes of Company G, who is just recuperating from a serious illness, has been detailed to act as provost marshal and will direct his work from the armory. The annual encampment of the Sixth regiment will take place on Aug. 3 at West Barnstable. Company G at camp Saturday and Sunday will be in charge of Lieut. Schuyler R. Waller, who will also command in the parade. Lieut. Colby T. Kittredge, chief marshal of the parade, and Harry Pitts, marshal of the fifth division, have arranged to give the officers of the Sixth and Eighth regiments an automobile ride Sunday forenoon. About 100 officers will be taken care of and 20 automobiles will be pressed into service. The party will be taken through the various districts of Lowell and then they will be given a ride through both camps of the state militia.

AGAINST AERIAL RAIDS

LARGE HOUSES IN LONDON BUILD FRAME OF STEEL NETTING OVER ROOFS FOR PROTECTION

LONDON, July 2.—Through a case in court where a prominent engineering firm was charged with violating the building laws, it became known yesterday that many large financial houses of the city are taking elaborate precautions to protect their buildings against air raids. The firm on trial had failed to obtain a license for the erection of a framework of steel netting, weighing 7½ tons, had been erected. A building inspector in his testimony said that many similar cases had been reported. The court imposed a nominal fine amounting to about $125.

MATRIMONIAL

Donald R. Smith and Miss Annie F. McDougall were married yesterday at the First Baptist church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. A. C. Archibald, pastor. The bride wore white crepe meteor with imported veils and pearl trimmings and carried bridal roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Mary A. McDougall, who wore blue crepe de chine with shadow lace and silver trimmings, and carried sweet peas. The best man was Harold J. Smith. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold bracelet. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, which had been handsomely decorated with red, white and blue bunting. The interior of the home was artistically arranged with potted plants and cut flowers. The happy couple left on an extended trip to Boston, Quincy and other places. They will be at home to their friends at 97 Moore street after August 1.

TAYLOR-TUCKER

Ansl Taylor and Miss Lena Tucker were married Wednesday evening, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride in West Chelmsford by L. Greene, pastor of the Unitarian church of Chelmsford. The couple were unattended. The happy couple will make their home at the Martin Bros. farm in West Chelmsford, which they have leased for three years.

ROARKE-MAGUIRE

A pretty marriage took place Wednesday when Bernard H. Roarke of 16 Floyd street, and Miss Mary T. Maguire, of 301 Concord street, were united in the bonds of matrimony at the ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. John F. Tighe, O. M. I. The bride wore a veil with wrenth of lilies of the valley and she carried a bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by a sister, Miss Sadie Maguire, who wore embroidered Swiss and carried pink roses. The best man was Patrick Maguire, brother of the bride. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, followed by a wedding supper. Mr. and Mrs. Roarke, who received numerous gifts left on a honeymoon trip to New York and Montreal, Que. They will be at home to their friends at 16 Floyd street after July 30.

GIRL INJURED AT CARPET

Margaret Boyle, of 53 Walker street, employed in the plant of the Bigelow-Hartford Co., sustained an injury to her ankle while at work early this afternoon. She was removed in the ambulance to the Lowell Corporation hospital, where the injury was treated.

MAINE NAVAL MILITIA

PORTLAND, Me., July 2.—The Maine naval militia will begin their annual cruise this year on the battleship USS Oregon, leaving this port on Aug. 14, for Chesapeake bay, where they will engage in target practice, according to word received today by Lieutenant-Commander Reuben K. Dyer.

REV. DR. WIGHTMAN DEAD

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Rev. Dr. James W. Wightman, a prominent Presbyterian educator, died here yesterday, aged 75 years. Dr. Wightman was the first president of Wilson college, Chambersburg, Pa., and later president of Ogden college, Bowling Green, Ky. He was born in Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania.

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

The Electrical Workers union will meet tonight in the union rooms in the Fiske building.

Tonight Organizer McMahon leaves for Fall River and tomorrow he will visit textile organizations in Andover and East Wareham.

Local 26, Cotton Weavers union, will hold a meeting in Trades & Labor hall tomorrow afternoon to transact important business.

Arrangements are under way for an open meeting for Polish Textile Workers, and an endeavor will be made to bring a Polish speaker to this city on that date.

The Ring Spinner Tickers have reported progress on plans for the open meeting to be held next Wednesday night. A communication from Organizer Frank McCarthy has been received in which he promises to be on hand to address the meeting on that date.

Organizer Thomas F. McMahon of the United Textile Workers union arrived in this city last night after attending several meetings of textile organizations in Lewiston, Me., and Ipswich, Mass.

In a few weeks several old labor men will go out of office in their respective organizations and their places will be taken by young blood. Here's hoping the new leaders prove as wise and progressive as the old officers.

James Burns of the A. G. Pollard Co. says everything is in readiness for the big parade on Monday and that the Princeton club has a member all prepared to make a speech of acceptance for the first prize in the slambang division, which he says will surely go to the Centralville organization.

Morton Walker, chairman of the outing to be held by the clerks employed by the J. L. Chaffoux Co., says the coming affair will prove an unprecedented success. Mr. Walker is being helped out in every way possible by all of the clerks, and Mr. Harry Chaffoux is also active in the preparations for the affair.

Although the labor men will not participate in the parade on Monday on account of their celebration coming in a few months, they are heart and soul with the officials in charge of the parade and most of them, particularly the members of the Trades & Labor council, are doing everything possible to encourage organizations to enter to make the parade a great success.

Railway Carmen
The Brotherhood of Railway Carmen held a brief session in the union quarters in Odd Fellows building last night, but only business of minor importance was transacted.

Painters' Union
The Painters' union held its regular weekly meeting in Carpenters' hall, Runels building, last night with President George Elfield in the chair. A number of committee reports were read and accepted and a list of routine business was transacted.

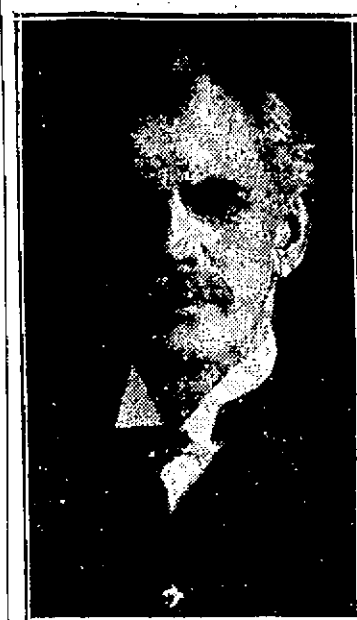

Local 310, Machinists
The downpour of rain did not dampen the ardor of the members of the Machinists' union employed at the Boston & Maine repair shop any, and there was a large attendance at the meeting of their organization in Odd Fellows building, Middle street, last night. Considerable business of importance was transacted, two new members were admitted and several applications for membership were received. A number of reports were read and referred to the proper committees and the secretary-treasurer reported the union to be in excellent financial condition.

Trades & Labor Council
The Trades & Labor council held its regular bi-monthly meeting in the union quarters in Middle street last night with President Frank Warnock in the chair. A number of credentials from delegates to the organization recently chosen were received, and the matter of a celebration on Labor day was discussed and laid over until the next meeting on July 15.

At that time a number of committees will be appointed to make arrangements for the celebration. The grievance committee submitted its report on a number of matters on hand and a lengthy report denoting progress by the labor forward committee was read.

A number of communications relative to organization were received from the American Federation of Labor, and considerable business of a routine nature was transacted.

Lowell Commercial College Sends Out Class of 80 Graduates—New Man on Teaching Staff

The school year of the Lowell Commercial college was brought to a pleasant closing last evening in the hall of the school in the Grosvenor block when the 50th annual graduation class was given a banquet by LEOBIT E. Kimball, president of the school, preceding the presentation of diplomas. It was by far the most pretentious graduation in the history of the school.

Robert F. Martin, president of the Lowell board of trade, was the speaker of the occasion and gave a short, comprehensive talk to the graduates on the sort of life which they are about to enter upon. His remarks were eagerly absorbed by the young men and women and his advice was heartily applauded.

Mr. Kimball, president of the school, acted as toastmaster during the evening and proved a very witty speaker. F. A. Spence, former teacher in the institution, spoke to the graduates along the lines of thoroughness. Mr. Spence stated that he would not be with the school another year but that he would always remember and appreciate the pleasant associations which he experienced while a teacher there.

Earle R. Kimball, the school's new treasurer, was called upon for a short talk and responded with an outline of next year's curriculum. Mr. Kimball stated that he would be an active member of the school's teaching staff next year.

The new treasurer is a Lowell man, having prepared for Harvard in the local public schools. After graduating from Harvard Mr. Kimball entered the Banks Business college of Philadelphia where he specialized in the various model-office branches taught in the Lowell Commercial college. Mr. Kimball stated emphatically that he had found no better preparatory school for business in any of the larger cities.

Mr. Kimball said that next year several innovations would be made in his department which will be sure to lift the school far ahead of its competitors. Mayor Murphy presented the diploma after giving the class an earnest talk on the business life which faces them.

Will the Fourth of July campers have lifeboats?

F. Donohoe, Donovan bldg., real estate and insurance. Telephone.

This week is "Quarter Week" at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

Yesterday's rain not only gave all a good ducking, but it also broke all previous records.

They'll soon be changing the name of Merrimack Square to Society Square.

There's some class to the Fourth of July decorations on the bank buildings of the city.

The slambang, if like the old timers, will be the grand feature of the parade. All up for the slambang.

The man who said "Rain before 7, clear 11" should pass the dice to the next player, as he loses.

"Joe" Murphy the well known printer is home from Milford, N. H., where he is employed, for the Fourth.

Get ready to receive a letter from your country cousin this week. It might mean a bid for a Fourth of July visit.

A meeting of the municipal council discussing the bridge question or the cost of sewers would make a good feature for the slambang division of the parade.

Fifty years ago our fathers and grandfathers were just returning from the Civil war after smelling powder for five years.

Quite a number of henneries have been flooded since the rain started and the ducks that could not swim have been drowned.

The small boy is out on the war-path willing to do any kind of errands or work, from picking cherries to selling junk to get money for the Fourth.

The other day two men stole an auto in this city and abandoned it when they got to Nashua. Not because it was a Ford, but because the police were after them.

Jimmie Gallagher is the biggest man in town in the estimation of Young America and will be until after the Fourth. It's a case of let 'er go Gallagher.

Charlie Young, the decorator, has more than a hundred orders for decorating stores on the main streets. He's the busiest man in town, he won't be able to sleep or rest until the Fourth.

Peter Mealey, the decorator, is doing stunts in the city this week that make one hold his breath with fear. He's selling junk to get money for the Fourth.

When the governor comes to our city on the Fourth to deliver his oration on the North common we hope that he'll wear a pair of green glasses so that he'll imagine that the grass is green on the common.

Supt. Welch asks that Lowell residents witness the parade by wireless. The chief wants them to see it in the outlying parts of the route of parade, leaving the downtown section to the out-of-town visitors. The downtown section will be wired off, while the outlying district will not be.

When out looking at the parade don't, on your life, go without leaving at least one person on guard at your home as an uninvited friend, otherwise known as the sneak-thief, will be in town for that occasion.

Chop suey will be the favorite dish for Fourth of July.

Another word of warning. Don't forget to secure a seat from which to view that parade on Monday. Major Kittredge estimates that the parade will take about two hours and a half. Just add another hour to that for unforeseen happenings and the fact that it is not exclusively a military affair and you'll come within an hour of the actual time that the parade will take.

E. Garfield Baker who knows something about building bridges over running water and James P. Dunnigan who has had experience with drinking water systems as a member of the New Bedford water commission found themselves up against a new kind of water problem yesterday when they were among the passengers on a North Chelmsford car numbered 134.

Which leaked badly, to the discomfort of said passengers. The car is what is known as a "closed" car, but the chief came through the roof upon the unoffending heads of the passengers.

An old time friend blew into town this morning in the genial person of W. D. Coxe, advance agent for Ranch 101, which is to appear here with Champion Jess Willard as a feature on July 16th. Mr. Coxe is one of the oldest advance men left in the business.

His contemporaries being Dexter K. Fellows, who is still with Barnum & Bailey, and Major Burke, who for years was ahead of the Buffalo Bill show, and who today, loyal to his old friend to the last, is with Col. Cody in a minor attraction now playing in the west.

Mr. Coxe signed a contract with The Sun some 20 years ago for the first appearance of Ringling Bros. show in Lowell, and he has come here every few years ever since. It has a wonderful memory for faces and names, and greeted his old friends of The Sun office by name as though he were a frequent visitor here. He reports that Ranch 101 is drawing a fine business, due in great measure to the presence of Jess Willard. Mr. Coxe is often mistaken for a minister but although he could preach in an emergency, he says the show business pays better.

MILK PROBLEM

Chamber of Commerce Committee About Ready to Report

BOSTON, July 2.—Co-operation among producers, distributors and consumers, as well as recommendations that the dairying industry in the New England states be standardized so that the maximum point of efficiency in production might be reached, will be the salient points in a report to be issued by the Boston chamber of commerce committee on agriculture. This report, according to Sec. Harry F. Orcutt, will be made public in the next two weeks, and will contain the results arrived at by the committee's recent extensive inquiry into the milk problem in New England.

The committee, of which Theodore N. Vall is chairman, began its inquiry into the milk situation last year. Three phases of the question were considered: The product, its distribution, and transportation of milk.

The report will explain the inquiries into the problems confronting the producers were made through hearings conducted in all the principal cities of New England. A mass of testimony was secured, and according to members of the committee who officiated at the various hearings, the chief problem to solve in the production and its proper standardization. All this will be set forth in the document now being prepared.

The committee found that lack of standardization resulted in varying costs in many of the same capacity, and prices obtained by the producers varied. The brunt of this as disclosed by further hearings was to shift more or less of the additional cost on the shoulders of the consumers.

Cost of Distribution Heavy
The next question taken up was the distribution of milk. On this subject a number of hearings were held in this city and a large number of dealers, wholesale and retail, appeared and gave testimony.

Conclusions arrived at by the committee and embodied in the report show that much of the expense of the milk when it reaches the consumer is due to the cost of distribution. In this connection Wilfrid Wheeler, secretary of the state board of agriculture, in an interview, declared that milk could be obtained by the consumer much more cheaply if a system were devised where the delivering of milk by more than one milkman on one route was eliminated. He suggested in the course of the interview and to the chamber committee the advisability of considering some method whereby one milkman would carry the different brands of milk wanted by the customers on his route, and in this way reduce the distribution cost to a minimum.

The transportation problem was attacked by the committee at a gathering of the railroad officials and milk producers recently held in the South station. The question of milk shipments from distant and nearby points proportional charges, carload and proportional loads, were taken up at length.

Proposes Co-operation
Complaint was made to the committee by the producers that a matter of proportional rates, the nearby shippers had the advantage of those from more distant points. The point raised was that the distant point shippers had additional charges imposed after the shipment arrived at the freight terminals and that refrigeration of the long haul shipments was also a charge which made competition with the nearby shippers more or less difficult.

The transportation problem was the hardest of the three for the committee to solve. The railroad officials maintained that their rates are governed by the rulings of the Interstate commerce and that they are powerless to make rate discriminations, such discriminations it being pointed out if made, would be in violation of the Interstate Commerce act.

On this phase of the milk problem the committee in its report recommends co-operation between the producers in New England. The report, according to Sec. Orcutt, has not yet been submitted to chamber's executive committee for its approval.

SOUTH END SLAMBANGS

A very important meeting of the South End boys was held in the rooms of the South End club in Gotham st. last night at which a number of matters relative to the parade on Monday were discussed. Later in the evening about 200 members were measured for costumes by Mr. Hooker of Livermore. Speeches were also made by officials in charge of the parade and it was announced that 30 more young men are needed to swell the ranks of the Gotham street parade. The following committee was appointed to raise funds: John J. Donnelly, Henry Gilbride, William Gargan, James O'Dea and Walter Lyons. All young men of the city desirous of entering the slambang parade should see a member of this committee as soon as possible. John Gilbride, marshal of the slambang division, will participate in the parade with the Gotham street organization.
